unmonitored changes in the individual system take center stage and are discussed in the light of social network analysis. Traditional empirical social network analysis is carefully revised. Despite its many merits in present day sociolinguistics it often needs to be supplemented by hermeneutic biographical analyses of the individual speakers' lives when applied to historical data. With this background common theories and models of language change such as grammaticalization, paradigmatic pressure, typological alignment and generational shifts are illustrated and evaluated from the point of view of single speakers and social groups and their particular embedding in the speech community through various network structures. The book is of interest to advanced students and researchers in English and general linguistics, Middle English, historical linguistics and language change, corpus linguistics as well as sociolinguistics.

Dialect Change Peter Auer, Frans Hinskens, Paul Kerswill, 2005-06-17. Dialects are constantly changing and due to increased mobility in more recent years European dialects have levelled making it difficult to distinguish a native of Reading from a native of London or a native of Bonn from a native of Cologne. This comprehensive study brings together a team of leading scholars to explore all aspects of recent dialect change in particular dialect convergence and divergence. Drawing on examples from a wide range of European countries as well as areas where European languages have been transplanted they examine a range of issues relating to dialect contact and isolation and show how sociolinguistic conditions differ hugely between and within European countries. Each specially commissioned chapter is based on original research giving an overview of work on that particular area and presenting case studies to illustrate the issues discussed. Dialect Change will be welcomed by all those interested in sociolinguistics, dialectology, the relevance of language variation to formal linguistic theories and European languages.

Power John Scott, 1994. Official Gazette of the United States Patent Office, 1898. Growing Older In Europe Walker, Alan, 2004-12-01. This book provides a European dimension examining and comparing the quality of life as experienced by older people in Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Sweden and the UK. Detailed case studies by well known European authors consider key quality of life indicators such as income, housing, employment, physical and mental health and family and social support. Examples of good practice are provided from each region and recommendations are made for future priorities. A comparative introduction by the editor draws out key similarities and differences between the countries studied and sets the context for the case studies. This book is aimed at advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students of social policy, social gerontology and sociology. It will also be of interest to academics and policy makers.
