Loss Of A Life Partner Narratives Of The Bereaved:

The Loss of a Life Partner Carolyn Ambler Walter, 2003-03-05 Although there is extensive research on the loss of a spouse predominantly focusing on the experiences of widows much less attention is paid to bereaved partners not married to their significant other whether or not the partners are of the same sex This first of its kind work explores both socially sanctioned and disenfranchised grief highlighting similarities and differences Combining a discussion of various theories of grief with personal narratives of grieving men and women drawn from numerous interviews and detailed case study analysis Carolyn Ambler Walter has produced a penetrating examination of the bereavement experiences of partners in varying types of relationships She views narratives of widows widowers and bereaved domestic gay and lesbian partners from a postmodern perspective that breaks away from the traditional belief that the living must detach themselves from the dead in order to move on with their lives Instead building on the works of postmodern grief theorists such as Klass Silverman and Nickman Walter views ongoing bonds with the dead as a resource for enriching functionality in the present and as a key to looking to the future

The Loss of a Life Partner Carolyn Ambler Walter, 2003 Through discussions of various theories of grief narratives of the bereaved obtained in interviews with 22 men and women case study analysis and chapter summaries this text integrates the literature about and the bereavement experiences of partners in varying types of relationships

Grief and Loss Across the Lifespan Carolyn Ambler Walter, Judith L. M. Living Through Loss Nancy R. Hooyman, Betty J. Kramer, Sara Sanders, 2021-08-31

Living Through Loss provides a foundational identification of the many ways in which people experience loss over the life course from childhood to old age It examines the interventions most effective at each phase of life combining theory sound clinical practice and empirical research with insights emerging from powerful accounts of personal experience The authors emphasize that loss and grief are universal yet highly individualized Loss comes in many forms and can include not only a loved one s death but also divorce adoption living with chronic illness caregiving retirement and relocation or being abused assaulted or otherwise traumatized They approach the topic from the perspective of the resilience model which acknowledges people s capacity to find meaning in their losses and integrate grief into their lives The book explores the varying roles of age race culture sexual orientation gender and spirituality in responses to loss Presenting a variety of models approaches and resources Living Through Loss offers invaluable lessons that can be applied in any practice setting by a wide range of human service and health care professionals This second edition features new and expanded content on diversity and trauma including discussions of gun violence police brutality suicide and an added focus on systemic racism

Family Ties and Aging Ingrid Arnet Connidis, 2010 This advanced textbook covers issues of family ties and aging broadly the goal being to provide an integrated and thorough representation of what we know from the current research Whereas books on families and aging have traditionally focused on ties to a spouse and to children and grandchildren Family Ties Aging is more extensive and more reflective of contemporary society The text includes groups and relationships that typically receive short shrift exploring such neglected populations as single divorced and childless older people and their family relationships as well as sibling relationships among the elderly live in partnerships not formalized by marriage and the kinds of family ties forged by gay and lesbian persons over the life course The book weaves the vast range of information we now have about the many facets of family relationships and aging into a critical comprehensive and integrated whole

Counting Our Losses Darcy L. Harris, 2011-01-19 This text is a valuable resource for clinicians who work with clients dealing with non death nonfinite and ambiguous losses in their lives It explores adjustment to change transition and loss from the perspective of the latest thinking in bereavement theory and research The specific and unique aspects of different types of loss are discussed such as infertility aging chronic illnesses and degenerative conditions divorce and separation immigration adoption loss of beliefs and loss of employment Harris and the contributing authors consider these from an experiential perspective rather than a developmental one in order to focus on the key elements of each loss as it may be experienced at any point in the lifespan Concepts related to adaptation and coping with loss such as resilience hardiness meaning making and the assumptive world transcendence and post traumatic growth are considered as part of the integration of loss into everyday life experience

Handbook of the Sociology of Emotions Jan Stets, Jonathan H. Turner, 2007-02-25 For almost thirty years sociologists have increasingly theorized about and conducted research on human emotions Surprisingly it was not until the 1970s that the sociology of emotions emerged as a coherent field of inquiry What makes this late date surprising is that it is now obvious that human behavior interaction and organization are driven by emotions It was an immense oversight for emotions to be de emphasized in sociological theorizing and research for most of its 175 year history Since the 1970s however the study of emotions has accelerated and is now at the forefront of sociological analysis This book is designed to bring the reader up to date on the theory and research traditions that have proliferated in the analysis of human emotions Key figures who have carried the sociology of emotions to its current level of prominence review their own work and the work of others who have made contributions to a particular approach to the study of emotions The outcome is a comprehensive book that serves as a primer on the cutting edge of sociological work in what is obviously a key dynamic in human affairs The first section of the book addresses the range of emotions and how they can be classified the neurological underpinnings of emotions and the effect of gender on emotions The second section reviews the prominent sociological theories of emotions including theories emphasizing power and status rituals identity and self psychoanalytic dynamics exchange expectation states and evolution While there is little integration among these theories this state of affairs will not last forever The third section addresses theory and research on specific emotions such as love jealousy and envy empathy sympathy anger grief and the moral emotions While this list does not exhaust the range of human feeling they are central emotions that drive human behavior interaction and social organization The last section explores how the study of emotions has added new insight into other subfields within sociology such as the study of the workplace health and social movements These chapters illustrate how the sociology of emotions can provide new research and theory for the large numbers of specialties within sociology Although no book can completely cover a field even a relatively new one like the sociology of emotions this Handbook of the Sociology of Emotions comes close to being comprehensive The reader will come away with a greater appreciation for how far the sociology of emotions has developed and prospered over the last thirty years

Narrative and Grief Patricia English-Schneider, Deleasa Randall-Griffiths, 2023-05-15 Grief and loss are fundamental aspects of the human experience Narrative and Grief examines the desire to make sense out of the nonsensical by exploring specific stories of loss and grief spanning from the loss of a parent child or partner loss within larger family systems and ambiguous and anticipatory loss to broader cultural aspects of grief The autoethnographic essays in this book reflect on the unique and individual experiences of each contributor s story Simultaneously these essays reveal that although each grief experience is unique it is also collective evoking broader cultural themes related to loss and grief Scholars of communication sociology and family studies will find this book of particular interest Attachment Narrative Therapy Rudi

Therapist in Mourning Anne Adelman,Kerry Malawista,2013-06-04 The unexpected loss of a client can be a lonely and isolating experience for therapists While family and friends can ritually mourn the deceased the nature of the therapeutic relationship prohibits therapists from engaging in such activities Practitioners can only share memories of a client in circumscribed ways while respecting the patient s confidentiality Therefore they may find it difficult to discuss the things that made the therapeutic relationship meaningful Similarly when a therapist loses someone in their private lives they are expected to isolate themselves from grief since allowing one s personal life to enter the working relationship can interfere with a client s self discovery and healing For therapists caught between their grief and the empathy they provide for their clients this collection explores the complexity of bereavement within the practice setting It also examines the professional and personal ramifications of death and loss for the practicing clinician Featuring original essays from longstanding practitioners the collection demonstrates the universal experience of bereavement while outlining a theoretical framework for the position of the bereft therapist Essays cover the unexpected death of clients and patient suicide personal loss in a therapist s life the grief of clients who lose a therapist disastrous loss within a community and the grief resulting from professional losses and disruptions The first of its kind this volume gives voice to long suppressed thoughts and emotions enabling psychologists psychiatrists counselors and other mental health specialists to achieve the connection and healing they bring to their own work Living, Loving and Loss Brad DeFord,Richard Gilbert,2016-12-05 One of the unspoken aspects of mourning concerns the ways that loss affects our intimate relationships and our sexual expressiveness This text opens these subjects for conversation with the aim of promoting the trust care and respect that enable us to be vulnerable It purposefully covers a range of topics including 1 the meaning of intimacy and the significance of sexuality providing a basis for the use of these terms throughout the book 2 death grief and differences in sexual orientation including death and intimacy in the lesbian gay bisexual and transgender LGBT community and the losses endured by young people due to gender issues 3 loss of relationship and restoration of intimacy in families including pharmacological effects on the grief processes of widowers grieving a not so loved parent the layered losses of infertility and intimacy and the tolls of war intimacy and sexuality challenges for soldiers and their families 4 adjusting to life's losses associated with aging or illness or infirmity including Alzheimer's and dementia related illnesses physical health losses after 50 and intimacy sex and hospice self determination and dignity at the end of life and 5 religious bases that have shaped our perspectives for understanding intimacy sexuality and healing after loss and which give us hope including the spiritual reflections of a rabbi and a Christian voice in defining what is right Set in a framework that is both psychological and spiritual the well researched contributions are intended to acknowledge these experiences both professionally and personally The book concludes with an extensive bibliography valuable for research and reference This book will be of value in undergraduate and graduate courses on thanatology as well as for anyone interested in knowing more about grief both those currently bereaved and those who wish to support others in mourning The contributors appreciate both the importance of our capacities for intimacy and sexuality and our inhibitions and hesitations in giving voice to our needs and concerns perhaps especially when we are grieving The information and compassionate understanding they provide encourage us to bridge the gap between the secret and the private and to share what is close to our hearts

Lesbian Widows Victoria Whipple, 2014-04-23 The unseen issues of grief and discrimination lesbians becoming widows

The death of a life partner poses unique challenges for lesbians. Lesbian Widows Invisible Grief reveals the touching and very personal stories of twenty five women including the author who were widowed at a young age and forced to create a new life without their life partners. The book follows the widows from the time the couple met to the time when one of the partners died and beyond to show how the surviving partner coped with her loss. Many lesbians feel that the intimacy felt between two women in love goes deeper than what can be experienced by heterosexual partners. Lesbian Widows Invisible Grief reveals themes common to all these women's experiences while offering practical advice about coping techniques and resources for support. The widows discuss their efforts to create funerals and memorial services, give their accounts of the overwhelming grief throughout the first two years, and explain the legal and financial discrimination they encountered. The author provides a chapter specifically for caring family and friends, another chapter for professionals working with this sensitive population, and a bibliography of helpful coping resources. Lesbian Widows Invisible Grief explores the topics of caregivers, caretaking, death and dying, grief journeys, the similarities and differences between lesbian and married widows, the lack of support services for lesbian widows, the legal and financial discrimination against lesbian widows, the effect of being in or out on grief recovery, the issues faced by widows in starting new relationships, spirituality, gay marriage. Lesbian Widows Invisible Grief provides an insightful look into the grieving and recovery process, inspiring hope with the knowledge that others have survived this tragedy. This moving book is an essential resource for lesbians, friends and family of lesbians, mental health professionals, medical professionals, psychiatrists, LGBT health providers, feminist and lesbian organizations, and anyone involved with grief training programs such as hospice.
