Cities of Others Xiaojing Zhou, 2014-12-01 Asian American literature abounds with complex depictions of American cities as spaces that reinforce racial segregation and prevent interactions across boundaries of race culture class and gender However in Cities of Others Xiaojing Zhou uncovers a much different narrative providing the most comprehensive examination to date of how Asian American writers both celebrated and overlooked depict urban settings Zhou goes beyond examining popular portrayals of Chinatowns by paying equal attention to life in other parts of the city Her innovative and wide ranging approach sheds new light on the works of Chinese Filipino Indian Japanese Korean and Vietnamese American writers who bear witness to a variety of urban experiences and reimagine the American city as other than a segregated nation space Drawing on critical theories on space from urban geography ecocriticism and postcolonial studies Zhou shows how spatial organization shapes identity in the works of Sui Sin Far Bienvenido Santos Meena Alexander Frank Chin Chang rae Lee Karen Tei Yamashita and others She also shows how the everyday practices of Asian American communities challenge racial segregation reshape urban spaces and redefine the identity of the American city From a reimagining of the nineteenth century flaneur figure in an Asian American context to providing a framework that allows readers to see ethnic enclaves and American cities as mutually constitutive and transformative Zhou gives us a provocative new way to understand some of the most important works of Asian American literature

The Oxford History of the Novel in English Cyrus R. K. Patell, Deborah Lindsay Williams, 2024-03-05 The Oxford History of the Novel in English is a twelve volume series presenting a comprehensive global and up to date history of English language prose fiction written by a large international team of scholars The series is concerned with novels as a whole not just the literary novel and each volume includes chapters on the processes of production distribution and reception and on popular fiction and the fictional sub genres as well as outlining the work of major novelists movements and tendencies This book offers an account of US fiction during a period demarcated by two traumatic moments the eve of the entry of the United States into the Second World War and the onset of the Covid 19 pandemic The aftermath of the Second World War was arguably the high point of US nationalism but in the years that followed US writers would increasingly explore the possibility that US democracy was a failure both at home and abroad For so many of the writers whose work this volume explores the idea of nation became suspect as did the idea of national literature as the foundation for US writing Looking at post 1940s writing the literary historian might well chart a movement within literary cultures away from nationalism and toward what we would call cosmopolitanism a perspective that fosters conversations between the occupants of different cultural spaces and that regards difference as an opportunity to be embraced rather than a problem to be solved During this period the novel has had significant competition for the US public's attention from other forms of narrative and media film television comic books videogames and the internet and the various forms of social media that it spawned If however the novel becomes a residual form during this period it is by no means archaic The novel has been reinvigorated over the past eighty years by its encounters with both emergent forms such as film television comic books and digital media and the emergent voices typically associated with multiculturalism in the United States

Very Long War Margaret Reeson, 2016-10-18 A Very Long War is about the experiences of the families of men missing in the New Guinea islands during World War 2 many of whom never returned When Japan entered the Pacific war the Australian Government evacuated all Australian women and children from the Territory of New Guinea The women found themselves suddenly alone and solely responsible for the welfare of their families Back in Australia they were cut off from letters and reliable news for three and a half years Rumours abounded adding to their trauma and anxiety Like the families of POWs they lived in a limbo of waiting For many of them the effects of the mystery and the trauma have continued to the present day A Very Long War is a calm respectful narrative beautifully told never over written Its poignant sometimes shocking stories are treated with insight and restraint Through the voices of those who provided oral testimony it echoes the common condition of all people struggling to deal with trauma and loss multiply determined sense of masculinity requires deconstructing the mother the feminine and the other in the male psyche As the text illustrates via clinical vignettes an awareness and an understanding of these areas can improve the clinical work of psychoanalysts working with men who struggle with the intrinsic conflicts in their sense of maleness This book will be of great clinical value to psychoanalysts psychotherapists and other mental health practitioners and will stimulate the thinking of scholars in such areas as gender theory psychodynamic and sociocultural aspects of gender roles and the changing social definition of masculinity

Teaching and Learning the Love of God Joseph Ratzinger, 2017-07-13 This inspiring collection of homilies delivered by Joseph Ratzinger Benedict XVI over six decades offers deep theological and historical insights on the meaning of the life and the witness of a Catholic priest When Pope Benedict XVI inaugurated the Year for Priests in 2009 he did so in conjunction with celebrating the 150th anniversary of the death of John Vianney the patron saint of all parish priests Benedict s purpose for that special year is the same purpose of this book of homilies to deepen the commitment of all priests to interior renewal for the sake of a stronger and more incisive witness to the Gospel in today s world As St John Vianney would often say The priesthood is the love of the heart of Jesus This touching expression makes us reflect on the immense gift that priests represent not only for the Church but for all mankind Contemporary men and women need priests to be distinguished by their determined witness to Christ These homilies are meant to illuminate and to inspire priests to renew their commitment to teaching and learning the love of God The homilies cover a wide variety of important topics on the priesthood all deeply rooted in Scripture including acting in persona Christi becoming an offering with Christ for the salvation of mankind being there for God s mercy and witnessing Christian joy revolutionary beliefs that have fascinated intrigued and enchanted readers for generations Allan Dwan and the Rise and Decline of the Hollywood Studios Frederic Lombardi, 2013-03-05 It could be said that the career of Canadian born film director Allan Dwan 1885 1981 began at the dawn of the American motion picture industry Originally a scriptwriter Dwan became a director purely by accident Even so his creativity and problem solving skills propelled him to the top of his profession He achieved success with numerous silent film performers most spectacularly with Douglas Fairbanks Sr and Gloria Swanson and later with such legendary stars as Shirley Temple and John Wayne Though his star waned in the sound era Dwan managed to survive through pluck and ingenuity Considering himself better off without the fame he enjoyed during the silent era he went on to do some of his best work for second echelon studios notably Republic Pictures Sands of Iwo Jima and such independent producers as Edward Small Along the way Dwan also found personal happiness in an unconventional manner Rich in detail with two columns of text in each of its nearly 400 pages and with more than 150 photographs this book presents a thorough examination of Allan Dwan and separates myth from truth in his life and films Stylistic and Narrative Structures in the Middle English Romances Susan Wittig, 2014-08-27 This volume provides a generic description based on a formal analysis of narrative structures of the Middle English noncyclic verse romances As a group these poems have long resisted generic definition and are traditionally considered to be a conglomerate of unrelated tales held together in a historical matrix of similar themes and characters As single narratives they are thought of as random collections of events loosely structured in chronological succession Susan Wittig however offers evidence that the romances are carefully ordered although not always consciously so according to a series of formulaic patterns and that their structures serve as vehicles for certain essential cultural patterns and are important to the preservation of some community held beliefs The analysis begins on a stylistic level and the same theoretical principles applied to the linguistic formulas of the poems also serve as a model for the study of narrative structures The author finds that there are laws that govern the creation selection and arrangement of narrative materials in the romance genre and that act to restrict innovation and control the narrative form The reasons for this strict control are to be found in the functional relationship of the genre to the culture that produced it The deep structure of the romance is viewed as a problem solving pattern that enables the community to mediate important contradictions within its social economic and mythic structures Wittig speculates that these contradictions may lie in the social structures of kinship and marriage and that they have been restructured in the narratives in a practical myth the concept of power gained through the marriage alliance and the reconciliation of the contradictory notions of marriage for power s sake and marriage for love s sake This advanced thorough and completely original study will be valuable to medieval specialists classicists linguists folklorists and Biblical scholars working in oral formulaic narrative structure
