Managerial State Power Politics And Ideology In The Remaking Of Social Welfare:

The Managerial State John Clarke, Janet Newman, 1997-03-24 This original analysis of the creation of new state forms critically examines the political forces that enabled more and better management to be presented as a solution to the problems of the welfare state in Britain Examining the micro politics within public service the authors draw links between politics policies and organizational power to present an incisive and dynamic account of the restructuring of social welfare Clarke and Newman expose the tensions and contradictions in the managerial state and trace the emergence of new dilemmas in the provision of public services They show that these problems are connected to the recurring difficulties in defining the public that receives these services In particular they question whether the reinvention of the public as either a nation of consumers or a nation of communities can effectively address the implications of social diversity The Routledge Handbook of the Welfare State Bent Greve, 2013 The welfare state in all its many forms has had a profound role in many countries around the world since at least the Second World War The Routledge Handbook of the Welfare State explores the classical issues around the welfare state but also investigates its key concepts along with how these can be used and analysed This book provides expert analysis of the core issues related to the welfare state including regional depictions of welfare states around the globe The book combines essays on methodologies core concepts and central policy areas to produce a comprehensive picture of what the welfare state means around the world In the midst of the credit crunch this book addresses some of the many questions about the welfare state This book is suitable for students and scholars throughout the social sciences particularly in sociology social policy public policy international relations politics and gender studies The First Tung Chee-hwa Administration Zhaojia Liu, Siu-kai Lau, 2002 This book is a study of the administration of Hong Kong's government under the leadership of Tung Chee hwa during a time when Hong Kong was changing politically and economically The contributors address the following questions To what extent are government policies consistent with those of colonial rule What does one country two systems mean and to what extent has the Tung regime been successful in safeguarding this principle How responsible are external economic forces for the apparent deterioration of the Hong Kong economy Who are affected most by the restructuring of the economy and what are some of the long term implications for Hong Kong as an important world financial center How do people in general perceive these changes What are some of the most effective economic and social policy measures that the Tung government has initiated Finally how successful has the Chief Executive been during his five years in office Public Management and Governance, Second Edition Tony Bovaird, Elke Löffler, 2009 This textbook examines what it means to have efficient management and good quality services in the public sector and how public sector performance can be improved Health and Exclusion David Banks, Michael Purdy, 2005-08-08 Health and Exclusion is a pioneering examination of those policies and practices of exclusion currently experienced by health customers in the UK Chapters document examples of exclusion in a number of controversial areas including the impact of poverty on the health of children exclusion in maternity care exclusion of those with mental health problems exclusion of the elderly in health care the silenced voice of the patient barriers to recruitment and advancement within the health professions The authors challenge whether New Labour policies sufficiently address the inequalities in health experienced by some sectors of society Moreover they suggest that health professionals at times actively contribute to exclusion and suggest strategies and practices to combat marginalisation and resist exclusion

Modernity and the Pandemic Sean Creaven, 2023-12-01 Modernity and the Pandemic Decivilization Imperialism and COVID 19 applies the tools of critical social theory to make sense of the COVID 19 crisis and presents a critical sociological analysis of aspects of the political and community response to the pandemic The book focuses on key themes integral to a sociology of pandemics in the global age Firstly Creaven argues that cultures of individualism and consumerism and of pervasive and deeply entrenched social inequalities that is decivilization significantly weaken the cause of public health by weakening the compliance of people with state mandated non pharmaceutical interventions including and especially physical distancing rules and encouraging vaccine hesitancy Secondly Creaven examines how interstate competition and imperial politics have undermined an effective global policy response to the COVID 19 pandemic Policy failure with regard to the management of the pandemic is interpreted as being rooted in the dominance of neoliberal ideology and governance in the politics of international relations particularly in the politics of the leading state actors by protecting corporate interests at the expense of public health and in the constraints imposed on state actors by the competitive dynamic of multinational capitalism in the global age Modernity and the Pandemic will appeal to scholars in the humanities and social sciences with interests in neoliberalism and its social cultural and epidemiological impacts

Can we imagine different ways of working together to secure better outcomes for children and families What are the complex issues that underlie the apparently simple call for joined up services Children's services in many countries around the world are being transformed as part of the call for joined up working for joined up solutions Social health and educational policy discourses are driven by the idea that effective inter professional interagency collaboration is crucial in determining whether service delivery to children and families will succeed or fail However the rapid turn from previous inter professional practices of liaison consultancy cooperation and collaboration to more radical and wholesale service integration and sector transformation has not been accompanied either by a well considered research agenda of hard questions nor close scrutiny of its effects and consequences The book asks a series of searching and challenging questions What are the complex issues involved in children's sector transformation for all those involved young people practitioners leaders and managers policy makers How can the silos in which professionals have traditionally been prepared for practice be broken down What are the orthodoxies that surround joined up working and in what ways should they be challenged Written by authors from across the wide range of professional policy and disciplinary groups involved in this new cross cutting area of policy and practice this book provides a critical analysis of the complexities of children's services transformations The research in this collection addresses the range of discursive policy and organizational developments associated with the transformation of children's services providing an important and timely analysis of their complexities and is essential reading for all those working in the complex spaces of children's services The Oxford Handbook of Management Ideas Andrew Sturdy, Stefan

Security after Christendom John Heathershaw,2024-02-13 We live in the wealthiest and most heavily defended world in history so why do we feel so insecure In a secular world what does Christian theology have to say about this problem Security after Christendom combines practical examples social scientific research and an ecumenical approach to political theology to answer these questions It argues that Christendom was a plural phenomenon of imagined security communities of East and West whose unravelling continues to have implications for global politics today as dramatically illustrated by Russia s war in Ukraine While notions of a new Christendom are idolatrous and delusional secular imaginaries of national security or the liberal international order are both destructive and unstable True security radical inclusion nonviolent protection and abundant provision is an eschatological phenomenon inaugurated by Christ Security after Christendom is neither found in faithful government nor an exclusive church as polis approach but in relations of tension where the fallen powers are continuously confronted by prophetic practices A post Christendom community expresses its love for the world by seeking its security providentially limiting the disorders of the secular age and offering glimmers of a new earth
