Rubina Oriental Studies:

Reframing the "Desert Frontier" Rebecca Repper, M.C. Bishop, Dr Robert Bewley, 2025-03-01 The eastern frontier of the Roman Empire its network of roads trade routes towns and forts is often conceived of as an edge of both empire and civilisation but this borderland is also part of a rich cultural landscape Our awareness and appreciation of these cultures has increased dramatically over the course of the last century Scholarship has deepened methods have advanced and perspectives have shifted Across 20 chapters Reframing the Desert Frontier offers new insights into the rich cultural history of this region through the re examination of existing material such as archives historical accounts and previous surveys and through the use of novel archaeological approaches The bringing together of different methodological approaches to the archaeology of the region in a single volume highlights synergies and offers important comparisons for archaeologists to consider This volume highlights the work of Emeritus Professor David Kennedy whose contribution to the study of the Roman army the archaeology of Jordan and aerial archaeology has inspired and enhanced multiple projects that have reframed this so called desert frontier Reframing the Desert Frontier encapsulates the enriched view of this ancient region generated by new techniques of survey and analysis changed perspectives on older materials a more intense engagement with the rural landscapes surrounding ancient towns and the addition of new discoveries that alter previous consensus

Deconstructing Sexuality in the Middle East Pinar Ilkcaracan, 2016-05-13 Exploring the contemporary dynamics of sexuality in the Middle East this volume offers an in depth and unique insight into this much contested and debated issue It focuses on the role of sexuality in political and social struggles and the politicization of sexuality and gender in the region Contributors illustrate the complexity of discourses debates and issues focusing in particular on the situation in Iran Iraq Jordan Lebanon Pakistan Palestine and Turkey and explain how they cannot be reduced to a single underlying factor such as religion or a simple binary opposition between the religious right and feminists Contributors include renowned academicians researchers psychologists historians human rights and women s rights advocates and political scientists from different countries and backgrounds offering a balanced and contemporary perspective on this important issue as well as highlighting the implication of these debates in larger socio political contexts

Group Identity and Religious Individuality in Late Antiquity Eric Rebillard, Jorg Rupke, 2015 To understand the past we necessarily group people together and consequently frequently assume that all of its members share the same attributes In this ground breaking volume Eric Rebillard and J rg R pke bring renowned scholars together to challenge this norm by seeking to rediscover the individual and to explore the dynamics between individuals and the groups to which they belong

Questioning the 'Muslim Woman' Nida Kirmani, 2016-03-16 The marginalisation of Muslims in India has recently been the subject of heated public debate In these discussions however Muslim women are often either overlooked or treated as a homogenous group with a common set of interests Focusing on the narratives of women living in a predominantly Muslim colony in South Delhi this book attempts to demonstrate the complexity of their lives and the multiple levels of insecurity they face Unlike other studies on Indian Muslims that focus on Islam as a defining factor this book highlights the ways in which religious identity intersects with other identities including class status regional affiliation and gender The author also sheds light on the impact of such events as the Babri Masjid demolition in 1992 and the subsequent riots the Gujarat communal carnage in 2002 and the anti Sikh violence in New Delhi in 1984 along with the rise of Hindutva and growing Islamophobia experienced worldwide in the post 9 11 period on the articulation of identities at the local level and increasing religion based spatial segregation in Indian cities The study highlights how these incidents combine in different ways to increase the sense of marginalisation experienced by Muslims at the level of the locality Understanding the need to look beyond preconceived religious categories this book will serve as essential reading for those interested in sociology anthropology gender religious and urban studies as well as policymakers and organisations concerned with issues related to religious minorities in India

Religion and Orientalism in Asian Studies Kiri Paramore, 2016-10-06 Religion and Orientalism in Asian Studies analyses the role of religion in past and present understandings of Asia Religion and the history of its study in the modern academy has exercised massive influence over Asian Studies fields in the past century Asian Studies has in turn affected and is increasingly shaping the study of religion Religion and Orientalism in Asian Studies looks into this symbiotic relationship both in current practice and in the modern histories of both Orientalism and Area Studies Each chapter of the book deals with one regional sub discipline in Asian Studies covering Chinese Studies Japanese Studies Korean Studies South Asian Studies Southeast Asian Studies and Central Eurasian Studies The chapters are integrated by shared themes that run through the past and present practice of Asian Studies covering the role of state actors in originating Area Studies the role of local scholarship in defining and developing it the interaction between humanities and social science approaches debates over the dominance of Western and or modern categories and frameworks the interaction of past and present and the role of religious actors and religious sensibilities in shaping Asian Studies

Feelings and Work in Modern History Agnes Arnold-Forster, Alison Moulds, 2022-01-27 Work in all its guises is a fundamental part of the human experience and yet it is a setting where emotions rarely take centre stage This edited collection interrogates the troubled relationship between emotion and work to shed light on the feelings and meanings of both paid and unpaid labour from the late 19th to the 21st century Central to this book is a reappraisal of emotional labour now associated with the household and life admin work largely undertaken by women and which reflects and perpetuates gender inequalities Critiquing this term and the history of how work has made us feel Feelings and Work in Modern History explores the changing values we have ascribed to our labour examines the methods deployed by workplaces to manage or administrate our emotions and traces feelings through 19th 20th and 21st century Europe Asia and South America Exploring the damages wrought to physical and emotional health by certain workplaces and practices critiquing the pathologisation of some emotional responses to work and acknowledging the joy and meaning people derive from their labour this book appraises the notion of work life balance explores the changing notions of professionalism and critically engages with the history of capitalism and neo liberalism In doing so it interrogates the lasting impact of some of these histories on the current and future emotional landscape of labour Studies in Religion and the Everyday Farhana Ibrahim,2024-02-27 Studies in Religion and the Everyday is a collection of essays addressing the contours of religious beliefs and practices in the context of everyday life in India Events and processes in contemporary India especially post the 1990s have contributed to distinct modes of articulating religious practices This volume is an attempt to historicize and problematize the categorization of religion as a universally held and analytically distinct feature of human life and seeks to understand the conditions historical political discursive and processes of authorization under which a particular set of practices values and dispositions constitutes the religious at a specific point in time By bringing together studies that draw from diverse methodological and epistemological approaches the book will serve as a useful introduction to religion in India for the general reader and as an indispensable resource for students and researchers The volume presents fresh perspectives on existing fields of study such as the city capital minorities secularization and the state no longer seen as distinct from religion but actively co produced with religion in the context of the theoretical rubric of the everyday thereby marking a departure from approaching the question of religion solely through the lens of identity and conflict Shaping

Letters, Shaping Communities: Multilingualism and Linguistic Practice in the Late Antique Near East and Egypt ,2023-12-11 The volume explores linguistic practices and choices in the late antique Eastern Mediterranean It investigates how linguistic diversity and change influenced the social dimension of human interaction affected group dynamics the expression and negotiation of various communal identities such as professional groups of mosaic makers stonecutters or their supervisors in North Syria bilingual monastic communities in Palestine elusive producers of Coptic ritual texts in Egypt or Jewish communities in Dura Europos and Palmyra The key question is what do we learn about social groups and human individuals by studying their multilingualism and language practices reflected in epigraphic and other written sources

The Byzantine Neighbourhood Fotini Kondyli,Benjamin Anderson,2021-10-28 The Byzantine Neighbourhood contributes to a new narrative regarding Byzantine cities through the adoption of a neighbourhood perspective It offers a multi disciplinary investigation of the spatial and social practices that produced Byzantine concepts of neighbourhood and afforded dynamic interactions between different actors elite and non elite Authors further consider neighbourhoods as political entities examining how varieties of collectivity formed in Byzantine neighbourhoods translated into political action By both acknowledging the unique position of Constantinople and giving serious attention to the varieties of provincial experience the contributors consider regional factors social economic and political that formed the ties of local communities to the state and illuminate the mechanisms of empire Beyond its Byzantine focus this volume contributes to broader discussions of premodern urbanism by drawing attention to the spatial dimension of social life and highlighting the
