A Danger to the State Philip Trower, 1998-01-01 Through a large cast of historical and fictional characters A Danger to the State relates one of the outstanding though little known dramas of modern history In 1773 surrendering at last to a 20 year long campaign of intrigue and calumny Pope Clement XIV suppressed the famous Society of Jesus founded 200 years earlier by St Ignatius of Loyola Just sixteen years before the French Revolution Europe s Catholic kings threatening to take their countries into schism pressured Pope Clement into destroying the strongest bulwark and the Church s most successful band of missionaries What lay behind this apparent act of madness There was no popular opposition to the Jesuits and the Kings were mainly dupes The driving force came from the writers and thinkers of the French Enlightenment agnostics and atheists that included a number of Europe s leading statesman among it s members Once we have destroyed the Jesuits wrote Voltaire we should have easy work with the Church The action revolves around the de Vallecass family a distinguished Spanish family that have two sons in the Jesuit order one a missionary to the Jesuit Reductions in Paraguay the other a novice in Spain during the efforts of suppression This chronicle of political intrigue moves masterfully from the turbulent scenes in Madrid of the French anti Jesuit forces battle to influence King Charles III and other Spanish leaders to the serene setting of the Jesuit missions in Paraguay in their last days of glory and finally to Catherine the Great s Russia

Weakness of Will and Practical Irrationality Sarah Stroud, Christine Tappolet, 2003-09-04 Among the many practical failures that threaten us weakness of will or akrasia is often considered to be a paradigm of irrationality The eleven new essays in this collection written by an excellent international team of philosophers some well established some younger scholars give a rich overview of the current debate over weakness of will and practical irrationality more generally Issues covered include classical questions such as the distinction between weakness and compulsion the connection between evaluative judgement and motivation the role of emotions in akrasia rational agency and the existence of the will The also include new topics such as group akrasia strength of will the nature of correct choice the structure of decision theory the temporality of prudential reasons and emotional rationality Because these questions cut across philosophy of mind and ethics the collection will be essential reading for scholars postgraduates and upper level undergraduates in both these fields Good Housekeeping
