Histories of Sensibilities Isabel Burdiel, Ester García Moscardó, Elena Serrano, 2024-10-23 Histories of Sensibilities: Visions of Gender, Race, and Emotions in the Global Enlightenment explores the historical and plural character of sensibility in the Global Enlightenment. From Tahiti to New Orleans to the Mariana Islands to Lima, Geneva, London, Oviedo, or Venice, the book investigates how sensibility was brandished by different ethnic, political, and cultural groups to define their identities; how cross-cultural and cross-chronological encounters reconfigured ideas of gendered selves; how sexuality was used to empower or subjugate non-European ethnicities; and how the circulation of theories about the origin of emotions and taste reinforced or challenged hegemonic ideas of masculinity and femininity. With a primary focus on Southern Europe and the Hispanic World, areas still not well charted, this edited collection explores the varied forms in which notions of sensibilities circulated within Europe and between Europe, the Americas, and the Hispanic Asian Pacific, questioning normative and diffusionist views. Histories of Sensibilities is aimed at postgraduate students and scholars researching the histories of literature and science, cultural studies, the history of emotions, gender studies, and women's history, as well as scholars of Hispanic studies, Latin America studies, and European studies. The Body in Autobiography and Autobiographical Novels Menotti Lerro, 2018-10-12 This volume explores a web of complex relationships between body and mind, discussing the efforts of individuals from a wide variety of backgrounds to define to achieve or to reject the normal and in some cases to put something else in its place. After considering the problems arising from other people's perceptions of non-standard bodies, the book turns to gender: is it written upon the body established at birth, determined only by physical traits and distinguished by material things such as clothes, or is it written within the body defined through the subject's own feelings? It considers what happens when males consider themselves female and females consider themselves male. It concludes with the analysis of four books by different authors with different sexual orientations Two of these volumes might be considered genuine autobiographies while the other two are novels which include numerous autobiographical features that reflect the authors own thoughts
