Scrim Radio Rebel In Retrospect:

Scrim; Radio Rebel in Retrospect Les Edwards, 1971 Scrim Les Edwards, 2009 The political and broadcasting controversy surrounding Colin Scrimgeour and his radio church programme The Friendly Road during the 1930s and early 1940s ZB Bill Francis, 2010-07-01 In November 2006 1ZB one of our leading national commercial radio stations reaches two historic milestones 80 years of broadcasting and 70 years as our first commercial radio station throughout this time 1ZB has been deeply involved in some of the most momentous events in our social history and some of this country's best loved broadcasters have graced its airwaves from Uncle Scrim during the depression years to Aunt Daisy Phil Shone Merv and Leighton Smith and Paul Holmes Auckland's Voice tells their stories capturing in words and pictures the controversies the personalities and the reasons behind its extraordinary success Moving beyond its original Auckland audience Newstalk ZB has national coverage and prominence in key market segments in all major cities with Paul Holmes the leading breakfast host in Christchurch as well as Auckland Much more than the story of a single radio station it extends into a wider social history of the turbulent times when commercial radio fought to be free of governments and bureaucracy to where Newstalk ZB sits today as a commercially successful business model and leading broadcaster Secret History Steven Loveridge, Richard S. Hill, 2023-07-13 In 1900 a handful of New Zealand police detectives watched out for spies seditionists and others who might pose a threat to state and society The Police Force remained the primary instrument of such human intelligence in New Zealand until 1956 when a decade into the Cold War a dedicated Security Service was created Over the same period New Zealand's role within signals intelligence networks evolved from the Imperial Wireless Chain to the UKUSA intelligence alliance now known as Five Eyes The first of two volumes chronicling the history of state surveillance in New Zealand Secret History opens up the secret world of security intelligence through to 1956 It is the story of the surveillers who in times of war and peace turmoil and tranquillity monitored and analysed perceived threats to national interests It is also the story of the surveilled those whose association with organisations and movements led to their public and private lives being documented in secret files Secret History explores a hidden and intriguing dimension of New Zealand history one which sits uneasily with cherished national notions of an exceptionally fair and open society Coates of the Kaipara Fay Hercock, 2013-11-01 In the course of his political career Gordon Coates 1878 1943 experienced the extremes of popular adulation and contempt Handsome young and debonair with the common touch he was a successful minister in the early 1920s and seemed full of promise when he became Prime Minister in 1925 on the death of W F Massey Ten years later after serving as Minister of Finance in the coalition government during the Depression his reputation had sunk to its lowest ebb He went on to serve with distinction in the War Cabinet winning the confidence and respect of former Labour opponents Dying suddenly in 1943 he left many friends and supporters who to this day regard him as one of New Zealand's political giants Michael Bassett follows his successful biography of Sir Joseph Ward with an equally readable life of this younger Prime Minister It is one of the few scholarly biographies of a figure on the right of New Zealand politics With full access to the Coates family papers and to material gathered by other researchers Bassett is able to offer a thoughtful reassessment of the achievements and failures of Coates's political career He provides clear explanations of the sometimes complex issues drawing once again on his own familiarity with the pressures and pleasures of political life The study of the politician is combined with a fascinating account of the private man including his Northland origins his farming background his gallant military service in the First World War his personal and family life and his character Truth Betrayed William J. West, 1987 The Golden Age of Radio in the Home John Whitley Stokes, 1986 The Museum of Broadcast Communications Encyclopedia of Radio Museum of Broadcast Communications, 2004 A premise of this unique encyclopedia is that radio broadcasting is so pervasive that its importance can be easily overlooked More than 600 articles provide ample illustration of the role this medium plays throughout the world From radio's invention to radio on the Internet the cross referenced and thoroughly indexed articles analyze over 100 years of topics programs issues people and places and provide leads to further reading Some 250 photographs give visual context to an often unseen world Scholars old time radio admirers and curious readers will appreciate the unparalleled comprehensiveness of this source The Top 20 Reference Titles of the Year American Libraries May 2004 Media Matter John Reynolds, 1984 A History of Broadcasting in New Zealand: The radio years Patrick Day, 1994 The first of two volumes commissioned by the Broadcasting History Trust on the history of a major aspect of twentieth century New Zealand This volume begins with the early experiments into wireless telegraphy by Ernest Rutherford and ends with the New Zealand Broadcasting Service in the 1950s just before the advent of television Topics dealt with are the development and geographical spread of transmission and reception facilities the political debates about broadcasting and consequential institutional changes the interventionist role of the state in broadcasting programming style and content and the social and cultural consequences of broadcasting Some of the more flamboyant characters who shaped New Zealand broadcasting are described in this volume James Shelley The Prof the first Director of Broadcasting Daisy Basham Aunt Daisy who woke up the nation with her Good morning everybody and of course Colin Scrimgeour the populist and controversial broadcaster known to everyone as Uncle Scrim who stirred up public debate and goaded the government until he was silenced by the jamming of 1ZB on the eve of the 1935 election life The New Zealand Journal of History, 2008 Whitaker's Five-year Cumulative Book List, 1968 The Oxford History of New Zealand William Hosking Oliver, Bridget R. Williams, 1981 Safeguarding the Public Health Derek A. Dow, 1995 Glossary of Haematological and Serological Terms Philip Samson, 1972 About 580 medical laboratory terms pertinent to the disciplines of hematology and blood transfusion serology Definitions range from short to long Also includes abbreviations synonyms cross references and tables Words at Work, 2006 This annotated bibliography of New Zealand trade union literature includes human resources labour studies and social history It is more complete and up to date than Bert Roth's 1970 reprinted 1977 bibliography and much of the material does not appear in Austin Bagnall's New Zealand National Bibliography. Other than trade unions themselves, political and union activists, social historians, students, and book researchers will find Words at Work a valuable resource. Even a cursory glance at the wealth of literature covering 130 years recorded here shows a broad range of diverse activity across many occupational groupings, windmills that have been tilted at and often bent the indefatigable nature of worker organisation and action, and the striving for progress in areas of life beyond the industrial.

The State in New Zealand, 1840-1984 Michael Bassett, 1998. In this study, historian and former politician Michael Bassett explores how and why the state became such an active and interventionist player in New Zealand life, developing, subsidizing, and regulating the economy and increasingly protecting citizens from the cradle to the grave. It looks in detail at the many schemes in which a paternalistic government became involved, especially the extensive social programmes taken for granted by the people but from the 1960s increasingly difficult to sustain economically. Bassett makes heavy use of departmental archives and concludes that the continuing process of intervention had to be halted.
