

Channing's Monadnock Journal

This documentation can be found in my book Tramping Monadnock! New Discoveries With Henry David Thoreau on page 283, as Appendix II. What follows is an introduction to Channing's Monadnock Journal as I have read, interpreted and transcribed it.

Not long after my trip to the Houghton Library, I learned that The Thoreau Institute holds a transcript of Channing's Monadnock Journal. The transcript was completed by Frederick T., Jr., of Rutgers University. In the spring of 1962, McGill sent a carbon copy of the transcript to Walter Harding. This copy is part of the Harding Collection held by the Institute. It is almost 60 years old, and the paper has faded to a yellow-orange color. Some of the printed letters are washed-out, and some have bled from the ink of the carbon paper, making difficult reading in a few places.

However, at the Annual Gathering of 2021, it was mentioned that the Concord Free Public Library was in possession of several Channing documents, including a copy of that same transcript. Fortunately, this copy is much more readable than the copy at the Thoreau Institute—even some readable handwritten marginal notes. Because it is such a clear copy, I checked what I had previously copied from The Thoreau Institute copy and made corrections. Carefully reading through the pages, I noticed one marginal note that appeared several times: “underlined words are interpolated.” Someone had read through the document and underlined various words and phrases. But who? McGill, Harding, or someone else?

As I continued, I came to page sixteen of the journal, and the note read: “arrow points to ‘I see, I mean above’.” It must have been McGill, who noticed an arrow as he read Channing's original manuscript. Housed at the Houghton Library of Harvard University. And with that, I realized that the marginal notes and the underlined words were most likely the work of Frederick McGill.
