Macroeconomic Linkage

Takatoshi Ito,Anne O. Krueger,2009-02-15 This volume explores East Asia s macroeconomic experience in the 1980s and the economic impact of East Asia s growth on the rest of the world The authors explore the causes of capital flows changes in trade balances and exchange rate fluctuations in East Asia and their effects on other countries These fourteen papers are organized around four themes the overall determinants of growth and trading relations in the East Asian region monetary policies in relation to capital controls and capital accounts the impact of exchange rate behavior on industrial structure and the potential for greater regional integration The contributors examine interactions among exchange rate movements trade balances and capital flows how government monetary policy affects capital flows the effect of exchange rates on industrial structure inventories and prices and the extent of regional integration in East Asia

Asia-Pacific Financial Deregulation

Gordon De Brouwer,Wisarn Pupphavesa,2002-03-11 Recent events in East Asia have highlighted the risks of volatility and contagion in a financially integrated world Countries in the region had been at the forefront of the movement towards increased integration but the crisis that struck Thailand in July 1997 and the rapidity with which it spread to other East Asian nations suggested that all was not well Weaknesses in domestic financial intermediation poor corporate governance and deficient government responses to large capital inflows all played a role in the build up of vulnerability Asia Pacific Financial Deregulation provides an insight into financial liberalisation and structural reform in the region generally and as illustrated by a number of countries

Regionalism and Rivalry Jeffrey A. Frankel, Miles Kahler, 2007-12-01 As Japan's newfound economic power leads to increased political power there is concern that Japan may be turning East Asia into a regional economic bloc to rival the U S and Europe In Regionalism and Rivalry leading economists and political scientists address this concern by looking at three central questions Is Japan forming a trading bloc in Pacific Asia Does Japan use foreign direct investment in Southeast Asia to achieve national goals Does Japan possess the leadership qualities necessary for a nation assuming greater political responsibility in international affairs The authors contend that although intraregional trade in East Asia is growing rapidly a trade bloc is not necessarily forming They show that the trade increase can be explained entirely by factors independent of discriminatory trading arrangements such as the rapid growth of East Asian economies Other chapters look in detail at cases of Japanese direct investment in Southeast Asia and find little evidence of attempts by Japan to use the power of its multinational corporations for political purposes A third group of papers attempt to gauge Japan's leadership characteristics They focus on Japan's technology ideology its contributions to international public goods international monetary cooperation and economic liberalization in East Asia
