transformations Sabine Arnaud reveals what was at stake in writing the diagnosis and adds to our understanding of how the role and status of medicine became established in society In the process she uncovers new insights in the history of medicine Focusing on a period largely ignored by scholarship she shows that hysteria was not in fact first seen as female malady and that discussions of convulsions in a religious context made up only a very small part of writings on hysteria Widely treated in medical contexts hysteria was also a common reference in literature public political debates and even philosophy With careful attention to genres and writing strategies webs of citation and circulation Arnaud provides a history of medicine as a history of knowledge in the making knowledge that did not build linearly but through misinterpretation creative citation and strategic deployment Jewish Men and the Holocaust: Sexuality, Emotions, Masculinity Florian

Zabransky,2024-10-21 During the Holocaust amid death and violence Jewish men were not mere powerless victims Linking gender studies with a history of sexuality and emotions will highlight intimate agency power struggles negotiations of relationships social dynamics and representations of masculinities Considering the agency and vulnerability will further convey intimate choices the representation of masculine ideals intimate violence and the expression of various emotions such as honour and love As research on the Holocaust often links women with sexuality or portrays women as gendered beings it is crucial to excavate the intimate hidden lives of Jewish men and their specific intimate experiences as men The analysis not only demonstrates how Jewish men remember and make sense of their experiences but also how they chose to form the narrative and how they represented their ordeal in four chapters namely ghettos concentration camps Jewish resistance in the countryside and finally DP camps in the aftermath of the Holocaust The consideration of these four spaces allows a nuanced innovative understanding of the intimate history of Jewish men during the Holocaust i e how some men established male dominated structures and established intimate strategies to find solace and pleasure Dream Point ZiaUddan Md

Arifuzzaman Rasel,Md Jakir Hossain,Shuhel Nabi , Dream Point ZiaUddan Rise of the Indian Novel in English Maturam Rāmamūrtti,1987 Body and Story Richard Terdiman,2006-12 In Body and Story Richard Terdiman explores the tension between what might seem to be two fundamentally different ways of understanding the world as physical reality and as representation in language In demonstrating the complicated relationship between these two modes of being he also presents a new bold approach to the problem of conflicts between irreconcilable but equally compelling theoretical ideas Enlightenment rationalism is most often understood as maintaining that words can meaningfully refer to and grasp things in the material world while Postmodernism famously argues that nothing exists outside of language Terdiman challenges this clean distinction finding the early seeds of Postmodern doubt in the Enlightenment and demonstrating the stubborn resistance of material reality particularly that of the body to language even today Building on readings of works by 18th century encyclopedist Denis Diderot and contemporary philosopher icon Jacques Derrida Terdiman argues that despite their genuine and profound opposition a constant negotiation or mutual interrogation has always been taking place between these two world views even as the balance at times shifts to one side or the other In analyzing these shifts he proposes a new model for understanding how seemingly unbridgeable theories legitimately coexist in our intellectual conception of the world and he suggests a new ethics for managing this coexistence Catalogue of Printed Books British Museum.
