Monk And Mason On The Tigris Frontier:

Monk and Mason on the Tigris Frontier Andrew Palmer, 1990-04-12 Tur cAdin is a plateau skirted by the Upper Tigris in south eastern Turkey Syrian Orthodox Christians of Aramaic tongue still worship in its Late Antique churches Monks converted the region and the most powerful monastery founded in the fourth century is still flourishing today This book grew out of an attempt to document more fully the early history of this abbey It aims to rediscover the practical and symbolic function of the monuments of Tur cAdin and place them in their original social context A recurring theme is the relationship between village and monastery and within each between community and individual The final chapters also contribute to our understanding of the Syrian Orthodox community under the Abbasid caliphate A 500 page microfiche supplement contains the first editions of the Qartmin Trilogy a monastic text to which the book refers constantly and the Book of Life a unique quasi epigraphical document of a Christian village and its will to survive The Encounter of Eastern Christianity with Early Islam David Thomas, 2006-05-01 The theme of this book is the early encounters between Christianity and Islam in the eastern provinces of the Byzantine Empire and in Persia from the beginnings of Islam in Mecca to the time of the Abbasids in Bagdad The contributions in this volume deal with crucial subjects of political and theological dialogue and controversy that characterized the varying responses of the Christian communities in the Byzantine Eastern provinces to the Islamic conquest and its subsequent impact on Byzantine society and history This volume opens up new research perspectives surrounding the confrontation of Christianity with the early theological and political development of Islam The present publication emphasizes the importance of the study of the beginnings and the foundations of the relations between the two religions Syriac Hagiography, 2020-12-29 Chapters gathered in Syriac Hagiography Texts and Beyond explore a wide range of Syriac hagiographical works while following two complementary methodological approaches i e literary and cultic or formal and functional Grouped into three main sections these contributions reflect three interrelated ways in which we can read Syriac hagiography and further grasp its characteristics Texts as Literature seeks to unfold the mechanisms of their literary composition Saints Textualized offers a different perspective on the role played by hagiographical texts in the invention and or maintenance of the cult of a particular saint or group of saints Beyond the Texts presents cases in which the historical reality behind the nexus of hagiographical texts and veneration of saints can be observed in greater details The Oxford Handbook of Christian Monasticism Bernice M. Kaczynski, 2020-09-29 The Handbook takes as its subject the complex phenomenon of Christian monasticism It addresses for the first time in one volume the multiple strands of Christian monastic practice Forty four essays consider historical and thematic aspects of the Catholic Eastern Orthodox Oriental Orthodox Protestant and Anglican traditions as well as contemporary new monasticism The essays in the book span a period of nearly two thousand years from late ancient times through the medieval and early modern eras on to the present day Taken together they offer not a narrative survey but rather a map of the vast terrain The intention of the Handbook is to provide a balance of some essential historical coverage with a representative sample of current thinking on monasticism. It presents the work of both academic and monastic authors and the essays are best understood as a series of loosely linked episodes forming a long chain of enquiry and allowing for various points of view. The authors are a diverse and international group who bring a wide range of critical perspectives to bear on pertinent themes and issues. They indicate developing trends in their areas of specialisation. The individual contributions and the volume as a whole set out an agenda for the future direction of monastic studies. In today's world where there is increasing interest in all world monasticisms where scholars are adopting more capacious global approaches to their investigations and where monks and nuns are casting a fresh eye on their ancient traditions this publication is especially timely.

Narratives of Identity William Taylor, 2014-10-16. The relationship between the Syrian Orthodox Church in the Ottoman Empire and the Church of England developed substantially between 1895 and 1914 as contacts between them grew. As the character of this emerging relationship changed it contributed to the formation of both churches' own narratives of identity. The wider context in which this took place was a period of instability in the international order particularly within the Ottoman Empire culminating in the outbreak of the First World War effectively bringing this phase of sustained contact to an end. Narratives of Identity makes use of Syriac, Greek and Arabic primary sources from Syrian Orthodox archives in Turkey and Syria alongside Ottoman documents from the Başbakanlık Osmanlı Arşivi in Istanbul and a range of English archival sources. The preconceptions of both Churches are analysed using a philosophical framework provided by the work of Paul Ricoeur especially his concepts of significant memory, anamnesis, translation and the search for mutual recognition. Anamnesis and translation were extensively employed in the formation of narratives of identity that needed to be understood by both Churches. The identity claims of the Tractarian section of the Church of England and of the Ottoman Syrian Orthodox Church are examined using this framework. The detailed content of the theological dialogue between them is then examined and placed in the context of the rapidly changing demography of eastern Anatolia, the Syrian Orthodox heartland. The late Ottoman state was characterised by an increased instability for all its non-Muslim minorities which contributed to the perceived threats to Ottoman Syrian Orthodoxy both from within and without. Finally a new teleological framework is proposed in order to better understand these exchanges taking seriously the anamnestic insights of the narratives of identity of both the Syrian Orthodox Church and the Church of England from 1895 to 1914.

Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia A.C.S. Peacock, Bruno De Nicola, 2016-03-09. Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia offers a comparative approach to understanding the spread of Islam and Muslim culture in medieval Anatolia. It aims to reassess work in the field since the 1971 classic by Speros Vryonis The Decline of Hellenism in Asia Minor and the Process of Islamization which treats the process of transformation from a Byzantinist perspective. Since then research has offered insights into individual aspects of Christian-Muslim relations but no overview has appeared. Moreover very few scholars of Islamic studies have examined the problem meaning evidence in Arabic, Persian and Turkish has been somewhat neglected at the expense of Christian sources and too little attention has been given to material culture The essays in this volume examine the interaction between Christianity and Islam in medieval Anatolia through three distinct angles opening with a substantial introduction by the editors to explain both the research background and the historical problem making the work accessible to scholars from other fields The first group of essays examines the Christian experience of living under Muslim rule comparing their experiences in several of the major Islamic states of Anatolia between the eleventh and fifteenth centuries especially the Seljuks and the Ottomans The second set of essays examines encounters between Christianity and Islam in art and intellectual life They highlight the ways in which some traditions were shared across confessional divides suggesting the existence of a common artistic and hence cultural vocabulary The final section focusses on the process of Islamisation above all as seen from the Arabic Persian and Turkish textual evidence with special attention to the role of Sufism

Rhetoric and Philosophy from Greek into Syriac John W. Watt, 2024-12-11 Shortly after 500 CE the Syriac speaking priest and physician Sergius of Resh aina who had studied in Alexandria wrote the first known exposition of Aristotle in a Semitic language About four centuries later Abu Bishr Matta an alumnus of the monastic school of Dayr Qunna in Iraq completed in Baghdad the Arabic version of the Aristotelian Organon with translations from the Syriac and in a famous disputation argued the case for Greek logic as a theory of knowledge against rival claims of Arabic grammarians The articles collected in this volume are concerned with the transmission and development of the Greek achievement among Syriac scholars of the Fertile Crescent during these four centuries particularly in the fields of rhetoric and philosophy Some range broadly over general areas such as the Syriac appropriation of Greek liberal education or the educational curriculum in Syriac monastic schools while others focus on themes of particular interest including the influence of Aristotle's Rhetoric or the concept of the philosopher king Cumulatively they show how many aspects of Greek culture were received and elaborated in Syriac and contribute to understanding the ways in which that culture exercised a powerful influence on the medieval Near East and the burgeoning Islamic civilisation

Liturgy and Devotion in the Crusader States Iris Shagrir, Cecilia Gaposchkin, 2020-05-21 Examining liturgy as historical evidence has in recent years developed into a flourishing field of research The chapters in this volume offer innovative discussion of the Latin Kingdom of Jerusalem from the perspective of liturgy in history They demonstrate how the total liturgical experience which was visual emotional motile olfactory and aural can be analysed to understand the messages that liturgy was intended to convey The chapters reveal how combining narrative sources with liturgical documents can help decode political circumstances and inter group relations and decipher the core ideals of the community of Outremer Moreover understanding the Latins liturgical activities in the Holy Land has much to contribute to our understanding of the crusade as an institution how crusade spirituality was practised on the ground in the Latin East and how people engaged with the crusading movement This volume brings together eight original studies forwarded by the editors introduction on the liturgy of Jerusalem spanning the immediate pre Crusade and Crusade period 11th 13th centuries It demonstrates the richness of a focus on the liturgy in illuminating the social religious and intellectual history of this critical period of ecclesiastical self assertion as well as conceptions of the sacred in this time and place This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Medieval History

John Moschos' Spiritual Meadow Brenda Llewellyn Ihssen, 2016-05-06 John Moschos' Spiritual Meadow is one of the most important sources for late sixth early seventh century Palestinian Syrian and Egyptian monasticism This undisputedly invaluable collection of beneficial tales provides contemporary society with a fuller picture of an imperfect social history of this period it is a rich source for understanding not only the piety of the monk but also the poor farmer Brenda Llewellyn Ihssen fills a lacuna in classical monastic secondary literature by highlighting Moschos' unique contribution to the way in which a fertile Christian theology informed the ethics of not only those serving at the altar but also those being served Introducing appropriate historical and theological background to the tales Llewellyn Ihssen demonstrates how Moschos' tales address issues of the autonomy of individual ascetics and lay persons in relationship with authority figures Economic practices health care death and burials of lay persons and ascetics are examined for the theology and history that they obscure and reveal Whilst teaching us about the complicated relationships between personal agency and divine intercession Moschos tales can also be seen to reveal liminal boundaries we know existed between the secular and the religious

Envisioning Islam Michael Philip Penn, 2015-06-05 The first Christians to encounter Islam were not Latin speakers from the western Mediterranean or Greek speakers from Constantinople but Mesopotamian Christians who spoke the Aramaic dialect of Syriac Under Muslim rule from the seventh century onward Syriac Christians wrote the most extensive descriptions extant of early Islam Seldom translated and often omitted from modern historical reconstructions this vast body of texts reveals a complicated and evolving range of religious and cultural exchanges that took place from the seventh to the ninth century The first book length analysis of these earliest encounters Envisioning Islam highlights the ways these neglected texts challenge the modern scholarly narrative of early Muslim conquests rulers and religious practice Examining Syriac sources including letters theological tracts scientific treatises and histories Michael Philip Penn reveals a culture of substantial interreligious interaction in which the categorical boundaries between Christianity and Islam were more ambiguous than distinct The diversity of ancient Syriac images of Islam he demonstrates revolutionizes our understanding of the early Islamic world and challenges widespread cultural assumptions about the history of exclusively hostile Christian Muslim relations
