Monkeys as Perceivers Roger T. Davis, 2014-05-10 Primate Behavior Developments in Field and Laboratory Research Volume 3 Monkeys as Perceivers illustrates some general procedures for studying nonverbal perceiving in monkeys This book takes into account the environment that was present when the monkeys were evolving their basic patterns of behavior in order to describe monkeys as perceivers The topics include the general requirements for a description of nonverbal perception inferences about attention and complex conflicting cues of space The interpretation of spatial discontiguity alternative ways to measure detour performance and methodological problems in specifying form are also described This publication likewise covers the confusion errors in short term memory and color perception This volume is suitable for biologists and researchers interested in monkeys as perceivers Learning and the Infant Mind Amanda Woodward, Amy Needham, 2009 When asking how cognition comes to take its mature form learning seems to be an obvious factor to consider However until quite recently there has been very little contact between investigations of how infants learn and what infants know The chapters in this book document for the first time the insights that emerge when researchers who come from diverse domains and use different approaches make a genuine attempt to bridge this divide Mindblindness Simon Baron-Cohen, 1997-01-22 In Mindblindness Simon Baron Cohen presents a model of the evolution and development of mindreading He argues that we mindread all the time effortlessly automatically and mostly unconsciously It is the natural way in which we interpret predict and participate in social behavior and communication We ascribe mental states to people states such as thoughts desires knowledge and intentions Building on many years of research Baron Cohen concludes that children with autism suffer from mindblindness as a result of a selective impairment in mindreading For these children the world is essentially devoid of mental things Baron Cohen develops a theory that draws on data from comparative psychology from developmental and from neuropsychology He argues that specific neurocognitive mechanisms have evolved that allow us to mindread to make sense of actions to interpret gazes as meaningful and to decode the language of the eyes A Bradford Book Hearst's International, 1922 How Children Develop Robert S. Siegler, Judy S. DeLoache, Nancy Eisenberg, 2006 In its first edition this highly anticipated textbook for the topically organized child development course provided a fresh non encyclopedic approach offering the latest straight from the research understanding of child development without overwhelming the student with inessential detail The new edition brings those hallmark features forward again providing a thoroughly contemporary streamlined introduction to the study of child development that emphasizes fundamental principles enduring themes and important recent studies Student friendly pedagogy a new chapter on gender and an enhanced media and supplements package further enrich this accessible engaging and informative text Processing Symbolic Numerical Information and its Implications for Mathematics Learning Ricardo Moura, Julia Bahnmüller, Vitor Geraldi Haase, Júlia Beatriz Lopes-Silva, Korbinian Moeller, 2022-06-21 Social Purpose and Schooling Jerald E. Paquette, 1991 Critically analyzes claims made about alternative arrangements for education in the light of the major popularly understood social and political agendas and of the much less understood and articulated assumptions and issues that underlie those agendas Paper edition unseen 21 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The Children's World of Learning, 1480-1880.
