Museum Pieces Ruth Bliss Phillips, 2011 The ways in which Aboriginal people and museums work together have changed drastically in recent decades This historic process of decolonization including distinctive attempts to institutionalize multiculturalism has pushed Canadian museums to pioneer new practices that can accommodate both difference and inclusivity Ruth Phillips argues that these practices are indigenous not only because they originate in Aboriginal activism but because they draw on a distinctively Canadian preference for compromise and tolerance for ambiguity Phillips dissects seminal exhibitions of Indigenous art to show how changes in display curatorial voice and authority stem from broad social economic and political forces outside the museum and moves beyond Canadian institutions and practices to discuss historically interrelated developments and exhibitions in the United States Britain Australia and elsewhere Drawing on forty years of experience as an art historian curator exhibition critic and museum director she emphasizes the complex and situated nature of the problems that face museums introducing new perspectives on controversial exhibitions and moments of contestation A manifesto that calls on us to re imagine the museum as a place to embrace global interconnectedness Museum Pieces emphasizes the transformative power of museum controversy and analyses shifting ideas about art authenticity and power in the modern museum

Sharon J Macdonald Saloni Mathur Gerald McMaster Sidney Moko Mead Donald Preziosi Karen A Rader Richard Sandell Roger I Simon Crain Soudien Paul Tapsell Stephen E Weil Paul Williams and Andrea Witcomb Questions of Tradition Mark Salber Phillips, Mark Phillips, Gordon J. Schochet, 2004-01-01 Tradition is a central concern for a wide range of academic disciplines interested in problems of transmitting culture across generations Yet the concept itself has received remarkably little analysis A substantial literature has grown up around the notion of invented tradition but no clear concept of tradition is to be found in these writings since the very notion of invented tradition presupposes a prior concept of tradition and is empty without one this debunking usage has done as much to obscure the idea as to clarify it In the absence of a shared concept the various disciplines have created their own vocabularies to address the subject Useful as they are these specialized vocabularies of which the best known include hybridity canonicity diaspora paradigm and contact zones separate the disciplines and therefore necessarily create only a collection of parochial and disjointed approaches Until now there has been no concerted attempt to put the various disciplines in conversation with one another around the problem of tradition Combining discussions of the idea of tradition by major scholars from a variety of disciplines with synoptic synthesizing essays Questions of Tradition will initiate a renewal of interest in this vital subject Translating Museums Shaila Bhatti, 2016-06-16 Shaila Bhatti's immersive study of the Lahore Museum in Pakistan is one of the first books to offer an in depth historical and ethnographic analysis of a South Asian museum Bhatti thus presents an alternative example of visitor experience and museum practice to that of the West which has been the dominant museological model to date This examination of the Lahore Museum's objects staff and visitors past and present provides an informative case study that reveals local perceptions and uses of museums in non Western societies to be fraught with social political and cultural implications and appropriations Through Lahore Bhatti examines the history of exchange between Britain and South Asia and advances our current understanding of what constitutes postcolonial museum interpretation and its public Pasts Beyond Memory Tony Bennett, 2004 Contributing to current debates on relationships between culture and the social and the changing practices of modern museums this important new work explores how evolutionary museums developed in the USA UK and Australia in the late 19th century Religion in Museums Gretchen Buggeln, Crispin Paine, S. Brent Plate, 2017-02-23 Bringing together scholars and practitioners from North America Europe Russia and Australia this pioneering volume provides a global survey of how museums address religion and charts a course for future research and interpretation Contributors from a variety of disciplines and institutions explore the work of museums from many perspectives including cultural studies religious studies and visual and material culture Most museums throughout the world whether art archaeology anthropology or history museums include religious objects and an increasing number are beginning to address religion as a major category of human identity With rising museum attendance and the increasingly complex role of religion in social and geopolitical realities this work of stewardship and interpretation is urgent and important Religion in

Museums is divided into six sections museum buildings reception objects collecting and research interpretation of objects and exhibitions and the representation of religion in different types of museums Topics covered include repatriation conservation architectural design exhibition heritage missionary collections curation collections and display and the visitor s experience Case studies provide comprehensive coverage and range from museums devoted specifically to the diversity of religious traditions such as the State Museum of the History of Religion in St Petersburg to exhibitions centered on religion at secular museums such as Hajj Journey to the Heart of Islam at the British Museum Heritage, Museums and Galleries Gerard Corsane,2005 This reader provides a starting point and introductory resource for anyone wishing to engage with certain key issues relating to the heritage museums and galleries sector Cabinets for the Curious Ken Arnold,2017-03-02 The last few years has within museums witnessed nothing short of a revolution Worried that the very institution was itself in danger of becoming a dusty forgotten culturally irrelevant exhibit vigorous efforts have been made to reshape the museum mission Fearing that history was coming to be ignored by modern society many institutions have instead marketed a de intellectualised heritage overly relying on computer technology to captivate a contemporary audience The theme of this work is that we can do much to reassess the rationale that inspires contemporary collections through a study of seventeenth century museums England s first museums were quite literally wonderful founded that is on the disciplined application of the faculty of wonder The type of wonder employed was not that post Romantic idea of disbelief but rather an active form of curiosity developed during the Renaissance particularly by the individuals who set about gathering objects and founding museums to further their enquiries The argument put forward in this book is that this museological practice of using objects actually to create as well as disseminate knowledge makes just as much sense today as it did in the seventeenth century and further that the best way of reinvigorating contemporary museums is to return to that form of wonder By taking such a comparative approach this book works both as a scholarly historical text and as an historically informed analysis of the key issues facing today s museums As such it will prove essential reading both for historians of collecting and museums and for anyone interested in the philosophies of modern museum management Hunting the Gatherers Michael O'Hanlon,Robert L. Welsch,2001-01-01 Between the 1870s and the 1930s competing European powers carved out and consolidated colonies in Melanesia the most culturally diverse region of the world As part of this process great assemblages of ethnographic artefacts were made by a range of collectors whose diversity is captured in this volume The contributors to this tightly integrated volume take these collectors and the collecting institutions as the departure point for accounts that look back at the artefact producing societies and their interaction with the collectors but also forward to the fate of the collections in metropolitan museums as the artefacts have been variously exhibited neglected re conceived as indigenous heritage or repatriated In doing this the contributors raise issues of current interest in anthropology Pacific history art history museology and material culture Museums and Communities Ivan Karp,Christine Mullen Kreamer,Steven

Levine,2013-09-03 Contributors to this volume examine and illustrate struggles and collaborations among museums festivals tourism and historic preservation projects and the communities they represent and serve Essays include the role of museums in civil society the history of African American collections and experiments with museum community dialogue about the design of a multicultural society

Luxury and Legitimation Allison Karmel Thomason,2017-03-02 Utilizing a variety of ancient sources including cuneiform texts images and archaeological finds Luxury and Legitimation explores how the collecting of luxury objects contributed to the formation of royal identity in one of the world s oldest civilizations ancient Mesopotamia modern Iraq Allison Thomason makes a significant and timely contribution to the subjects of collecting and material culture studies by bringing a new understanding to the political cultural and social institutions of an important pre Classical non Western civilization

Qualitative Analysis in the Making Daniella Kuzmanovic,Andreas Bandak,2014-10-10 How do scholars transform qualitative data into analysis What does making analysis imply What happens in the space in between data and finalized analysis is notoriously difficult to talk about In other parts of the research process scholars and students are aided by method books that describe the technicalities of generating processing and sorting through data handbooks that teach academic writing and scholarly works that offer meta level theoretical perspectives Yet the path from qualitative data to analysis remains a black box Qualitative Analysis in the Making ventures into this black box The volume provides a means of speaking about how analyses emerge in the Humanities Contributors from disciplines such as anthropology history and sociology of religion all employ an analytical double take They revisit one of their analyses analyzing how this particular analysis came into being Such analyses of an analysis are neither confessions nor step by step recounts of what happened Rather the volume argues that speaking of the space in between requires analytical displacement and the employment of fresh analytical takes This approach contributes to demystifying the path from qualitative data to finalized analysis It invites novel epistemological reflections among scholars and assists students in improving their analytical skills
