Rediscoveries II:

Rediscoveries II David Madden, Peggy Bach, 1988 Rediscoveries and Reformulations Hayward R.

Alker, 1996-05-30 This book provides a distinctive and rich conception of methodology within international studies From a rereading of the works of leading Western thinkers about international studies Hayward Alker rediscovers a neo Classical conception of international relations which is both humanistic and scientific He draws on the work of classical authors such as Aristotle and Thucydides modern writers like Machiavelli Vico Marx Weber Deutsch and Bull and post modern writers like Havel Connolly and Toulmin The central challenge addressed is how to integrate positivist or falsificationist research styles within humanistic or interpretive ones The author argues that appropriate philosophically informed reformulations of conventional statistical and game theoretic analyses are possible and describes a number of humanistic methodologies for international relations including argumentation analysis narrative modeling computational models of political understanding and reconstructive analysis

Two Rediscovered Works of Ancient Christian Literature: Gregory of Nyssa and Macarius Werner Jaeger, 2023-11-13 Seneca the Elder and His Rediscovered ›Historiae ab initio bellorum civilium‹

Maria Chiara Scappaticcio, 2020-06-08 The refreshed insights into early imperial Roman historiography this book offers are linked to a recent discovery In the spring of 2014 the binders of the archive of Robert Marichal were dusted off by the ERC funded project PLATINUM ERC StG 2014 n 636983 in response to Tiziano Dorandi s recollections of a series of unpublished notes on Latin texts on papyrus Among these was an in progress edition of the Latin rolls from Herculaneum together with Marichal s intuition that one of them had to be ascribed to a certain Annaeus Seneca PLATINUM followed the unpublished intuition by Robert Marichal as one path of investigation in its own research and work Working on the Latin P Herc 1067 led to confirm Marichal s intuitions and to go beyond it P Herc 1067 is the only extant direct witness to Seneca the Elder s Historiae Bringing a new and important chapter of Latin literature arise out of a charred papyrus is significant The present volume is made up of two complementary sections each of which contains seven contributions They are in close dialogue with each other as looking at the same literary matter from several points of view yields undeniable advantages and represents an innovative and fruitful step in Latin literary criticism These two sections express the two different but interlinked axes along which the contributions were developed On one side the focus is on the starting point of the debate namely the discovery of the papyrus roll transmitting the Historiae of Seneca the Elder and how such a discovery can be integrated with prior knowledge about this historiographical work On the other side there is a broader view on early imperial Roman historiography to which the new perspectives opened by the rediscovery of Seneca the Elder s Historiae greatly contribute

Genres Rediscovered Anna Maria Wasyl, 2011 A reader of the epyllion by Dracontius the elegy by Maximianus and the epigram by Luxorius should not expect that these works and these new embodiments of the old genres will be wholly identical with their archetypes Were it so it would mean that we read but second rate versifiers indeed We may expect rather that thanks to the reading of Dracontius's epyllion, Maximianus's elegy and Luxorius's epigram our understanding of these very genres may become fuller and deeper than if it was narrowed only to the study of the classical phase of the Roman literature. Therefore I have decided to employ in the title of my book the expression genres rediscovered. I have found it fair to emphasize that the poets whose works have been studied here merit appreciation for their creativity and indeed courage in reusing and reinterpreting the classical and truly classic literary heritage. In addition I have found it similarly fair to stress that for the students of Latin literature the borderline between the classical and the post-classical is and should be flexible. It is not my intention of course to imply that aesthetic and poetological differences should be ignored or blurred. Quite the reverse: these differences are profound and multidimensional and as such must be properly understood and explained. The main issue is the fact that studies of Latin literature or rather of literature in general and especially generic studies require a proper i.e. diachronic perspective. A description of a certain genre based merely on its most important or generally known representative representatives will always risk becoming incomplete and limited. In genology one must be utterly prudent in defining the main and the marginal, the relevant and the negligible. In this sense an insight into a few genres practiced by some classical and classic Roman poets from the perspective of their post-classical followers may be also for a genologist an intriguing rediscovery.

Old Masters Worldwide Susanna Avery-Quash, Barbara Pezzini, 2020-10-15 As a result of the Napoleonic wars vast numbers of Old Master paintings were released on to the market from public and private collections across continental Europe. The knock-on effect was the growth of the market for Old Masters from the 1790s up to the early 1930s when the Great Depression put an end to its expansion. This book explores the global movement of Old Master paintings and investigates some of the changes in the art market that took place as a result of this new interest. Arguably the most important phenomenon was the diminishing of the traditional figure of the art agent and the rise of more visible increasingly professional dealerships: firms such as Colnaghi and Agnew's in Britain, Goupil in France and Knoedler in the USA came into existence. Old Masters Worldwide explores the ways in which the pioneering practices of such businesses contributed to shape a changing market.

Lost Legion Rediscovered Donald O'Reilly, 2014-07-19 In AD383 according to Bishop Eucherius of Lyon flooding caused part of the bank of the River Rhone to collapse revealing a mass grave of thousands of bodies. Eucherius identified these as a legion recruited for the Roman army from the Christians of the Theban district in Egypt whom he claimed had been massacred nearly a century previously near the modern village of St Maurice en Valais in southwestern Switzerland for refusing to obey orders they considered immoral. This incident asserted by Eucherius as matter of fact is unrecorded elsewhere. Even the existence of this Theban legion is unclear.
