Gallagher, 1994 The Chicago Literary Experience Frederik Byrn Køhlert, 2011 The Chicago Literary Experience is a concise literary history of the city of Chicago Taking as its thematic starting point the city s famous World s Columbian Exposition of 1893 the book provides an account of the city s rapid and in many ways unprecedented development from trading post to metropolis and examines the many literary responses to this new urban environment By contextualizing literature written about the city in these formative years the book shows not only how the city influenced its writers but also how these writers struggled to transform their urban environment into literary forms Covering such aspect as the emergence of the novel of the businessman as cultural hero the humorous newspaper columns of the late nineteenth century and the Depression era revitalization of Chicago literature from its ethnic neighborhoods the book moves beyond the obvious classics and rediscovers a vibrant literary tradition that restores almost forgotten writers such as Eugene Field and Floyd Dell to their place in American literary history Given the historical approach and the breadth of material covered the book will be valuable to anyone wanting to understand how American literature in this defining period moved from the farm to the city and what happened to it once it had arrived Authors discussed include Jane Addams George Ade Nelson Algren Sherwood Anderson Saul Bellow Gwendolyn Brooks Willa Cather Floyd Dell Theodore Dreiser James T Farrell Eugene Field Henry B Fuller Hamlin Garland Robert Herrick Jack London Frank Norris Carl Sandburg Upton Sinclair and Richard Wright Frederik Byrn K hlert is a doctoral student at the University of Montreal He has an MA in English from the University of Oregon and an MA in English and Scandinavian Literature from the University of Aarhus Denmark

Finding a New Midwestern History Jon K. Lauck, Gleaves Whitney, Joseph Hogan, 2018-11-01 In comparison to such regions as the South the far West and New England the Midwest and its culture have been neglected both by scholars and by the popular press Historians as well as literary and art critics tend not to examine the Midwest in depth in their academic work And in the popular imagination the Midwest has never really ascended to the level of the proud literary South the cultured democratic Northeast or the hip innovative West Coast Finding a New Midwestern History revives and identifies anew the Midwest as a field of study by promoting a diversity of viewpoints and lending legitimacy to a more in depth rigorous scholarly assessment of a large region of the United States that has largely been overlooked by scholars The essays discuss facets of midwestern life worth examining more deeply including history religion geography art race culture and politics and are written by well known scholars in the field such as Michael Allen Jon Butler and Nicole Etcheson

Davies, David R. Pichaske, Joseph Anthony Amato, 2003 2004 Minnesota Book Award Winner The Midwestern small town has long held an iconic place in American culture from the imaginings of Sinclair Lewis's Main Street and Sherwood Anderson's Winesburg Ohio to Garrison Keillor's Lake Wobegon But the reality is much more complex as the small town has been a study in transition from its very inception In A Place Called Home editors Richard O. Davies Joseph A. Amato and David R. Pichaske offer the first comprehensive examination of the Midwestern small town and its evolving nature from the 1800s to the present This rich collection gleaned from the best writings of historians novelists social scientists poets and journalists features not only such well known authors as Sherwood Anderson Carol Bly Willa Cather Hamlin Garland Langston Hughes Garrison Keillor William Kloefkorn Sinclair Lewis Susan Allen Toth and Mark Twain but also many lesser known and exceptionally talented writers Five chronological sections trace the founding growth and decline of the Midwestern town and introductory comments illuminate its ever changing face The result is a wide ranging collection of writings on the community at the heart of America Governors' Mansions of the Midwest Ann Liberman, 2003 Governors Mansions of the Midwest explores the history of 12 prominent mansions in the Midwest Liberman focuses on architectural history from the houses construction to various alterations made by later occupants to renovations of recent years Rooted David R. Pichaske, 2009-05 David Pichaske has been writing and teaching about midwestern literature for three decades In Rooted by paying close attention to text landscape and biography he examines the relationship between place and art His focus is on seven midwestern authors who came of age toward the close of the twentieth century their lives and their work grounded in distinct places Dave Etter in small town upstate Illinois Norbert Blei in Door County Wisconsin William Kloefkorn in southern Kansas and Nebraska Bill Holm in Minneota Minnesota Linda Hasselstrom in Hermosa South Dakota Jim Heynen in Sioux County Iowa and Jim Harrison in upper Michigan The writers intimate knowledge of place is reflected in their use of details of geography language environment and behavior Yet each writer reaches toward other geographies and into other dimensions of art or thought jazz music and formalism in the case of Etter gender issues in the case of Hasselstrom time past and present in the case of Kloefkorn ethnicity and the role of the artist in the case of Blei magical realism in the case of Heynen the landscape of literature in the case of Holm and the curious worlds of academia best selling novels and Hollywood films in the case of Harrison The result Pichaske notes is the growing away from roots the explorations and alter egos of these writers of place and the tension between the here and there that gives each writer s art the complexity it needs to transcend provincial boundaries Quoting generously from the writers Pichaske employs a practical jargon free literary analysis fixed in the text making Rooted interesting readable and especially useful in treating the literary categories of memoir and literary essay that have become important in recent decades
