Redwood Lumber Industry:

One Hundred Years of the Redwood Lumber Industry, 1850-1950 Howard Brent Melendy, 1952 The Home of the Redwood Redwood Lumber Manufacturers Association, 1897 Redwood Lumber Industry Lynwood Carranco, 1982 The Story of the Redwood Lumber Industry , 1960 Building the Redwood Region James Michael Buckley, 2000 City of Wood James Michael Buckley, 2024 In City of Wood architectural historian James Buckley explores San Francisco's rapid urban development as a product of the physical and economic transformation of the natural environment of the American West. San Francisco is best known as a product of the gold and silver that were mined from California's mountains and streams but as Buckley shows the city's growth was in fact fueled by a wide range of natural resources that could be converted into marketable commodities. City of Wood investigates the architecture of a typical Western resource industry: redwood lumber, to determine how the exploitation of California's natural resources shaped the built environment of both San Francisco and its broader hinterland. Some Aspects of the Redwood Lumber Industry on Humboldt Bay Joanne E. Beer, 1959 A Study of Product Planning in the Redwood Lumber Industry Thomas M. McChesney, 1966 A History of the Redwood Lumber Industry in Sonoma County Vernon Charles Spence, 1962 Logging the Redwoods Lynwood Carranco, John T. Labbe, 1975 Distributed by the University of Nebraska Press for Caxton Press The giant redwood trees are one of California's best known attractions. Thousands of tourists visit the Northern California groves each year. The story of the California redwood lumber industry also tells the stories of the men, the trains and the land. This book is dedicated to the pioneer lumbermen who succeeded in launching careers as mill men by overcoming the tremendous obstacle of moving the giant redwoods from the woods to the mill by inventing equipment strong enough to handle the gigantic logs and by finding suitable markets for their lumber throughout the Pacific area and to Augustus William Ericson and the other early photographers who preserved the early history of logging in pictures. Directory of the Lumber Industry (Pacific Coast) , 1927 By-products of the Lumber Industry Henry Kreitzer Benson, 1916 Profit Factors in Redwood Sawmills Adolph William Barkan, 1961 Current Industrial Reports United States. Bureau of the Census, 1975 Current Industrial Reports , 1977 Pamphlets on the Lumber Industry , 1925 Mills of Humboldt County Fortuna Depot Museum, Susan J. P. O'Hara and Alex Service, 2016 Humboldt County was at the forefront of the massive redwood logging industry. The impressive size of the trees necessitated drastic technological advances. Many innovations were invented by Humboldt mill owners like John Dolbeer whose steam donkey engine mechanized and revolutionized logging all along the West Coast. In 1896 there were 13 mills devoted to sawing redwood lumber and 26 mills making redwood shingles operating in Humboldt County. Other related industries such as shipbuilding, boiler works, tanbark and split products further shaped the economic vitality of the county. Most of these industries no longer exist and the logging industry is now a shadow of its former self. However, many remnants of the loggers' heyday can still be found. This book explores the sites of Humboldt County's historic
