Mr Pink Why can't we pick out our own color Joe I tried that once it don't work You get four guys fighting over who's gonna be Mr Black Quentin Tarantino Reservoir Dogs Men's clothes went black in the nineteenth century Dickens Ruskin and Baudelaire all asked why it was in an age of supreme wealth and power that men wanted to dress as if going to a funeral The answer is in this history of the color black Over the last 1000 years there have been successive expansions in the wearing of black from the Church to the Court from the Court to the merchant class Though black as fashion was often smart and elegant its growth as a cultural marker was fed by several currents in Europe's history in politics asceticism religious warfare Only in the nineteenth century however did black fully come into its own as fashion the most telling witnesses constantly saw connections between the taste for black and the forms of constraint with which European society regimented itself Concentrating on the general shift away from color that began around 1800 Harvey traces the transition to black from the court of Burgundy in the 15th century through 16th century Venice 17th century Spain and the Netherlands He uses paintings from Van Eyck and Degas to Francis Bacon religious art period lithographs wood engravings costume books newsphotos movie stills and related sources in his compelling study of the meaning of color and clothes Although in the twentieth century tastes have moved toward new colors black has retained its authority as well as its associations with strength and cruelty At the same time black is still smart and fashion keeps returning to black It is perhaps the color that has come to acquire the greatest most significant range of meaning in history Working in Black & White David Prälkel, 2021-01-07
