Regional Security in South Asia Sridhar K. Khatri, 1987 Regionalism and Regional Security in South Asia Zahid

Shahab Ahmed, 2016-04-08 Zahid Shahab Ahmed evaluates the progress of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation SAARC. This study goes beyond economic integration to present a detailed appraisal of cooperation under the overarching themes of economic cooperation, environmental security, human welfare and cooperation in security matters. According to the author, SAARC is making progress in addressing the myriad of issues on its agenda. The transition from agreements to actions and frequent interactions among the member states has boosted confidence. The progress of SAARC is more evident in the less controversial areas of human security such as poverty alleviation, health and safety, human resources development and higher education. Notwithstanding enthusiastic commitments reflected in agreements and action plans, there is a gulf between rhetoric and implementation, most notably in sensitive areas relating to traditional security. In the light of the findings of this study, the author proposes that greater cooperation in common human security areas has a potential to pave the way for a cooperation on issues of a contentious nature, particularly terrorism.

Regional Security in South Asia Nancy Jetly, 1999 Contributed articles presented at an international seminar in 1996 Demography and National Security Myron Weiner, Sharon Stanton Russell, 2001-08 Political scientists, demographers, legal scholars and historians have come together in this volume under the direction of the late Myron Weiner, one of the leading scholars in this field, to address three of the major sets of questions in the field of political demography: How changes in demographic variables (population size, growth, distribution and composition) influence threats, real or perceived, to a country's political stability and security; how governments respond to demographic trends; and how governments attempt to change demographic variables in order to enhance national security.

Environmental Change and Regional Security in Southeast Asia Stephen Colnon Lonergan, Steve Lonergan, 1994 Identity and Marginality in India Anwesha Ghosh, 2018-12-07 Decades of conflict and war have forced millions of men, women and children to flee from their homes and seek refuge in other parts of the country or in foreign lands. Afghanistan is one such country. This book is a study of the displaced Afghan migrant population in India, in particular the persecuted Sikhs and Hindus who are religious minorities in Afghanistan and make up a majority of Afghan migrants in India. It explores the relationship between acculturation and identity development. By focusing on the interactions between the Afghan immigrant population and the Indian society, the author analyses how the community negotiates identity and marginality in a country that does not recognize them as refugees. The author explains how the Afghan migrant population manages and negotiates various identities bestowed upon them by the societies in their home and host countries in their day-to-day existence in India. An important study of acculturation and adaptation issues of Ripsman,T.V. Paul,2010-03-18 In the past two decades many have posited a correlation between the spread of globalization and the decline of the nation state Moreover such scholars have maintained that the increasing interdependence between countries means that nations are no longer the sole providers of their territorial security They point to the increasing role of transnational institutions NGOs and regional security agreements role in national defense In Globalization and the National Security State T V Paul and Norrin Ripsman argue that this thesis has not been borne out by events Despite the effects of globalization weak and powerful states have continued to pursue traditional nation state security strategies Rewiring Regional Security in a Fragmented World Chester A. Crocker, Fen Osler Hampson, Pamela R. Aall, United States Institute of Peace, 2011 Rewiring Regional Security in a Fragmented World examines conflict management capacities and gaps regionally and globally and assesses whether regions through their regional organizations or through loose coalitions of states regional bodies and non official actors are able to address an array of new and emerging security threats Challenge of Pluralism Abdou Filali-Ansary, 2009-09-30 Current popular and academic discussions tend to make certain assumptions regarding Islam and its lack of compatibility with notions of pluralism Some noted liberal thinkers have even argued that pluralism itself is inherently antithetical to Islam This volume intends to address these assumptions by bringing clarity to some of its key suppositions and conjectures It seeks to go beyond the parameters of political correctness by engaging in a dialogue that refutes these postulations in a direct frontal debate In this volume as well as in the forthcoming volume The Possibility of Pluralism eminent scholars from around the world explore notions of pluralism discussing the broad spectrum of its relevance and application to modern day societies from secularism and multiculturalism to democracy globalisation and the pivotal role of civil society South Asia and U.S. Foreign Policy Michael H. Armacost, 1984 The Routledge Handbook of Refugees in India S. Irudaya Rajan, 2022-03-10 This handbook marks a key intervention in refugee studies in India home to diverse groups of refugees including an entire government in exile It unravels the various socio economic political and cultural dimensions of refugee issues in India The volume examines the various legal political and policy frameworks for accommodating refugees or asylum seekers in India including the Citizenship Amendment Act and the National Registry of Citizens It evaluates the lack of uniformity in the Indian legal and political framework to deal with its refugee population and analyzes the grounds of inclusion or exclusion for different groups Drawing from the experiences of Jewish Tibetan Pakistani Bangladeshi Sri Lankan Afghan and Rohingya refugees in India it analyzes debates around marginalization citizenship and refugee rights It also explores the spatial and gendered dimensions of forced migration and the cultural and social lives of displaced communities including their quest for decent work education and health The volume will be an indispensable reference for scholars lawyers researchers and students of refugee studies migration and diaspora studies public policy social policy and development studies Comparative Regional Security Governance Shaun Breslin, Stuart Croft, 2013-03-01 This book seeks to understand the role of regions in the provision of security and insecurity practices across the globe Specialists with expertise in the regions they examine present eight case studies and analyses of the Americas Africa and the Middle East South and East Asia and Europe Discussing both The State and people in the context of security this book examines four categories inter state security transnational criminal practices the drugs trade human trafficking migration proliferation issues both nuclear and non nuclear and issues of domestic state collapse The book uses an inclusive definition of security to include traditional and non traditional conceptions and incorporates the use of force and the threat of the use of force as well as issues related to the integrity of peoples The chapters weave theory and case studies to provide a rich description of a variety of regional governance forms and where applicable the absence of them to move beyond regionalism to consider the key determining features of regional governance Comparative Regional Security Governance will be of interest to students and scholars of international security international relations and governance Reconceiving International Refugee Law James C. Hathaway, 1997-09-17 2 2 The Refugee Family Building a People-oriented Security Community the ASEAN Way Alan Collins, 2013 ASEAN has declared its intention to create a security community in Southeast Asia that is people orientated This book evaluates ASEAN s progress and in doing so examines three matters of concern The book firstly looks at the importance of constitutive norms to the workings of security communities by identifying ASEAN s constitutive norms and the extent to which they act as a help of hindrance in establishing a security community It then moves on to how ASEAN has interpreted people orientated as empowering civil society organisations to be community stakeholders The book discusses the uncertainty between how ASEAN envisages their role and the role they themselves expect to have Civil society actors are seeking to influence what sort of community evolves and their ability to interact with the state elite is evaluated to determine what interpretation of people oriented is likely to emerge Thirdly in order to make progress ASEAN has sought to achieve cooperation among its member states in functional areas The book examines this interest in functional cooperation through case studies on human rights HIV AIDS and disaster management By discussing the notion of ASEAN being people orientated and how it engages with the people the book provides important insights into what type of community ASEAN is building as well as furthering our understanding on security communities more broadly
