Regarding Hwange And Other Matters Of Perception:

Regarding Hwange Joshua Caine Anchors, 2004-04-01 In the heart of Zimbabwe safari country Siweti Mathe learns to translate his fear into art Lucky Mapfuwa feels the sweetness of liberation for a single day Steve and his family face the harsh realities of an unpredictable terrain Ellie Sibanda fights off hungry elephants and greedy headmasters to sustain her family and Anna discovers only emptiness in her escape to Africa This is a landscape where pangolins reflect on their meaning late into the night and family safari vacations go awry Touching upon many of the essential yet enigmatic relationships between humans and the land they live upon Regarding Hwange offers an indelible glimpse into a wilderness of perceptions that can be both illuminating and tragic

Changing Climate, Changing Worlds Meredith Welch-Devine, Anne Sourdril, Brian J. Burke, 2020-04-07 This book explores how individuals and communities perceive and understand climate change using their observations of change in the world around them Because processes of climatic change operate at spatial and temporal scales that differ from those of everyday practice the phenomenon can be difficult to understand However flora and fauna which are important natural and cultural resources for human communities do respond to the pressures of environmental change Humans in turn observe and adapt to those responses even when they may not understand their causes Much of the discussion about human experiences of our changing climate centers on disasters and extreme events but we argue that a focus on the everyday on the microexperiences of change has the advantage of revealing how people see feel and make sense of climate change in their own lives The chapters of this book are drawn from Asia Europe Africa and South and North America They use ethnographic inquiry to understand local knowledge and perceptions of climate change and the social and ecological changes inextricably intertwined with it Together they illustrate the complex process of coming to know climate change show some of the many ways that climate change and our responses to it inflict violence and point to promising avenues for moving toward just and authentic collaborative responses

Ezeuduji, Magdalena Petronella Swart, 2025-06-30 Despite its potential to unlock socio economic benefits in rural and protected areas in a manner that addresses the Sustainable Development Goals SDG rural and protected areas tourism is yet to be thoroughly examined by academics scholars practitioners and policymakers This lack of exploration has undermined the potential benefits associated with tourism development in rural and protected areas Given the complexity of rural tourism this contributed volume explores current and future debates on the subject using cases in Southern Africa The book is useful for various audiences including tourism academics planners cultural and heritage practitioners and rural development planners The topics covered include gender transformation service delivery visitor experience wildlife tourism and host community tourism interaction

Foreign Direct Investment in Infrastructure David Donaldson, Frank Sader, Dileep M. Wagle, 1997 World Bank Discussion Paper No 351 Outlines Tunisia's innovative strategy of reducing the budgetary costs of food subsidies in a manner that is politically acceptable and that protects the nutritional status of the poor The government uses self targeted programs whereby subsidies are shifted to items consumed primarily by low income groups while prices of unsubsidized higher quality items are liberalized appealing to higher income groups who then consume less of the subsidized foods

Tourism and Hospitality for Sustainable Development Emmanuel Ndhlovu, Kaitano Dube, Ngoni Courage Shereni, 2024-09-12 The tourism and hospitality industry in the 21st century cannot be adequately planned, executed, marketed, managed or studied without taking into account digital technology and its impact. The Fourth Industrial Revolution provides the framework for sustainable development in this sector. Technology not only increases profitability but also enables the industry to effectively respond to pressing global sustainability challenges such as pandemics, climate change, energy crises, staffing shortages and hyperinflation. Moreover, technology allows the industry to consider its current and future economic, social and environmental consequences, addressing the needs of tourists, the industry, the environment and destinations. However, implementing technology efficiently and ethically is a complex process and the opportunities, costs and challenges vary depending on the geopolitical and socio-economic context. The application of digitalisation and technological innovations have played a significant role in promoting universal design and reasonable accommodation for older adults and individuals with disabilities in both developed and developing countries. These advancements are crucial for the growth of accessible tourism and hospitality. This edited book aims to explore the trends, challenges and complexities of integrating digitalisation and technology into the tourism and hospitality industry. It also examines the strategic shifts that will shape future research in this area. The book provides a comprehensive overview of the current state of research, including theoretical insights, empirical evidence and evidence-based recommendations. It covers a range of technologies such as blockchain, robots, artificial intelligence, virtual reality, big data and analytics. The goal is to understand how these disruptive technologies are being used and their potential impact on various stakeholders as well as their future possibilities and limitations. Climate Change and Sustainable Development Goals Discourse in Rural and Tourism-Protected Areas Kaitano Dube, Ikechukwu O. Ezeuduji, Magdalena Petronella Swart, 2025-06-30 Despite its potential to unlock socio-economic benefits in rural and protected areas in a manner that addresses the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG), rural and protected areas tourism is yet to be thoroughly examined by academics, scholars, practitioners and policymakers. This lack of exploration has undermined the potential benefits associated with tourism development in rural and protected areas. Given the complexity of rural tourism, this contributed volume explores current and future debates on the subject using cases in Southern Africa. The book is useful for various audiences including tourism academics, planners, cultural and heritage practitioners and rural development planners. The topics covered include gender transformation, service delivery, visitor experience, wildlife tourism and host community tourism interaction. Private Sector Tourism in Conservation Areas in Africa Susan Snyman, Anna Spenceley, 2019-04-24 Using a rich set of detailed case studies, this volume furnishes the first comprehensive analysis of the role of the private sector in conservation areas. For researchers of tourism development studies and biodiversity conservation, this book is a new and important benchmark in African scholarship. Christian M. Rogerson, Research Professor, School of Tourism Hospitality, University of Johannesburg. This is an impressive book that will make an important contribution to the literature on private sector involvement in the delivery of tourism services in parks and protected areas in Africa Dr Paul F J Eagles Distinguished Professor Emeritus Department of Recreation and Leisure Studies University of Waterloo Tourism in Africa s protected and conserved areas involves partnerships and interactions between numerous stakeholders such as governments communities NGOs the private sector and academics Through the use of 32 comprehensive case studies from 11 African countries this book presents guidelines to ensure optimal benefits for stakeholders as well as promoting the sustainability of tourism in Africa It includes descriptions of the various models for the private sector to engage in tourism in conservation areas in Africa such as pure private sector ownership joint ventures tripartite agreements and government leases End to end coverage of the processes used to develop these partnerships is provided as well as best practices for the private sector engaging in tourism The book provides guidance on identifying the most suitable private sector tourism options based on guidelines of conditions and desired outcomes to promote the long term sustainability of African tourism in protected areas This book is recommended for academics students and practitioners working in sustainable tourism including community private sector and government stakeholders

Regarding Animals Arnold Arluke, Clinton

Sanders, Leslie Irvine, 2022-07 This book offers a critical update to the seminal text Regarding Animals It combines sociological analysis with ethnographic description to provide insight into the history and practice of how we as human beings construct animals and by extrapolation how we construct ourselves and others in relation to them

The Parks

Belong to the People Joe Weber, Selima Sultana, 2024-04 In examining the 424 units of the U S national park system geographers Joe Weber and Selima Sultana focus attention on the historical geography of the system as well as its present distribution covering the diversity of places under the control of the National Park Service NPS This includes the famous national parks such as the Grand Canyon Yellowstone and Yosemite and the lesser known national monuments memorials lakeshores seashores rivers recreation areas preserves reserves parkways historic sites historic parks and a range of battlefields as well as more than twenty additional sites not fitting into any of these categories such as the White House The geographic view of The Parks Belong to the People sets it apart from others that have taken a solely historical approach Where parks are located what they are near where their visitors come from and how land use and activities are organized within parks are some of the fundamental issues discussed The majority of units in the NPS are devoted to recreation areas or historic sites such as battlefields archaeological sites or sites devoted to a specific person and this is reflected in the authors approach What we think of as a national park has changed over the years and will continue to change Weber and Sultana emphasize changing social and political environments in which NPS units were created and the roles they serve such as protecting scenery providing wildlife habitats preserving history and serving as scientific laboratories and places for outdoor recreation The authors also focus on parks as public facilities and sites of economic activities National parks were created by people for people to enjoy at great cost and with great benefit They cannot be understood without taking this human context into account Living with Wildlife in Zimbabwe Joshua Matanzima, Beaven Utete, 2024-08-17 This book provides a critical analysis of the interactions of humans and wildlife in Zimbabwe. It does not only document conflicts but it also considers opportunities for co-existence that can result in the successful conservation practices within protected areas. The book offers empirically rich case studies from across different areas of Zimbabwe both urban and rural where people interact with animals both negatively and positively. Chapters in the book discuss these interactions through the different lenses including the contemporary politico-economic crises prevalent in Zimbabwe, the failures and successes of the CAMPFIRE programme and gender dynamics of conflicts. The book provides an update into the human-wildlife interactions situation in Zimbabwe. Data presented has policy implications within Zimbabwe and beyond. It contributes to different categories: policy and mitigation measures including HWC mitigation strategies as well as conservation policy. Beaven Utete and Joshua Matanzima have brought together a fascinating collection of papers on human-wildlife conflict and coexistence in Zimbabwe. The authors highlight the views, values and needs of people living with wildlife. Voices that are still too often ignored in conservation practice, policy and science. This is essential reading for anyone interested in decolonizing conservation and the future of wildlife in Africa. Professor Jan van der Ploeg, Professor Inclusive Conservation, Van Hall-Larenstein University of Applied Sciences, The Netherlands. This is a valuable collection from a country we should hear much more from in the field of human-wildlife interactions studies. In addition to providing interesting case studies and data from Zimbabwe to inform and inspire international conservation efforts, I hope it will galvanize national and local efforts to tackle the complex challenges ahead for biodiversity conservation in Zimbabwe. Professor Simon Pooley, IUCN SSC Specialist Group on Human-Wildlife Conflict and Coexistence.

Civil Engineering, 1997 Things Come Together Robert Rotberg, 2020-04-28 For decades Africa was falling apart. But now it is coming together and Africans are achieving greatness. Despite the advances though, the twenty-first century brings challenges to match each and every major opportunity. In Things Come Together, Robert Rotberg brings all of contemporary Africa into a single volume, extolling the successes and explaining the struggles. Rotberg is one of the world's foremost authorities on African politics and society and in this book he synthesizes his knowledge of the continent into a concise overview of the current state of Africa and where it is likely headed. To that end, Rotberg considers Africa's myriad peoples. The continent is currently experiencing explosive population growth and rapid urbanization. How well are African states managing this epochal shift? He looks at how Africa's nations are governed, ranging from states with autocratic kleptocrats to democratized regimes that have made progress in achieving economic growth and battling corruption. He then turns to African economies, looking at growth levels, productivity and persistent corruption. He concludes by filling in the picture, covering the effects of war, health care, wildlife management, varieties of religious belief, education, technology diffusion and the character of both city and village life in this ever-evolving region. Throughout this sweeping work, Rotberg deftly moves readers across the continent from Nigeria to South Africa, from Kenya to Senegal to name a few. While there are undeniable cross continental commonalities related to governance demographics and economic performance he shows the unique variations of who and what is African For anyone interested in reading a comprehensive yet pithy synthesis of a vast region possessing the world s fastest growing population this book is the ideal introduction Tourism and Borders Helmut Wachowiak,2016-02-24 Although globalization has led to increased cross border traffic there has been little examination of how crossing political boundaries affects tourism and vice versa Bringing together case studies from Europe the USA and Southern Africa this volume discusses current issues and policies destination management and communication and planning in cross border areas Topics studied include borders as tourist attractions and destinations in their own right as barriers to travel and the growth of tourism boundaries as links of transit and the growth of supranationalism The book concludes that the role of borders has changed dramatically in recent years Many more borders that have traditionally hosted large scale tourism are becoming more difficult to cross primarily because of safety and immigration concerns On the other hand places that were once forbidden to foreigners are now opening up and new destinations are becoming more commonplace

Protected Areas and Tourism in Southern Africa Lesego Senyana Stone,Moren Tibabo Stone,Patricia Kefilwe Mogomotsi,Goemeone E.J. Mogomotsi,2022-03-23 This volume discusses the complex relationship between Protected Areas and tourism and their impact on community livelihoods in a range of countries in Southern Africa Protected areas and tourism have an enduring and symbiotic relationship While protected areas offer a desirable setting for tourism products tourism provides revenue that can contribute to conservation efforts This can bring benefits to local communities but it can also have a negative impact with the establishment of protected areas leading to the eviction of local communities from their original places of residence while also preventing them from accessing the natural resources they once enjoyed Taking a multi disciplinary approach this book addresses the opportunities and challenges faced by communities and other stakeholders as they endeavour to achieve their conservation goals and work towards improving community livelihoods Case studies from Botswana Malawi Namibia South Africa Tanzania Zambia and Zimbabwe address key issues such as human wildlife conflicts ecotourism wildlife based tourism landscape governance wildlife crop raiding and trophy hunting including the high profile case of Cecil the lion Chapters highlight both the achievements and positive outcomes of protected areas but also the challenges faced and their impact on how protected areas are viewed and also conservation priorities more generally The volume gives these issues affecting protected areas local communities managers and international conservation efforts centre stage in order inform policy and improve practice going forward This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of conservation natural resource management tourism sustainable development and African studies as well as professionals and policymakers involved in conservation policy New Directions in South African Tourism Geographies Jayne M. Rogerson,Gustav Visser,2019-09-26 This book provides an overview of innovative and new directions being chartered in South African tourism geographies Within the context of global change the volume explores different facets and different geographies of tourism Key themes under scrutiny include the sharing economy the changing accommodation service sector touring poverty tourism and innovation tourism and climate change threats to sustainability inclusive tourism and a number of studies which challenge the present mindedness of much tourism geographical scholarship The 18 chapters range across urban and rural landscapes in South Africa with sectoral studies which include adventure tourism coastal tourism cruise tourism nature based tourism sports tourism and wine tourism Finally the volume raises a number of policy and planning issues in the global South in particular relating to sustainability local economic development and poverty reduction Outlining the impact of tourism expansion in South Africa and suggesting future research directions this stimulating book is a valuable resource for geographers as well as researchers and students in the field of tourism studies

The Future of Zimbabwe's Agrarian Sector Grasian Mkodzongi, 2022-06-24 This volume reflects on the recent political developments in Zimbabwe and their current and future impact on the agrarian sector Utilising new empirical data gathered across Zimbabwe the contributors shed light on the liberalisation of agricultural policy after Mugabe Chapters examine how the adoption of neo liberal orthodoxy in agrarian policy making will affect the new agrarian structure looking at issues such as productivity the impact on vulnerable groups changing land tenure arrangements joint ventures and land grabbing Providing a new way of conceptualising Zimbabwe's agrarian futures this book will be of interest to researchers NGOs and policymakers interested in the politics of land and agriculture in Zimbabwe and southern Africa Natural Resources, Tourism and Community Livelihoods in Southern Africa Moren T. Stone, Monkgogi Lenao, Naomi Moswete, 2019-11-19 This book examines the connections between natural resources tourism and community livelihood practices in Southern Africa highlighting the successes and constraints experienced over the last 50 years Questioning how natural resources tourism and community livelihoods relations can positively contribute towards development efforts this book adopts an interdisciplinary approach to understand socio ecological systems that characterize the dynamics for sustainable development It explores the history of conservation and natural resource management in Southern Africa and traces the development and growth of nature based tourism Boasting a wide range of tourism landscapes including national parks wetlands forests and oceans the book draws on case studies from a variety of Southern African countries including Botswana Namibia and South Africa and considers the political challenges for implementing policies and practices Furthermore it analyses broader issues such as the impact of climate change human wildlife co existence and resulting conflicts poor access to funding and poverty in local communities The book argues that the links between conservation and livelihoods can be best understood by considering the different approaches to reconciling the demands of conservation and livelihoods that have evolved over the past decades Containing contributions from natural and social sciences the book provides guidance for practitioners and policymakers to continue to shape policies and practices that are in line with the key tenets of sustainable development It will also be of great interest to students and scholars researching Southern Africa sustainable tourism and conservation Strategic
