River-Horse William Least Heat-Moon, 2018-06-01 New York Times bestseller A coast to coast journey by way of great rivers conducted by a contemporary master of travel writing Kirkus Reviews In this memoir brimming with history humor and wisdom the author of Blue Highways and PrairieEarth voyages across the country from Atlantic to Pacific almost entirely by its rivers lakes and canals in a small outboard powered boat San Francisco Chronicle Setting off from New York Harbor aboard the boat he named Nikawa river horse in Osage in hopes of entering the Pacific near Astoria Oregon William Least Heat Moon and his companion Pilotis struggle to cover some five thousand watery miles more than any other cross country river traveler has ever managed often following in the wakes of our most famous explorers from Henry Hudson to Lewis and Clark En route the voyagers confront massive floods submerged rocks dangerous weather and their own doubts about whether they can complete the trip But the hard days yield incomparable pleasures strangers generous with help and eccentric tales landscapes unchanged since Sacagawea saw them riverscapes flowing with a lively past and the growing belief that efforts to protect our lands and waters are beginning to pay off Fizzes with intelligence and high spirits Outside Propels the reader with historical vignettes ecological and geological detail and often hilarious encounters with local eccentrics Time

Ecospatiality Lowell Wyse, 2021-07-15 John Steinbeck s Salinas Valley Richard Wright s Chicago Leslie Marmon Silko s New Mexico Readers often have strong connections with literary places like these And some works of literature can even change our understanding of the world we live in But can place also change our view of literature Site Reading advances a place based approach to literature reading classic texts through the twin lenses of geographical awareness and environmental thought This book highlights recent developments in ecocriticism and geocriticism to argue for a theory of ecospatiality with nature space and story as the three elements of place Site Reading reconsiders well known works of twentieth century American prose and shows how social and environmental issues always overlap Travel writer William Least Heat Moon whose work embodies the ecospatial perspective portrays his experiences with place on the local regional and continental scales Classic novels by Silko Willa Cather and Ana Castillo usually discussed in isolation converge in a way that maps diverse cultural perspectives and environmental threats onto the shared geography of Central New Mexico A reading of Steinbeck s Salinas Valley Watershed texts investigates the impacts of literary tourism in Steinbeck Country before drilling down into Steinbeck s portrayals of spatial development and environmental history And an innovative analysis of Native Son shows how Richard Wright uses cartographic details to decry the spatial racial politics of South Side Chicago in the 1930s In this book Lowell Wyse shows how place provides the grounds for both human experience and critical practice By bringing together concepts like literary cartography deep mapping and bioregionalism in an ecospatial approach Site Reading not only maps new terrain between ecocriticism and geocriticism but also shows why place matters in the world and in the text is a literary exploration of the city's past and present. In over eighty selections Portland is revealed through histories, memoirs, autobiographies, short stories, novels, and news reports. This single volume gives voice to women and men, the colonizers and the colonized, white, Hispanic, African American, Asian American, and Indian storytellers, and lower middle and upper classes. In his introduction John Trombold considers the history of writing about a place that has nourished a provocative and errant literary tradition for over 150 years. In the preface Peter Donahue considers the influence of region, particularly Portland's urbanity and its hybrid population, on literature. Included here are the voices of Carl Abbott, Kathryn Hall Bogle, Beverly Cleary, Robin Cody, Lawson Fusao Inada, Rudyard Kipling, Ursula K. Le Guin, Joaquin Miller, Sandy Polishuk, Gary Snyder, Kim Stafford, Elizabeth Woody, and many more.

Going Places Robert Burgin, 2013-01-08. Successfully navigate the rich world of travel narratives and identify fiction and nonfiction read-alikes with this detailed and expertly constructed guide. Just as savvy travelers make use of guidebooks to help navigate the hundreds of countries around the globe, smart librarians need a guidebook that makes sense of the world of travel narratives. Going Places: A Reader's Guide to Travel Narratives meets that demand, helping librarians assist patrons in finding the nonfiction books that most interest them. It will also serve to help users better understand the genre and their own reading interests. The book examines the subgenres of the travel narrative genre in its seven chapters, categorizing and describing approximately 600 titles according to genres and broad reading interests, and identifying hundreds of other fiction and nonfiction titles as read-alikes and related reads by shared key topics. The author has also identified award-winning titles and spotlighted further resources on travel lit, making this work an ideal guide for readers, advisors, as well as a book general readers will enjoy browsing.

A Companion to the American West William Deverell, 2008-04-15. A Companion to the American West is a rigorous, illuminating introduction to the history of the American West. Twenty-five essays by expert scholars synthesize the best and most provocative work in the field and provide a comprehensive overview of themes and historiography. Covers the culture, politics, and environment of the American West through periods of migration, settlement, and modernization. Discusses Native Americans and their conflicts and integration with American settlers.

Writing BLUE HIGHWAYS William Least Heat-Moon, 2014-05-13. Winner, Distinguished Literary Achievement, Missouri Humanities Council, 2015. The story behind the writing of the best-selling Blue Highways is as fascinating as the epic trip itself. More than thirty years after his 14,000-mile, 38-state journey, William Least Heat-Moon reflects on the four years he spent capturing the lessons of the road trip on paper, the stops and starts in his composition process, the numerous drafts and painstaking revisions, the depressing string of rejections by publishers, the strains on his personal relationships, and many other aspects of the toil that went into writing his first book. Along the way, he traces the hard lessons learned and offers guidance to aspiring and experienced writers alike. Far from being a technical manual, Writing Blue Highways: The Story of How a Book Happened is an adventure story of its own, a journey of exploration into the myriad routes of heart and mind that led to the making of a book from the first, sorry, and now vanished paragraph to the last.

words that came not from a graphite pencil but from a letterpress in Tennessee Readers will not find a collection of abstract formulations and rules for writing rather this book gracefully incorporates examples from Heat Moon's own experience As he explains This story might be termed an inadvertent autobiography written not by the traveler who took Ghost Dancing in 1978 over the byroads of America but by a man only listening to him That blue roadman hasn't been seen in more than a third of a century and over the last many weeks as I sketched in these pages I've regretted his inevitable departure Filtered as the struggles of the blue roadman are through the awareness of someone more than thirty years older with a half dozen subsequent books to his credit the story of how his first book happened is all the more resonant for readers who may not themselves be writers but who are interested in the tricky balance of intuitive creation and self discipline required for any artistic endeavor

An Osage Journey to Europe, 1827-1830, 2013-11-18 In 1827 six Osage people four men and two women traveled to Europe escorted by three Americans Their visit was big news in France where three short publications about the travelers appeared almost immediately Virtually lost since the 1830s all three accounts are gathered translated and annotated here for the first time in English Among the earliest writings devoted to Osage history and culture these works provide unique insights into Osage life and especially into European perceptions of American Indians William Least Heat Moon's introduction poignantly tells of people leaving one alien nation the United States to visit an even more alien culture an ocean away In France the Osages found themselves lionized as noble savages They went to the theater rode in a hot air balloon and even had an audience with the king of France Many Europeans ogled them as if they were exhibits in a freak show As the entourage moved through Belgium Holland Germany Switzerland and Italy interest in the Osages declined Soon they were reduced to begging in the suburbs of Paris without the means to return home Translated by Heat Moon and James K Wallace the three featured texts are surprisingly accurate as basic descriptions of Osage history geography and lifeways The French authors influenced by racist and sexist expectations misinterpreted some of the behaviors they describe But they also dismiss rumors of cannibalism among the Osages and observe that the behavior of some whites was not conducive to giving the Indians a favorable opinion of white morality An Osage Journey to Europe 1827 1839 offers scholars and general readers both a compelling story and a singular glimpse into nineteenth century cultural exchange
