paintings she began to make in 1961 under the Op Art banner Disseminated through the mass media and widely plagiarized by the fashion industry these came to epitomise an era Since then she has remained at the forefront of developments in contemporary painting making highly distinctive works which seek to articulate an abstract language in which relations of colour and form generate visual sensations includes key examples of all phases of her work It accompanies the exhibition held at Tate Britain Summer 2003 Bridget Riley Bridget Riley, Robert Kudielka, Kunsthalle Nürnberg, 1992 Bridget Riley: Dialogues on Art Robert Kudielka, 2019-10-22 Op art pioneer Bridget Riley in conversation with some of the world s leading art historians and artists from Ernst Gombrich to Michael Craig Martin On the occasion of a major exhibition of

Bridget Riley's born 1931 work at the Hayward Gallery London in 1992 BBC Radio broadcast an illuminating series of five dialogues each one between Riley and a well known personality from the art world These talks are collected in this volume expertly edited by the art historian Robert Kudiela With Neil MacGregor art historian and former director of the British Museum Bridget Riley discusses the art of the past in relation to the present with the celebrated art historian and theorist Ernst Gombrich she explores the perception of color in painting with the artist Michael Craig Martin she addresses the theory and practice of abstraction and with the critics Bryan Robertson and Andrew Graham Dixon she talks about the events and travels that have shaped her life as an artist The publication of this newly revised edition coincides with Bridget Riley's 2019/20 retrospective exhibition at the National Galleries of Scotland and the Hayward Gallery London

Bridget Riley: The Stripe Paintings 1961-2014 Bridget Riley, 2014-10-31 Published on the occasion of Bridget Riley's major exhibition at David Zwirner in London in the summer of 2014 this fully illustrated catalogue offers intimate explorations of paintings and works on paper produced by the legendary British artist over the past fifty years focusing specifically on her recurrent use of the stripe motif Riley has devoted her practice to actively engaging viewers through elementary shapes such as lines circles curves and squares creating visual experiences that at times trigger optical sensations of vibration and movement The London show her most extensive presentation in the city since her 2003 retrospective at Tate Britain explored the stunning visual variety she has managed to achieve working exclusively with stripes manipulating the surfaces of her vibrant canvases through subtle changes in hue weight rhythm and density As noted by Paul Moorhouse Throughout her development Riley has drawn confirmation from Eugène Delacroix's observation that the first merit of a painting is to be a feast for the eyes Her most recent stripe paintings are a striking reaffirmation of that principle exciting and entrancing the eye in equal measure Created in close collaboration with the artist the publication's beautifully produced color plates offer a selection of the iconic works from the exhibition These include the artist's first stripe works in color from the 1960s a series of vertical compositions from the 1980s that demonstrate her so called Egyptian palette a narrow chromatic range that recalled natural phenomena and an array of her modestly scaled studies executed with gouache on graph paper and rarely before seen A range of texts about Riley's original and enduring practice grounds and contextualizes the images including new scholarship by art historian Richard Shiff texts on both the artist's wall paintings and newest body of work by Paul Moorhouse 20th Century Curator at the National Portrait Gallery in London and a 1978 interview with Robert Kudiela her longtime confidant and foremost critic Additionally the book features little seen archival imagery of Riley at work over the years documentation of her recent commissions for St Mary's Hospital in West London taken especially for this publication and installation views of the exhibition itself installed throughout the three floors of the gallery's eighteenth century Georgian townhouse located in the heart of Mayfair

Circles Colour Structure Studies 1970 71 at Karsten Schubert in London November 2008 January 2009 Here a series of 22 goauches are shown for the first time In this publication the studies are accompanied by an interview between the artist and Robert Kudielka from 1972 just following the creation of these works The studies I make have different purposes At the beginning I try to be as unselective as possible to allow things to happen later gradually tightening up until all aspects have been drawn together I proceed by trial and error exploring and slowly establishing a particular situation Obviously many studies will be discarded en route to a painting though they may still be interesting as visual statements Bridget Riley 1972
