Robert Louis Stevenson France:

Robert Louis Stevenson and France Charles Sarolea, 1924 In the Track of Robert Louis Stevenson and Elsewhere in Old France John Alexander Hammerton, 2020-09-28 The mountainous district of France to which somewhat loosely Stevenson applies the name Cevennes lies along the western confines of Provence and overlaps on several departments chief of which are Ard che Loz re Gard and Herault In many parts the villages and the people have far less in common with France and the French than Normandy and the Normans have with provincial England Here in these mountain fastnesses and sheltered valleys the course of life has flowed along almost changeless for centuries and here too we shall find much that is best in the romantic history and natural grandeur of France Remote from Paris and happily without the area of the cheap trip organisers it is likely to remain for ever off the beaten track In order to visit the Cevennes proper the beautiful town of Mende would be the best starting place But since my purpose was to strike the trail of R L S after some wanderings awheel northward of Clermont Ferrand I approached the district from Le Puy a town which so excellent a judge as Mr Joseph Pennell has voted the most picturesque in Europe Besides Stevenson himself had often wandered through its quaint unusual streets while preparing for his memorable journey with immortal Modestine I decided on a sleeping sack he says and after repeated visits to Le Puy and a deal of high living for myself and my advisers a sleeping sack was designed constructed and triumphantly brought home At that time the wanderer s home was in the mountain town of Le Monastier some fifteen miles south east of Le Puy and there in the autumn of 1877 he spent about a month of fine days variously occupied in completing his New Arabian Nights and Picturesque Notes on Edinburgh and conducting with no little personal and general entertainment the preliminaries of his projected journey through the Cevennes Robert Louis Stevenson & France Louis Stott, 1994-01-01 The Robert Louis Stevenson Trail Alan Castle, 2007 In the Track of R. L. Stevenson and Elsewhere in Old France J. A. Hammerton, 2022-08-10 J A Hammerton s In the Track of R L Stevenson and Elsewhere in Old France offers an evocative exploration of Gallic lands through the lens of leisurely travel reminiscent of Robert Louis Stevenson s own wanderings The narrative s rich tapestry weaves together historical context personal anecdotes and vivid descriptions inviting readers to experience the allure of France s lesser known landscapes Hammerton s prose marked by an Edwardian elegance echoes the literary traditions of the time yet maintains a freshness that captures the timeless beauty of rural France His journey predicated on Stevenson s earlier travels resonates with the wider Romantic movement s fascination with nature history and the pursuit of the picturesque John Alexander Hammerton was an erudite British editor and author whose oeuvre largely centers on geography history and literature His decision to follow Stevenson s route may have been motivated by a personal affinity for Stevenson s work and a shared penchant for the idyllic and the adventurous that emerges so clearly in this travelogue Hammerton s own experiences and erudition enhance the narrative offering insights not only into the landscapes he traverses but also into the intellectual and cultural undercurrents of the early 20th century Readers with an appetite for vicarious travel and historical insight will find In the Track of R L Stevenson and Elsewhere in Old France a delightful companion Hammerton s meticulous attention to detail and his skillful interplay of the personal and the historical invite a contemplative journey through time and space making this book an enriching read for both admirers of Stevenson and enthusiasts of French culture and history Travels with a Donkey in the Cevennes Robert Louis Stevenson,2022-09-20 Reproduction of the original Travels with a Donkey in the Cévennes Robert Louis Stevenson,1879 In the Track of Robert Louis Stevenson and Elsewhere in Old France J. Hill,2017-02-03 In his travel narrative Travels with a Donkey in the Cevennes 1879 Robert Louis Stevenson declares I travel not to go anywhere but to go I travel for travel s sake The great affair is to move Taking up the concepts of time place and memory the contributors to this collection explore in what ways the dynamic view of life suggested by this quotation permeates Stevenson s work The essays adopt a wide variety of critical approaches including post colonial theory post structuralism new historicism art history and philosophy making use of the vast array of literary materials that Stevenson left across a global journey that began in Scotland in 1850 and ended in Samoa in 1894 These range from travel journals letters and classic literary staples such as Treasure Island and The Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde to rarely read masterpieces such as The Master of Ballantrae or The Ebb Tide While much recent scholarship on Stevenson foregrounds geography the present volume also examines the theme of movement across memory time and generic boundaries Taken together the essays offer a view of Stevenson that demonstrates how the protean nature of his literary output reflects the radical developments in science technology and culture that characterized the age in which he lived

The Cevennes Journal Robert Louis Stevenson, 2014-07-03 For my part I travel not to go anywhere but to go I travel for travel s sake The great affair is to move RLS In September 1878 Robert Louis Stevenson travelled by donkey through the Cevennes region of France For personal memory and as it happens for literary posterity the young Stevenson recorded copious notes on his journey as he travelled Some of these witty and incisive impressions were subsequently published in Travels With A Donkey The remainder however didn t find its way into print until the first publication of The Cevennes Journal in 1978 one hundred years later This travelogue which also includes several of Stevenson s previously unpublished sketches of the region provides both a unique socio historical document and an important piece of literature A Mountain Town in France Robert Louis Stevenson, 1897 Travels with a Donkey Robert Louis Stevenson, 2001-08 Originally published Boston Roberts Bros 1879 Travels with a Donkey in the Cevennes Robert Louis Stevenson, 2015-02-13 In a little place called Le Monastier in a pleasant highland valley fifteen miles from Le Puy I spent about a month of fine days Monastier is notable for the making of lace for drunkenness for freedom of language and for unparalleled political dissension There are adherents of each of the four French parties Legitimists Orleanists Imperialists and Republicans in this little mountain town and they all hate loathe decry and calumniate each other Except for business purposes or to give each other the lie in a tavern brawl they have laid aside even the civility of speech Tis a mere mountain Poland In the midst of this Babylon I found myself a rallying point every one was anxious to be kind and helpful to the stranger This was not merely from the natural hospitality of mountain people nor even from the surprise with which I was regarded as a man living of his own free will in Le Monastier when he might just as well have lived anywhere else in this big world it arose a good deal from my projected excursion southward through the Cevennes A traveller of my sort was a thing hitherto unheard of in that district I was looked upon with contempt like a man who should project a journey to the moon but yet with a respectful interest like one setting forth for the inclement Pole All were ready to help in my preparations a crowd of sympathisers supported me at the critical moment of a bargain not a step was taken but was heralded by glasses round and celebrated by a dinner or a breakfast
