Robert Vickerys Nun Paintings:

American Realist Painting, 1945-1980 John Lawrence Ward, 1989 Robert Vickrey Philip Eliasoph, Robert Vickrey, 2008

Robert Vickrey's unique vision and meticulous painstaking technique have sustained him throughout a sixty year career. He is widely considered to be a living master of using egg tempera, the same labor intensive medium used by Renaissance painters including Giotto and Cennini. But Vickrey's concerns are distinctly twentieth century in the subjects and themes he has chosen from childhood innocence to the dichotomy of urban versus country living. A quintessential Realist, Vickrey endeavored to explore the human condition within a distinctively American environment. Writes author Philip Eliasoph whose essay argues that Vickrey's work builds a bridge from Surrealism and New Objectivity to Magic Realism. Described by the New York Times as the world's most proficient craftsman in tempera painting and an immaculate technician, Vickrey's oeuvre is the fiercely independent work of one of its most unorthodox and even most daring inventors according to Eliasoph.

AUTHOR Philip Eliasoph is a professor of art history at Fairfield University, Virginia M. Mecklenburg is Senior Curator of the Smithsonian American Art Museum in Washington D.C.

SELLING POINTS A comprehensive survey of the 60 year career of a master of tempera painting, an artist who has been included in nine Whitney Museum of American Art Annual Exhibitions. 80 color plates show off the brilliant light infused compositions of Vickrey's paintings. Includes scholarly essays placing Vickrey in the context of the twentieth century American art. 128 colour 43 b/w illustrations.

Arts Digest, 1959 George Stubbs, Painter Judy Egerton, George Stubbs, 2007-01-01

George Stubbs is one of the greatest of British eighteenth century painters with a deep and unaffected sympathy for country life and the English countryside. This fully illustrated book outlines his career followed by a catalogue raisonné, the first since Sir Walter Gilbey's short listing of 1898 of all his known works. One of the stickiest labels in the history of British art attached itself to Stubbs as Mr Stubbs the horse painter. Over half of his paintings were of horses, each founded on the pioneering observations assembled in 1766 in his book The Anatomy of the Horse. But Stubbs's wide ranging subjects included portraits, conversation pieces and paintings of exotic animals from the Zebra to the Rhinoceros as well as an extraordinarily sympathetic series of portraits of dogs.
