Directory of Programs Serving Families of Adult Offenders (2001) James W. Mustin, Donna D'Arville, Family and Corrections Network, National Institute of Corrections (U.S.), 2001 Children with Parents in Prison Creasie Hairston, 2017-09-04 Adults are being incarcerated in the United States at an ever escalating rate and child welfare professionals are encountering growing numbers of children who have parents in prison Current estimates indicate that as many as 15 million children have an incarcerated parent many thousands of others have experienced the incarceration of a parent at some point in their lives These vulnerable children face unique difficulties and their growing numbers and special needs demand attention Existing literature indicates that children whose parents are incarcerated experience a variety of negative consequences particularly in terms of their emotional health and well being They also may have difficult interactions or limited contact with their parents There are also issues connected with their physical care and child custody The many challenges facing the child welfare system as it attempts to work with this population are explored in Children with Parents in Prison Topics covered include Supporting Families and Children of Mothers in Jail Meeting the Challenge of Permanency Planning for Children with Incarcerated Mothers The Impact of Changing Public Policy on Relatives Caring for Children with Incarcerated Parents Legal Issues and Recommendations Facilitating Parent Child Contact in Correctional Settings Earning Trust from Youths with None to Spare Developing Quality Services for Offenders and Families and in closing Understanding the Forces that Influence Incarcerated Fathers Relationships with Their Children Children and families have long struggled with the difficulties created when a parent goes to prison What is new is the magnitude of the problem This volume calls for increased public awareness of the impact of parental incarceration on children Its goal is to stimulate discussion about how to best meet the special needs of these children and families and how to provide a resource for the child welfare community as it responds to Doing Time Together Megan Comfort, 2009-05-15 By quadrupling the number of people behind bars in two decades the United States has become the world leader in incarceration Much has been written on the men who make up the vast majority of the nation's two million inmates But what of the women they leave behind Doing Time Together vividly details the ways that prisons shape and infiltrate the lives of women with husbands fiancés and boyfriends on the inside Megan Comfort spent years getting to know women visiting men at San Quentin State Prison observing how their romantic relationships drew them into contact with the penitentiary Tangling with the prison's intrusive scrutiny and rigid rules turns

these women into quasi inmates eroding the boundary between home and prison and altering their sense of intimacy love and justice Yet Comfort also finds that with social welfare weakened prisons are the most powerful public institutions available to women struggling to overcome untreated social ills and sustain relationships with marginalized men As a result they express great ambivalence about the prison and the control it exerts over their daily lives An illuminating analysis of women caught in the shadow of America s massive prison system Comfort s book will be essential for anyone concerned with the consequences of our punitive culture Working Together for Peace and Justice in the 21st Century : Summary of
