Seven Shades Of Memory Stories Of Old Iran:

Seven Shades of Memory Terence O'Donnell, 2006-09 Terence O'Donnell lived in Iran from 1957-71 operating a farm from 1963-70 before returning to America. Seven Shades of Memory is his first collection of short stories. The stories share the theme of cultural collision either as East meets West or as members of different cultures within Iran tentatively interact. These stories show his prescient understanding of the multifaceted nuances of Persian culture and the Westerners who attempt to navigate through it. In The Tree and The Pool an American Consul's desire for a swimming pool sets off a chain reaction of cross-cultural misunderstanding. The title characters in The Prince and The Backer live next to one another but inhabit separate social strata. One day they are brought together and a subtle friendship blossoms. The Women and The Ladies is a short vignette about two American women tourists whose conversation with a waiter reveals the cultural milieus in which each side lives. The Holy Men of Isfahan brings together Muslims, Jews, and Christians in a conversation sorrowfully underscoring how religion separates despite the best of intentions. A wealthy Norwegian family vacations in an unfashionable part of Iran in The Duck Hunt. In The Stone of Love a man takes his holiday in a hotel on the shores of the Caspian Sea where one evening he has a surreal vision of a unique jewel. Finally Mrs Cahn is an elderly American philanthropist on a museum tour of Iran. From a bench she takes small pleasures in her surroundings and the local tribespeople who gather around her. Touched by their hospitality and respect, she is able to find peace at last.

History of Paper in Iran, 1501-1925 Willem Floor, Amélie Courvat Desvergnés, 2022-10-04 The Chinese invented papermaking which by the 8th century had reached the Muslim world in Samarkand and Baghdad and Spain by the 11th century. Much later at the end of the 18th century onwards modern industrial papermaking was developed by the Europeans. The History of Paper in Iran 1501 to 1925 sets out for the reader the types of paper made in Iran during the Safavid and Qajar periods and the crucial role imported paper played in the country. The Iranian government attempted to introduce modern European paper production technology first by sending students abroad to learn about this technology and then by purchasing equipment to set up a paper industry. However during the 19th century domestic Iranian paper production came under increasing pressure from paper imports and the government abandoned its efforts to modernize the domestic paper industry. The renowned scholar Willem Floor in collaboration with Amélie Courvat Desvergnés, a museum conservator of artworks on paper and books, identify and illustrate the watermarks and/or countermarks of the various paper producers and provide examples of the diversity of quality, composition, and nature of the different types of paper used by various strata of the Iranian society. Also provided are detailed import data showing which country exported paper to Iran via which routes as well as their changing market position over time. Finally the various end uses of paper from books and farmans to paintings and diverse packing and utilitarian paper are examined and where possible quantified data are presented. This book will reward scholars and general readers alike.

Tribeswomen of Iran Julia Huang, 2014-09-19 Since the revolution in 1979 the Islamic Republic of Iran has permitted very few Western scholars to conduct research in the country. Foreign travellers and media persons have limited access and much Iranian scholarship tends to focus on the realms of politics and government. Here Julia Huang provides a remarkable account of local tribal Iranian life offering a rare glimpse into the daily rhythms and social richness beyond the capital city of Tehran. The Qashqa'i are a confederation of nomadic tribes of which the Qermezi Red Ones are one migrating semiannually between winter pastures near the Persian Gulf and summer pastures southwest of the city of Isfahan. Huang has visited and traveled with the Qermezi for extended periods across fourteen years. Drawing on her experiences, participation and observation, she offers an intimate window onto their life. She focuses on a small group of women spanning four generations who are part of a large extended family and describes their ways of life, their activities and interactions, and their distinctive sociocultural and ecological setting. Like other nomadic peoples around the world, the Qashqa'i increasingly face pressures that threaten their livelihoods, lifestyles, and culture. Huang shows us how women negotiate compromises between customary tribal values and external influences and sketches their efforts to resist the influences of an Islamizing, modernizing, and centralizing government. With shadows and resonances that rebound across the stories of these women, Huang is able to present multiple perspectives on events and contentious issues, for instance, the politicized issue of women's state-mandated modest dress. Huang also explains how the Turkic-speaking Qashqa'i relate to the wider Iranian society and the Islamic Republic of Iran, adapting to a rapidly changing world while retaining tribal values and a distinctive ethnolinguistic identity as one of Iran's national minorities. In describing life at the local level in Iran, Huang depicts a community largely beyond the scope and reach of foreign travellers and the Western media. With rich ethnographic description and analysis, intimate portraits of the private lives and spaces of women and children, and diverse perspectives, this engagingly written account documents a disappearing way of life. Tribeswomen of Iran is essential reading for all those interested in Iran, the Middle East, anthropology, nomadism, and gender.

Transportation & Technology in Iran, 1800-1940: : Chapar, Carts, Carriages, Automobiles, Bicycles, Motor Cycles, Lodgings, Sewing Machines, Typewriters & Pianos Willem Floor, 2023-08-21. Only 100 years ago the main means of transportation in Iran was by quadruped. Transportation. All these processes are detailed in the book. Like cars, bicycles, and motorcycles, also were increasingly used as of the 1920s, thus increasing choice in people's mobility. More road traffic also implied that travelers needed places to spend the night and eat. The change from caravanserais to guest houses and hotels is discussed in part 3. These changes in transportation methods did not come alone; for other modern tools of change, such as the sewing machine and the typewriter, also made their appearance and had a major impact on people's availability and use of time. Finally, the piano made its entry onto the Iranian musical scene, and although not perfectly in tune with the traditional Iranian musical system, it is now as much part of music making in Iran as the tar and santur. Part 4 of the book. All these changes and new technologies did not happen overnight or without problems, and slow adoption initially was limited to the upper class. However, with falling prices and changing needs, and policies these new technologies eventually reached a larger public and the idea that they once were exotic and out of reach is now inconceivable to Iranians The studies in this book provide a new vantage point and understanding of the transfer of modern technology for scholars of the social economic and cultural history of the Middle East An Encounter with Dylan Thomas Ebrahim Golestan, 2022-09-27 Abadan 1951 Iran and Britain are bracing for battle over the continued British monopoly of Iran's oil Twenty nine year old Ebrahim Golestan who was to become a towering figure in Iranian cinema and literature encounters Dylan Thomas the famous Welsh poet who died two years later at the age of thirty nine from bronchial disease and pneumonia More for his celebrity than an intimate knowledge of the subject Thomas had been sent to Iran by the Anglo Iranian Oil Company to write a script for a propaganda film about the company's supposedly salutary role in the country But for a few hours Golestan and Thomas pause amidst the escalating standoff between their two countries and speak candidly about poetry history philosophy and the perils of translation Published here for the first time is the English translation with facing pages in the original Persian of Golestan's unflinching portrayal of that encounter revealing all too clearly how unsuited Thomas was for the task in hand Accompanying the translation is an account of Thomas's time in Iran written by Abbas Milani Director of the Iranian Studies Program at Stanford University together with Alina Utrata a Ph D candidate and Gates Cambridge scholar Based on the poet's letters journals and archival material in England and Wales it helps to shed further light on an episode long shrouded in mystery and plagued by controversy Publication of this book coincides with the hundredth birthday in October 2022 of Ebrahim Golestan To mark the occasion Professor Milani has included a personal and erudite introductory essay on Golestan's life and work examining his pioneering approach to film and his important contribution to Iranian literature despite living in exile for most of his adult life With a filmography and selected bibliography of the works by or about Golestan this multifaceted volume offers not only a striking commentary on Iranian arts politics and history set against the tense backdrop of the impending geopolitical clash between Britain and Iran but also a commemoration of the work of one of the most eminent and influential representatives of Iranian culture in modern times Nomads in Postrevolutionary Iran Lois Beck, 2014-09-19 Examining the rapid transition in Iran from a modernizing westernizing secularizing monarchy 1941-79 to a hard line conservative clergy run Islamic republic 1979 this book focuses on the ways this process has impacted the Qashqa'i a rural nomadic tribally organized Turkish speaking ethnic minority of a million and a half people who are dispersed across the southern Zagros Mountains Analysing the relationship between the tribal polity and each of the two regimes the book goes on to explain the resilience of the people's tribal organizations kinship networks and politicized ethnolinguistic identities to demonstrate how these structures and ideologies offered the Qashqa'i a way to confront the pressures emanating from the two central governments Existing scholarly works on politics in Iran rarely consider Iranian society outside the capital of Tehran and beyond the reach of the details of national politics Local level studies on Iran accounts of the ways people actually lived are now rare especially after the revolution

Based on long term anthropological research Nomads in Postrevolutionary Iran provides a unique insight into how national level issues relate to the local level and will be of interest to scholars and researchers in Anthropology Iranian Studies and Middle Eastern Studies      Searching for Hassan Terence Ward, 2022-03-22 Growing up in Tehran in the 1960s Terence Ward and his brothers were watched over by Hassan the family's cook housekeeper and cultural guide After an absence of forty years and much tumult in Iran Ward embarked on a pilgrimage with his family in search of Hassan Taking us across the landscape of Iran he interweaves its incredibly rich past and explores its deep conflicts with its Arab neighbors and our current administration Insightful moving and timely Searching for Hassan puts a human face on the long suffering people of the Middle East with this story of a American family who came to love and admire Iran through their deep affection for its people      Qeshm: The History A Persian Gulf Island Floor Willem, Potts D.T., 2024-11-21 Located in the Straits of Hormuz the island of Qeshm has had a tumultuous history Qeshm The History of a Persian Gulf Island is the first serious book length study of the island's history From the fourteenth century onward the island was an important dependency of the Kingdom of Hormuz often providing drinking water to Hormuz The island remained critical as a source of water and foodstuffs for the Portuguese beginning in the early sixteenth century Throughout the seventeenth century Qeshm remained a bone of contention between Portugal the Dutch and the English East India Companies Later it was a coveted tile in the mosaic of Persian Gulf domination aspired to by the Sultans of Oman despite the pretensions of the Qajar court The natural resources of Qeshm include salt the purest in the Persian Gulf naphtha and firewood From Nader Shah's naval ambitions to the commercial competition of the early twentieth century Qeshm features in innumerable mini crises both local and international In 1935 the British abandoned their coaling station on the island at the insistence of Reza Shah Qeshm's history stands in stark contrast to the popular image of this staid somewhat sleepy island This book brilliantly researched by two of the foremost scholars of Iranian history is essential reading for anyone interested in a region whose strategic political economic and financial importance continues to grow      The Routledge Handbook of Language and Emotion Sonya Pritzker, Janina Fenigsen, James Wilce, 2019-12-06 The Routledge Handbook of Language and Emotion offers a variety of critical theoretical and methodological perspectives that interrogate the ways in which ideas about and experiences of emotion are shaped by linguistic encounters and vice versa Taking an interdisciplinary approach which incorporates disciplines such as linguistic anthropology sociolinguistics applied linguistics psychology communication studies education sociology folklore religious studies and literature this book explores and illustrates the relationship between language and emotion in the five key areas of language socialisation culture translation and transformation poetry pragmatics and power the affective body self and emotion communities situates our present day thinking about language and emotion by providing a historical and cultural overview of distinctions and moral values that have traditionally dominated Western thought relating to emotions and their management provides a unique insight into the multiple ways in which language incites emotion and Iranian community in Israel is also examined providing an intimate picture of Iranian life in Israel nearly 75 years after Israel's establishment. A natural addition to any collection on Jewish or Israeli history and essential reading for a full understanding of Iran-Israel relations, enthusiasts of Israeli nation building and affairs as well as Iranian history, demographics and politics will find this book invaluable.

The Color Black Beeta Baghoolizadeh, 2024-02-23 Beeta Baghoolizadeh examines the twin processes of enslavement and erasure of Black people in Iran during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, showing how following the abolition of slavery in 1929, Iranian society collectively forgot and ignored its history of racism and slavery.

Prozak Diaries Orkideh Behrouzan, 2016-10-26 Prozak Diaries is an analysis of emerging psychiatric discourses in post-1980s Iran. It examines a cultural shift in how people interpret and express their feeling states by adopting the language of psychiatry and shows how experiences that were once articulated in the richly layered poetics of the Persian language became by the 1990s part of a clinical discourse on mood and affect. In asking how psychiatric dialect becomes a language of everyday, the book analyzes cultural forms created by this clinical discourse, exploring individual, professional, and generational cultures of medicalization in various sites from clinical encounters and psychiatric training to intimate interviews, works of art and media, and Persian blogs. Through the lens of psychiatry, the book reveals how historical experiences are negotiated and how generations are formed. Orkideh Behrouzan traces the historical circumstances that prompted the development of psychiatric discourses in Iran and reveals the ways in which they both reflect and actively shape Iranians' cultural sensibilities. A physician and an anthropologist, she combines clinical and anthropological perspectives in order to investigate the gray areas between memory and everyday life between individual symptoms and generational remembering. Prozak Diaries offers an exploration of language as experience. In interpreting clinical and generational narratives, Behrouzan writes not only a history of psychiatry in contemporary Iran but a story of how stories are told.

Iranian Short Story Authors John Green, 1989 Soul Andrey Platonov, 2007-12-04 A New York Review Books Original. The Soviet writer Andrey Platonov saw much of his work suppressed or censored in his lifetime. In recent decades, however, these lost works have reemerged, and the eerie poetry and poignant humanity of Platonov's vision have become ever more clear. For Nadezhda Mandelstam and Joseph Brodsky, Platonov was the writer who most profoundly registered the spiritual shock of revolution. For a new generation of innovative post-Soviet Russian writers, he figures as a daring explorer of word and world, the master of what has been called alternative realism. Depicting a devastated world that is both terrifying and sublime, Platonov is without doubt a universal writer who is as solitary and haunting as Kafka. This volume gathers eight works that show Platonov at his tenderest, warmest, and subtlest. Among them are The Return, about an officer's difficult homecoming at the end of World War II, described by Penelope Fitzgerald as one of three great works of Russian literature of the millennium; The River Potudan, a moving account of a troubled marriage; and the title novella, the extraordinary tale of a young man unexpectedly transformed by his return to his Asian birthplace, where he finds his people deprived not only of food and dwelling but of memory and speech This prizewinning English translation is the first to be based on the newly available uncensored texts of Platonov's short fiction
