Sex In Development Science Sexuality And Morality In Global Perspective:

Sex in Development Stacy Leigh Pigg, Vincanne Adams, 2005-05-03 Ethnographic studies of the role of sexuality and gender in development discourse and policy Understanding Global Sexualities Peter Aggleton, Paul Boyce, Henrietta L Moore, Richard Parker, 2012-07-26 Over the course of the past thirty years there has been an explosion of work on sexuality both conceptually and methodologically From a relatively limited specialist field the study of sexuality has expanded across a wide range of social sciences Yet as the field has grown it has become apparent that a number of leading edge critical issues remain This theory building book explores some of the areas in which there is major and continuing debate for example about the relationship between sexuality and gender about the nature and status of heterosexuality about hetero and homo normativity about the influence and intersection of class race age and other factors in sexual trajectories identities and lifestyles and about how best to understand the new forms of sexuality that are emerging in both rich world and developing world contexts With contributions from leading and new scholars and activists from across the globe this book highlights tensions or flash points in contemporary debate and offers some innovative ways forward in terms of thinking about sexuality both theoretically and with respect to policy and programme development An extended essay by Henrietta Moore introduces the volume and an afterword by Jeffrey Weeks offers pointers for the future The contributors bring together a range of experiences and a variety of disciplinary perspectives in engaging with three key themes of sexual subjectivity and global transformations sexualities in practice and advancing new thinking on sexuality in policy and programmatic contexts It is of interest to students researchers and activists in sexuality sexual health and gender studies especially those working from public health sociological and anthropological perspectives Development, Sexual Rights and Global Governance Amy Lind, 2010-01-04 This book addresses how sexual practices and identities are imagined and regulated through development discourses and within institutions of global governance The underlying premise of this volume is that the global development industry plays a central role in constructing people s sexual lives access to citizenship and struggles for livelihood Despite the industry s persistent insistence on viewing sexuality as basically outside the realm of economic modernization and anti poverty programs this volume brings to the fore heterosexual bias within macroeconomic and human rights development frameworks The work fills an important gap in understanding how people s intimate lives are governed through heteronormative policies which typically assume that the family is based on blood or property ties rather than on alternative forms of kinship By placing heteronormativity at the center of analysis this anthology thus provides a much needed discussion about the development industry s role in pathologizing sexual deviance yet also more recently in helping make visible a sexual rights agenda Providing insights valuable to a range of disciplines this book will be of particular interest to students and scholars of Development Studies Gender Studies and International Relations It will also be highly relevant to development practitioners and international human rights advocates The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.openaccesspublishing.org>

The Sexual History of the Global South Saskia Wieringa, Horacio Sívori, 2013-04-11 The Sexual History of the Global South explores the gap between sexuality studies and post colonial cultural critique. Featuring twelve case studies based on original historical and ethnographic research from countries in Africa, Asia and Latin America, the book examines the sexual investments underlying the colonial project and the construction of modern nation states. Covering issues of heteronormativity, post colonial amnesia regarding non normative sexualities, women's sexual agency, the policing of the boundaries between the public and the private realm, sexual citizenship, the connections between LGBTQ activism and processes of state formation and the emergence of sexuality studies in the global South, this collection is of great geographical, historical and topical significance.

Islam, Women's Sexuality and Patriarchy in Indonesia Irma Riyani, 2020-11-26 This book explores the intimate marital relationships of Indonesian Muslim married women. As well as describing and analysing their sexual relationships, the book also investigates how Islam influences discourses of sexuality in Indonesia and in particular how Islamic teachings affect Muslim married women's perceptions and behaviour in their sexual relationships with their husbands. Based on extensive original research, the book reveals that Muslim women perceive marriage as a social, cultural and religious obligation that they need to fulfil; that they realise that finding an ideal marriage partner is complicated, with some having the opportunity for a long courtship and others barely knowing their partner prior to marriage; and that there is a strong tendency, with some exceptions, for women to consider a sexual relationship in marriage as their duty and their husband's right. Religious and cultural discourses justify and support this view and consider refusal a sin, dosa or taboo (pamali). Both discourses emphasise obedience towards husbands in marriage.

C. W. Chan,2014-02-04 In 1948 the United Nations General Assembly proclaimed the Universal Declaration of Human Rights stating every human being's right of equality in dignity and right However notwithstanding recognition by the international community of its importance and codification in numerous national and sub national constitutions and legislation reinforced by various multilateral and regional human rights treaties the right of equality continues to be unable to take complete firm hold in all regions and countries Evidence as presented by the insightful papers in this collection published initially as a Special Double Issue of The International Journal of Human Rights dedicated to exploring the place of equality in Asia Pacific societies suggests that although progress is being made the right of equality has not yet fully materialized both in law and in reality in the world's most populous region Many factors particularly entrenched cultural heritage and practices the lingering effects of colonialism and newly found independence and above all pervasive ignorance and prejudices continue to impede the recognition development and protection of equality in this region Of course equality a normative right and entitlement by virtue of our humanity has neither been fully achieved in societies outside the region Such neo colonial thinking in fact perpetuates and assists in the subjugation of the right of equality in the Asia Pacific Region as a matter of relevance and concern only to Western countries Accordingly we hope that our discussions will also be able to shed light and generate reflections on realities outside the region as interlinked with our aim The Editor's book fee has been donated to the UNICEF Tsunami Fund This book was previously published as a special issue of The International Journal of Human Rights
