O'Rourke, 2006 In Sex Lies and Autobiography James O Rourke explores the relationships between literary form and ethics revealing how autobiographical texts are able to confront readers with the moral complexities of everyday life Tracing the ethical legacy of Jean Jacques Rousseau s Confessions in a series of English language texts the author shows how Rousseau s doubts about the possibility of ethical behavior in everyday life shadows the first person narratives of five canonic works William Wordsworth s Prelude Charlotte Bront s Jane Eyre and Villette Mary Shelley s Frankenstein and Vladimir Nabokov s Lolita Offering a fascinating new way of thinking about ethics through literature Sex Lies and Autobiography challenges the most fundamental principles of the philosophical study of ethics revealing the innate difference between morality in life and morality in literature O Rourke begins with Rousseau s inability to reconcile his intuitive belief that he is a good person with the effects that his actions have on others and he goes on to show how this same ethical impasse recurs in the five aforementioned texts The ethical crises these texts describe such as when Jane Eyre s happiness can be purchased only at the cost of Bertha Mason s suicide or when Humbert Humbert s artistry demands the sacrifice of Dolores Haze are not instances of authorial ethical blindness O Rourke says but rather are ethical challenges that force us as readers to consider our own lives In each of these works a narrator attempts to justify his or her behavior and fails in each case the rigorous narrative of self examination demands a similar effort from the reader whose own sense of moral rectitude is put into question Confronting the long held philosophical construction that links ethical principles and life choices thereby reassuring us of the ethical coherence of everyday life the narrators of these literary autobiographies come to a very different conclusion by looking back on their lives they cannot understand how their most benevolent desires led to such damaging life stories By leaving meaning inexplicit O Rourke argues these texts are able to recover traumatic material that is ordinarily repressed and then bring that repressed knowledge to bear on self justifying narratives For readers interested in autobiographical studies ethical criticism and trauma and literary studies Sex Lies and Autobiography provides a groundbreaking analysis of the role of ethics in literature Sex, Lies & The Other Woman Corin Sable, 2025-09-15 Discover the Hidden Realities Behind Betrayal and Heartbreak Sex Lies The Other Woman Unraveling the Secrets of

Iconoclastic Sex Henry Walter Spaulding III, 2024-03-13 Christian sexual ethics operates from a place of privilege when it does not consider those impacted by its moral prescriptions A large majority of publications on Christian sexual ethics consider choices and images abstracted from lived conditions of the people called to make these decisions As such it leaves out many for whom sex is neither welcome nor a choice As such these same texts present images of sexual subjects that marginalize those that do not fit As the book presents sexuality both Christian and otherwise prioritizes a language of purity that strangles the life of those imaged impure The present book remedies this emphasis through the language of iconoclasm that blasphemes these images and opens theological reflection beyond the boundary of image based approaches Utilizing a qualitative study of survivors of trafficking and those who grew up under evangelical purity teachings Spaulding narrates sexual ethics in light of their testimonies and the theological resources of iconoclasm to articulate a more just and loving sexuality The new emphasis on sexual ethics not only resists the prescriptions that create the conditions of sex trafficking but the creation of new communities capable of solidarity and mutuality with those caught in the web of trafficking No Pressure: Sex, Lies, and Consequences Roddell Smalls, 2014-02-09 PROLOGUE Inside the beautiful opulent house the two men stood up from the sofa and walked out onto the patio The summer weather was calm and tranquil The older man took out a rolled blunt and lit it up It was the best marijuana that money could buy As he puffed on his fat rolled up blunt his young friend stood there staring out at the lovely scenery Moments later a beautiful dark brown woman walked out onto the patio and passed both men cold bottles of Heineken She quickly disappeared back into the house The man didn't pass his young friend the weed because he knew he didn't smoke Loud sounds of Reggae were coming from inside the house I want you to remember my friend that in this cruel world there are two types of people The younger one listened intently as his older friend spoke Every time he would drive over to his beautiful large home his friend would bring him out onto the empty patio and drop nothing but jewels on him Today was no different What're the two types of people in this world the young man asked Taking another long puff on his blunt the older one blew thick smoke from his nose and looked into his young friend's curious brown eyes They are the people who sit around and watch things happen and the people who stand up and make

Halperin,Trevor Hoppe,2017-03-09 The past fifty years are conventionally understood to have witnessed an uninterrupted expansion of sexual rights and liberties in the United States This state of the art collection tells a different story while progress has been made in marriage equality reproductive rights access to birth control and other areas government and civil society are waging a war on stigmatized sex by means of law surveillance and social control The contributors document the history and operation of sex offender registries and the criminalization of HIV as well as highly punitive measures against sex work that do more to harm women than to combat human trafficking They reveal that sex crimes are punished more harshly than other crimes while new legal and administrative regulations drastically restrict who is permitted to have sex By examining how the ever intensifying war on sex affects both privileged and marginalized communities the essays collected here show why sexual liberation is indispensable to social justice and human rights Contributors Alexis Agathocleous Elizabeth Bernstein J Wallace Borchert Mary Anne Case Owen Daniel McCarter Scott De Orio David M Halperin Amber Hollibaugh Trevor Hoppe Hans Tao Ming Huang Regina Kunzel Roger N Lancaster Judith Levine Laura Mansnerus Erica R Meiners R Noll Melissa Petro Carol Queen Penelope Saunders Sean Strub Maurice Tomlinson Gregory Tomso No Pressure Roddell Smalls,2014-02-09 PROLOGUE Inside the beautiful opulent house the two men stood up from the sofa and walked out onto the patio The summer weather was calm and tranquil The older man took out a rolled blunt and lit it up It was the best marijuana that money could buy As he puffed on his fat rolled up blunt his young friend stood there staring out at the lovely scenery Moments later a beautiful dark brown woman walked out onto the patio and passed both men cold bottles of Heineken She quickly disappeared back into the house The man didn t pass his young friend the weed because he knew he didn t smoke

Lies, Sex and Politicians John Holdsworth,2010 Many Christians write off the Old Testament as an outdated rule book which has little to say to them and has been superseded by the New Testament and the Christian tradition Lies Sex and Politicians is for those thinking Christians who want to recapture the Old Testament from those who in wanting to promote it in a particular way e g in the homosexuality debate have closed it off to the majority John Holdsworth offers a way into the Old Testament through linking some of the themes found in this very diverse collection of texts with themes found in contemporary culture. This in turn enables readers to engage with the Old Testament as a resource for doing Christian theology and ethics today. Each chapter concentrates on a text based theme. This leads to exegetical input and discussion of the wider theme in the light of contemporary scholarship. The text is then approached from the direction of some element of contemporary culture or concern. A final suggested exercise aims to bring these elements together in a creative and interesting way.
