

The book cover features a minimalist abstract design. On the left, a large blue shape, resembling a stylized letter 'L' or a corner, is set against a white background. On the right, a large red shape, also stylized, mirrors the blue one. The title 'mise en train' is printed in a bold, black, sans-serif font, with 'mise' and 'en' on the top line and 'train' on the bottom line. The word 'en' is partially obscured by a large, dark, circular graphic element.

New York Nouveau Sara Kippur, 2025-08-12 Postwar French writers were at the vanguard of global literary innovation from the experimental minimalism of the Nouveau Roman to the literary games of the OuLiPo but less often appreciated is the extent to which they worked closely with US editors and translators published actively with American presses and often theorized transatlantic connections within their work In this exciting new work Sara Kippur proposes a new French literary history that traces the deep connections between postwar literary experimentalism and the New York publishing industry compellingly arguing that US based editors publishers producers professors and translators crucially intervened to shape French literature While Kippur attends closely to well known writers such as Marguerite Duras Samuel Beckett Eugene Ionesco Georges Perec and Alain Robbe Grillet she also amplifies the voices of those who have been less visible though no less relevant including women whose contributions have not received proper credit but who helped to foster a sense of new possibilities for twentieth century French writing With these untold histories stitched together in this book through new archival discoveries from special collections and personal archives on both sides of the Atlantic Kippur begins to dismantle rigid notions of canonicity authorship and national literature
