Sketches from an Unquiet Country Dominic Hardy, Annie Gérin, Lora Senechal Carney, 2018-06-08. Canadian readers have enjoyed their own graphic satire since colonial times and Canadian artists have thrived as they took aim at the central issues and figures of their age. Graphic satire, a combination of humorous drawing and text that usually involves caricature, is a way of taking an ethical stand about contemporary politics and society. First appearing in short-lived illustrated weeklies in Montreal, Quebec City, and Toronto in the 1840s, usually as unsigned copies of engravings from European magazines, the genre spread quickly as skilled local illustrators, engravers, painters, and sculptors joined the teams of publishers and writers who sought to shape public opinion and public policy. A detailed account of Canadian graphic satire, Sketches from an Unquiet Country looks at a century bookended by the aftermath of the 1837-38 Rebellions and Canada's entry into the Second World War. As fully fledged artist-commentators, Canadian cartoonists were sometimes gently ironic but they were just as often caustic and violent in the pursuit of a point of view. This volume shows a country where conflicts crop up between linguistic and religious communities, a country often resistant to social and political change for women and open to the cross-currents of anti-Semitism, xenophobia, and fascism that flared across Europe and North America in the early twentieth century. Drawing on new scholarship by researchers working in art history, material culture, and communication studies, Sketches from an Unquiet Country follows the fortunes of some of the artists and satiric themes that were prevalent in the centres of Canadian publishing.

Leos Carax Fergus Daly, Garin Dowd, 2019-01-18. The first book in any language to study the films of this enfant terrible of contemporary French cinema, best known for his film Les Amants du Pont Neuf. Examines key ingredients in the worlds of Carax's films: Paris pop music, flânerie and amour fou, mannerist and neo-baroque aesthetics, the Nouvelle Vague, and contemporary naturalist cinema, making the book a good primer of contemporary French film and culture. Draws on a variety of intellectual sources such as the philosophy of Deleuze film criticism theory of art and literary monographs Argues that the recent history of maverick mannerist and baroque auteurs from Ruiz Rivette to Garrel and Techine and their explorations of the powers of the false are key to Carax's cinema Examines Carax's contribution to the strand of cinema which is focused on chance and destiny from Wong Kar Wai and David Lynch to films such as Serendipity and Sliding doors Messiaen's Explorations of Love and Death Siglind Bruhn, 2008 Olivier Messiaen's lifelong quest centered on the colors and rhythms of a music that would serve as a vehicle for his thoughts about time his love of God and his enthusiasm for birdsong An additional topic about which he felt deeply is that of passionate fated human love and its relationship to death on the one hand the love of God on the other During the years 1936-1948 he composed five cycles of vocal music to his own texts as well as the Turangala Symphony the monumental centerpiece of his Tristan Trilogy The focus of this study is the in depth analysis and interpretation of these six works on love with particular regard for their unusual wealth of poetic sonic and visual colors and imagery The wonder of rainbows the magic of exotic sounds the fantastic attractiveness of surrealist representations and the majestic inexorability of fate in myths of various times and cultures define Messiaen's lyrics as much as his idiosyncratic highly symbolic musical language which never fails to build bridges between this and another world

Extrait Du Manuel de L'Archiconfrérie de la Garde D'honneur Du Sacré Coeur de Jésus Archiconfrérie de la Garde d'Honneur du Sacré-Coeur de Jésus, 1897 The Book of Darkness Vasile Munteanu, 2015-09-18 The book is a collection of poems dealing with various themes emotions and mental states the overarching unifying idea being fear There are both rational and irrational fears that can either stop us or force us into engaging in situations we are not comfortable with And there is the greatest fear of all the fear of the self We may not always know it or admit it but the fear of the self can serve as either a blessing or a curse depending on the actual outcome of a choice or action Being afraid starts in childhood and lasts until the end of life because we tend to fear beginnings as well as endings proportionately The poems try to shed some light on these occurrences Literature, Ethics, and Decolonization in Postwar France Daniel Just, 2015-02-09 Against the background of intellectual and political debates in France during the 1950s and 1960s Daniel Just examines literary narratives and works of literary criticism arguing that these texts are more politically engaged than they may initially appear As writings by Roland Barthes Maurice Blanchot Albert Camus and Marguerite Duras show seemingly disengaged literary principles such as blankness minimalism silence and indeterminateness can be deployed to a number of potent political and ethical ends At the time the main focus of this activism was the escalation of violence in colonial Algeria The poetics formulated by these writers suggests that blankness weakness and withdrawal from action are not symptoms of impotence and political escapism in the face of historical events but deliberate literary strategies aimed to neutralize the drive to dominate others that characterized the colonial project Producing Hiroshima and Nagasaki Yuko Shibata, 2018-08-31 National disciplinary and linguistic boundaries all play a role in academic study and nowhere is this more apparent than in traditional humanities scholarship surrounding the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki How would our understanding of this seminal event change if we read Japanese and Euro American texts together and across disciplines In Producing Hiroshima and Nagasaki Yuko Shibata juxtaposes literary and cinematic texts usually considered separately to highlight the connected divides in the production of knowledge on Hiroshima and Nagasaki shedding new light on both texts and contexts in the process Shibata takes up two canonical works American journalist John Hersey's account Hiroshima and French director Alain Resnais avant garde film Hiroshima Mon Amour that are traditionally excluded from study in Japanese literature and cinema By examining Hersey's Hiroshima in conjunction with The Bells of Nagasaki Nagai Takashi and Children of the A Bomb Osada Arata both Japanese bestsellers Shibata demonstrates how influential Hersey's Hiroshima has been in forging the normative narrative of the hibakusha experience in Japan She also compares Hiroshima Mon Amour with Kamei Fumio's documentary Still It's Good to Live whose footage Resnais borrowed to depict atomic bomb victimhood Resnais avant garde masterpiece she contends is the palimpsest of Kamei's surrealist documentary both blur the binaries between realist and avant garde representations Reading Hiroshima Mon Amour in its historical context enables Shibata to offer an entirely new analysis of Renais work She also delineates how Japanese films came to produce the martyrdom narrative of the hibakusha in the early postwar period Producing Hiroshima and Nagasaki allows us to trace the complex and entangled political threads that link representations of Hiroshima and Nagasaki reminding us that narratives and images deploy different effects in different places and times This highly original approach establishes a new kind of transnational and transpacific studies on Hiroshima and Nagasaki and raises the possibility of a comparative area studies to match the age of world literature
