Sketches from an Unquiet Country Dominic Hardy, Annie Gérin, Lora Senechal Carney, 2018-06-08 Canadian readers have enjoyed their own graphic satire since colonial times and Canadian artists have thrived as they took aim at the central issues and figures of their age Graphic satire a combination of humorous drawing and text that usually involves caricature is a way of taking an ethical stand about contemporary politics and society First appearing in short lived illustrated weeklies in Montreal Quebec City and Toronto in the 1840s usually as unsigned copies of engravings from European magazines the genre spread quickly as skilled local illustrators engravers painters and sculptors joined the teams of publishers and writers who sought to shape public opinion and public policy A detailed account of Canadian graphic satire Sketches from an Unquiet Country looks at a century bookended by the aftermath of the 1837-38 Rebellions and Canada's entry into the Second World War As fully fledged artist commentators Canadian cartoonists were sometimes gently ironic but they were just as often caustic and violent in the pursuit of a point of view This volume shows a country where conflicts crop up between linguistic and religious communities a country often resistant to social and political change for women and open to the cross currents of anti-Semitism xenophobia and fascism that flared across Europe and North America in the early twentieth century Drawing on new scholarship by researchers working in art history material culture and communication studies Sketches from an Unquiet Country follows the fortunes of some of the artists and satiric themes that were prevalent in the centres of Canadian publishing

Messiaen's Explorations of Love and Death Siglind Bruhn, 2008 Olivier Messiaen's lifelong quest centered on the colors and rhythms of a music that would serve as a vehicle for his thoughts about time his love of God and his enthusiasm for birdsong An additional topic about which he felt deeply is that of passionate fated human love and its relationship to death on the one hand the love of God on the other During the years 1936-1948 he composed five cycles of vocal music to his own texts as well as the Turangala la Symphony the monumental centerpiece of his Tristan Trilogy The focus of this study is the in depth analysis and interpretation of these six works on love with particular regard for their unusual wealth of poetic sonic and visual colors and imagery The wonder of rainbows the magic of exotic sounds the fantastic attractiveness of surrealist representations and the majestic inexorability of fate in myths of various times and cultures define Messiaens lyrics as much as his idiosyncratic highly symbolic musical language which never fails to build bridges between this and another world

Extrait Du Manuel de L'Archiconfrérie de la Garde D'honneur Du Sacré Coeur de Jésus Archiconfrérie de la Garde d'Honneur du Sacré-Coeur de Jésus,1897 Installation Art and the Practices of Archivalism David Houston Jones,2016-03-31 On the leading edge of trauma and archival studies this timely book engages with the recent growth in visual projects that respond to the archive focusing in particular on installation art It traces a line of argument from practitioners who explicitly depict the archive Samuel Beckett Christian Boltanski Art Language Walid Raad to those whose materials and practices are archival Mirosław Bałka Jean Luc Godard Silvia Kolbowski Boltanski Atom Egoyan Jones considers in particular the widespread nostalgia for archival media such as analogue photographs and film He analyses the innovative strategies by which such artefacts are incorporated examining five distinct types of archival practice the intermedial testimonial personal relational and monumentalist Literature, Ethics, and Decolonization in Postwar France Daniel Just,2015-02-09 Against the background of intellectual and political debates in France during the 1950s and 1960s Daniel Just examines literary narratives and works of literary criticism arguing that these texts are more politically engaged than they may initially appear As writings by Roland Barthes Maurice Blanchot Albert Camus and Marguerite Duras show seemingly disengaged literary principles such as blankness minimalism silence and indeterminateness can be deployed to a number of potent political and ethical ends At the time the main focus of this activism was the escalation of violence in colonial Algeria The poetics formulated by these writers suggests that blankness weakness and withdrawal from action are not symptoms of impotence and political escapism in the face of historical events but deliberate literary strategies aimed to neutralize the drive to dominate others that characterized the colonial project Film Remakes, Adaptations and Fan Productions K. Loock,C. Verevis,2012-10-23 A dynamic investigation of processes of cultural reproduction remaking and remodelling which considers a wide range of film adaptations remakes and fan productions from various industrial textual and critical perspectives Witness and Memory Ana Douglass,Thomas A. Vogler,2012-11-12 This is a collection within the anthropology of violence and witness studies a discipline inaugurated in the 1980s It accomplishes a tight focus while tackling seemingly disparate topics from Rigoberta Menchú to O J Simpson and from feminist poetry to Hiroshima Mon Amour With approaches ranging from anthropological and historical to literary and philosophical this collection is engaging in both subject matter and writing style Contemporary Sino-French Cinemas Michelle E. Bloom,2017-11-30 Transnational cinemas are eclipsing national cinemas in the contemporary world and Sino French films exemplify this phenomenon through the cinematic coupling of the Sinophone and the Francophone linking France not just with the Chinese mainland but also with the rest of the Chinese speaking world Sinophone directors most often reach out to French cinema by referencing and adapting it They set their films in Paris and metropolitan France cast French actors and sometimes use French dialogue even when the directors themselves don't understand it They tend to view France as mysterious sexy and sophisticated just as the French see China and Taiwan as exotic As Michelle E Bloom makes clear many films move past a simplistic opposition between East and West and beyond Orientalist and Occidentalist cross cultural interplay Bloom focuses on films that have appeared since 2000 such as Tsai Ming-liang's What Time Is It There Hou Hsiao-hsien's Flight of the Red Balloon and Dai Sijie's Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress She views the work of these well-known directors through a Sino-French optic applying the tropes of métissage or biraciality intertextuality adaptation and remake translation and imitation to shed new light on their work She also calls attention to important lesser studied films Taiwanese director Cheng Yu-chieh's Yang Yang which depicts the up and coming Taiwanese star Sandrine Pinna as a mixed race beauty and Emily Tang Xiaobai's debut film Conjugation which contrasts Paris and post Tiananmen Square Beijing the one an incarnation of liberty the other a place of entrapment Bloom's insightful analysis also probes what such films reveal about their Taiwanese and Chinese creators Scholars have long studied Sino-French literature but this inaugural full length work on Sino-French cinema maps uncharted territory offering a paradigm for understanding other cross cultural interminglings and tools to study transnational cinema and world cinema The Sino-French rich and multifaceted linguistically culturally and ethnically constitutes an important part of film studies Francophone studies Sinophone studies and myriad other fields This is a must read for students scholars and lovers of film

disciplinary and linguistic boundaries all play a role in academic study and nowhere is this more apparent than in traditional humanities scholarship surrounding the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki How would our understanding of this seminal event change if we read Japanese and Euro American texts together and across disciplines In Producing Hiroshima and Nagasaki Yuko Shibata juxtaposes literary and cinematic texts usually considered separately to highlight the connected divides in the production of knowledge on Hiroshima and Nagasaki shedding new light on both texts and contexts in the process Shibata takes up two canonical works American journalist John Hersey's account Hiroshima and French director Alain Resnais avant garde film Hiroshima Mon Amour that are traditionally excluded from study in Japanese literature and cinema By examining Hersey's Hiroshima in conjunction with The Bells of Nagasaki Nagai Takashi and Children of the A Bomb Osada Arata both Japanese bestsellers Shibata demonstrates how influential Hersey's Hiroshima has been in forging the normative narrative of the hibakusha experience in Japan She also compares Hiroshima Mon Amour with Kamei Fumio's documentary Still It's Good to Live whose footage Resnais borrowed to depict atomic bomb victimhood Resnais avant garde masterpiece she contends is the palimpsest of Kamei's surrealist documentary both blur the binaries between realist and avant garde representations Reading Hiroshima Mon Amour in its historical context enables Shibata to offer an entirely new analysis of Renais work She also delineates how Japanese films came to produce the martyrdom narrative of the hibakusha in the early postwar period Producing Hiroshima and Nagasaki allows us to trace the complex and entangled political threads that link representations of Hiroshima and Nagasaki reminding us that narratives and images deploy different effects in different places and times This highly original approach establishes a new kind of transnational and transpacific studies on Hiroshima and Nagasaki and raises the possibility of a comparative area studies to match the age of world literature

The Book of Darkness Vasile Munteanu, 2015-09-18 The book is a collection of poems dealing with various themes emotions and mental states the overarching unifying idea being fear There are both rational and irrational fears that can either stop us or force us into engaging in situations we are not comfortable with And there is the greatest fear of all the fear of the self We may not always know it or admit it but the fear of the self can serve as either a blessing or a curse depending on the actual outcome of a choice or action Being afraid starts in childhood and lasts until the end of life because we tend to fear beginnings as well as endings proportionately The poems try to shed some light on these occurrences
