Money over Mastery, Family over Freedom Calvin Schermerhorn, 2011-06-15 Elegantly argued convincingly shows the centrality of enslaved men and women to the transformation of the coastal upper South s commercial life The Journal of Southern History Once a sleepy plantation society the region from the Chesapeake Bay to coastal North Carolina modernized and diversified its economy in the years before the Civil War Central to this industrializing process was slave labor Money over Mastery Family over Freedom tells the story of how slaves seized opportunities in these conditions to protect their family members from the auction block Calvin Schermerhorn argues that the African American family provided the key to economic growth in the

antebellum Chesapeake To maximize profits in the burgeoning regional industries slaveholders needed to employ or hire out a healthy supply of strong slaves which tended to scatter family members From each generation they also selected the young fit and fertile for sale or removal to the cotton South Conscious of this pattern the enslaved were sometimes able to negotiate mutually beneficial labor terms to save their families despite that new economy Money over Mastery Family over Freedom proposes a new way of understanding the role of American slaves in the antebellum marketplace Rather than work against it as one might suppose enslaved people engaged with the market somewhat as did free Americans Slaves focused their energy and attention however not on making money as slaveholders increasingly did but on keeping their kin out of the human coffles of the slave trade Displays exhaustive research a well crafted argument and is a valuable addition to antebellum slave historiography H CivWar H Net Reviews Post-Soviet Chaos Joma Nazpary,2001-11-20 In the 1990s the former states of the Soviet Union underwent dramatic and revolutionary changes As a result of enforced neoliberal reforms the fledgling republics were exposed to the familiar effects of globalised capital Focusing on Kazakhstan where violence and corruption are now facts of everyday life Joma Nazpary examines the impact of the new capitalism on the people of Central Asia Nazpary explores the responses of the dispossessed to their dispossession He uncovers the construction of imagined communities grounded in Soviet nostalgia which serve to resist the economic order as well as the more practical survival strategies especially of women often forced into prostitution where they are subject to violence and stigma By revealing the extent to which Kazakh society has disintegrated and the cultural responses to it Nazpary argues that dispossession has been a stronger unifying force than even ethnicity or religion Comparing the effects of neoliberal reforms in Kazakhstan with those in other regions he concludes that causes forms and consequences of dispossession in Kazakhstan are particular instances of a much wider global trend Distortion and Love Professor Nigel Rapport,2016-02-28 In this ground breaking book a theory of distortion of the way in which the processes of human life are subject to interference diversion and transformation is developed by way of the art of one of Britain s greatest twentieth century painters and that art s public reception Devoted to his native village of Cookham on Thames Stanley Spencer painted not only landscapes and portraits with loving detail but also the memory feelings which he felt were a sacred part of his consciousness Yet Spencer was also a controversial public figure with some taking the view that his visionary paintings were ugly distortions of human life even marks of an immoral nature Examining how Spencer lived his vision how he painted it and wrote it and also how his attempts to communicate that vision were received by his contemporaries and have continued to be interpreted since his death the author posits distortion as key an intrinsic aspect both of human creation and of human interaction What we intend to make to say to do and have done often mutates in the process of being expressed or put into effect we live amid distortion Love the affective appreciation of one another is then a means by which we accommodate distortion and its consequences in our lives An illustration through Stanley Spencer s story of significant aspects of a human condition this book will appeal across disciplines including to art historians and students of Spencer's work as well as to scholars of anthropology with interests in creativity perception and interpretation      Making Money, Making Music David Bruenger, 2016-09-06 Making money making music is an alternative music business text providing an entrepreneurial toolbox based on historical analysis trends and patterns in music enterprise It begins by introducing core principles and processes and shows how to apply them adaptively to new contexts so that students gain a deeper understanding not only of how things work in the music business but why By applying essential concepts to a variety of real life situations students improve their capacity to critically analyze solve problems and even predict where music and money will converge in a rapidly evolving culture and marketplace Provided by publisher

Rockefeller, Carnegie, and Canada Jeffrey Brison, 2005-12-01 In the first half of the twentieth century the Rockefeller Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation helped to create and maintain a cultural and intellectual infrastructure in Canada that benefited key institutions such as University of Toronto McGill University the National Gallery the Humanities Research Council of Canada and the Canadian Social Science Research Council Jeffrey Brison documents how American philanthropy facilitated the transformation from a private localized system of cultural intellectual and academic patronage to a complex nation based system of incorporated patronage a system in which the major patron was the federal state His study calls into question our essentialistic notions of contrasting national identities and the now mythologized juxtaposition of an American culture fueled by the free market with a Canadian one sustained by state support      Social Income and Insecurity Guy Standing, Jeemol Unni, Renana Jhabvala, Uma Rani, 2012-12-06 Economic liberalisation associated with globalisation is causing a pervasive growth of economic insecurity experienced all over the world This is placing urgent demands on policymakers to rethink old policies and institutions This book sets out a new approach to the assessment of income dynamics based on identifying the diverse components of people's income and entitlements It defines social income as a broader concept of household income which includes state community and private benefits It shows how those components should be measured and provides a composite picture of the structure of incomes and support systems of different societal groups It recognises how the structure of income as well as its distribution has been linked to policy and development dynamics It starts from a premise that unless the totality of incomes and income support systems is taken into account academics and policymakers cannot expect to develop appropriate interventions This perspective is developed through a detailed household survey conducted in rural and urban areas of Gujarat in 2007-2008 This provides an up to date picture of how institutions NGOs and the state system are operating in the context of rapid restructuring of village life in India      Index de Périodiques

Canadiens, 2001      Wanton Women in Late-Imperial Chinese Literature, 2017-04-18 The contributors to Wanton Women in Late Imperial Chinese Literature Models Genres Subversions and Traditions draw attention to wanton woman themes across time as they were portrayed in court history McMahon fiction Stevenson drama Lam Wu and songs and ballads ki Epstein McLaren Looking back the essays challenge us with views of sexual transgression that are more heterogeneous than modern popular focus on Pan Jinlian would suggest Central among the many insights to be found is that despite gender performance in Chinese history being overwhelmingly determined by the needs of patriarchal authority men and women in the late imperial period discovered diverse ways in which to reflect on how men constantly sought their own bearings in reference to women

New Perspectives on the Public-Private Divide Law Commission of Canada, 2003 The separation between public and private spheres has structured much of our thinking about human organizations This collection of essays explores how the public private divide influences challenges and interacts with law and law reform

Gender and Agriculture in Turkey Emine Erdogan, 2020-10-15 How have attempts to integrate Turkish agriculture into the global economy impacted rural populations This book reveals the extent to which the increasingly authoritarian political regime in Turkey and the neoliberal economy impacts minority ethnic groups and women The tomato industry in Turkey has the highest export rate amongst fresh and processed fruit and vegetables But Emine Erdogan shows here that global production is gendered relying on the labour of unpaid or poorly paid women and based on a system of what she calls intersectional patriarchy The book is based on participant observation and interviews to foreground the stories of the those involved in production including local rural workers Kurdish seasonal migrant workers women factory workers and factory managers as well as the landowning families This provides a detailed picture of the transformation of rural Turkey and the inequalities of gender class ethnicity and age A detailed ethnographic account the book is unique in providing an intersectional and feminist analysis on processes of capitalization

Livelihoods at the Margins James Staples, 2016-07-01 Sex workers street hawkers drug sellers cleaners they are people living on the margins of urban life who are ubiquitous but widely misunderstood and notably absent from mainstream economic analyses In Livelihood on the Margins anthropologists and practitioners engaged in hands on development work use fine grained ethnographic research to cut through the conventional narratives that romanticize victimize or demonize these populations They go beyond the trendy sustainable livelihoods approach to development to examine the relationship between the agency people can actually wield over their own lives and the broader socio political constraints that persistently push them to the margins Making these multi level connections across a wide range of world regions and situations this volume shows how the micro concerns of ordinary people might usefully guide the macro concerns of governments NGOs and global institutions who are engineering large scale social and economic development programs Livelihood at the Margins is an engaging and eye opening read for undergraduate and graduate students studying development in anthropology sociology geography economics and other disciplines as well as a useful tool for developments studies researchers and practitioners
