Money, Power, Respect Macaela MacKenzie, 2023-06-27 An inside look at how women athletes are leading the fight for equality on and off the field Women s sports receive a fraction of the airtime allotted for men s sports as well as a fraction of the marketing dollars media coverage and training resources For every dollar that the NBA s highest paid player brings home the WNBA s highest paid player earns just half a cent But while misogyny in sports is particularly visible it s not unique Women athletes face the same sexist barriers found in all career fields the motherhood penalty transphobia and misogynoir underpromotion and more But women in sports are fighting back debunking myths that women aren t as skilled competitive or capable of generating revenue as men Drawing on exclusive interviews with prominent athletes including Allyson Felix Megan Rapinoe and Billie Jean King journalist Macaela Mackenzie shows how women are using sports as a platform for change As women athletes push for the same things all women want in their careers money power and respect their wins are showing the rest of us what s possible in the fight for equality

been around longer than the human race Domestic Economic Abuse Supriya Singh,2021-07-26 Supriya Singh tells the stories of 12 Anglo Celtic and Indian women in Australia who survived economic abuse She describes the lived experience of coercive control underlying economic abuse across cultures Each story shows how the woman was trapped and lost her freedom because her husband denied her money appropriated her assets and sabotaged her ability to be in paid work These stories are about silence shame and embarrassment that this could happen despite professional and graduate education Some of the women were the main earners in their household Women spoke of being afraid of trying to leave of losing their sense of self Many suffered physical and mental ill health not knowing what would trigger the violence Some attempted suicide None of the women fully realised they were suffering family violence through economic abuse whilst it was happening to them The stories of Anglo Celtic and Indian women show economic abuse is not associated with a specific system of money management and control It is when the morality of money is betrayed that control becomes coercive Money as a medium of care then becomes a medium of abuse The women s stories demonstrate the importance of talking about money and relationships with future partners across life stages and with their sons and daughters The women saw this as an essential step for preventing and lessening economic abuse A vital read for scholars of domestic abuse and family violence that will also be valuable for sociologists of money The Political Disabilities of Women.
