Monitoring And Evaluating Agricultural Research A Sourcebook:

Monitoring and Evaluating Agricultural Research Douglas Horton,1993 This sourcebook provides a synthesis of literature and experience that introduces monitoring and evaluation M E principles processes and methods presents examples of M E and identifies useful sources of expertise and information Applications to agricultural research from both industrialized and developing countries are presented The book will be an indispensable guide and reference for agricultural research managers as well as development workers and trainers involved in agricultural research management Monitoring and Evaluation for World Bank Agricultural Research and Extension Projects Riikka Rajalahti,2005 Proceedings of an International Workshop ,2004 Transforming Agricultural Research Systems in Transition Economies Mohinder S.

Mudahar,Robert William Jolly,Jitendra Srivastava,1998-01-01 This report examines the current state of Russian agriculture and agricultural research systems It develops a conceptual framework for managing the transformation and rehabilitation of agricultural research systems in transition economies Chapters examine the strategic importance of agricultural research the status and importance of the agricultural sector the status of the agricultural knowledge system and challenges facing the system as well as ways to transform it This book is aimed toward agricultural scientists research administrators public officials and agricultural leaders interested in the transformation of agricultural research systems in the transition economies

Agricultural Innovation Systems The World Bank,2012-02-21 Managing the ability of agriculture to meet rising global demand and to respond to the changes and opportunities will require good policy sustained investments and innovation not business as usual Investments in public Research and Development extension education and their links with one another have elicited high returns and pro poor growth but these investments alone will not elicit innovation at the pace or on the scale required by the intensifying and proliferating challenges confronting agriculture Experience indicates that aside from a strong capacity in Research and Development the ability to innovate is often related to collective action coordination the exchange of knowledge among diverse actors the incentives and resources available to form partnerships and develop businesses and conditions that make it possible for farmers or entrepreneurs to use the innovations While consensus is developing about what is meant by innovation and innovation system no detailed blueprint exists for making agricultural innovation happen at a given time in a given place for a given result The AIS approach that looks at these multiple conditions and relationships that promote innovation in agriculture has however moved from a concept to a sub discipline with principles of analysis and action AIS investments must be specific to the context responding to the stage of development in a particular country and agricultural sector especially the AIS This sourcebook contributes to identifying designing and implementing the investments approaches and complementary interventions that appear most likely to strengthen AIS and to promote agricultural innovation and equitable growth It emphasizes the lessons learned benefits and impacts implementation issues and prospects for replicating or expanding successful practices The information in this sourcebook derives from approaches that have been tested at different scales in different contexts It reflects the experiences and evolving understanding of numerous individuals and organizations concerned with agricultural innovation including the World Bank This information is targeted to the key operational staff in international and regional development agencies and national governments who design and implement lending projects and to the practitioners who design thematic programs and technical assistance packages The sourcebook can also be an important resource for the research community and nongovernmental organizations NGOs

Effective waste management is more crucial than ever in dealing with environmental challenges The Sustainable Development Goals SDGs provide a framework for addressing these challenges but their complex interplay with waste management practices requires deeper examination Exploring Waste Management in Sustainable Development Contexts offers a comprehensive exploration of this intersection highlighting the urgent need for innovative solutions to transform waste management into a driver of sustainable development The book delves into the various challenges of waste management from the types and volume of waste generated to its environmental and health impacts It sheds light on the inadequacies of current methods and presents sustainable practices that can pave the way for a greener future By focusing on sustainable approaches to waste management the book is an inspiration for actionable change and fosters a deeper understanding of waste management s role in achieving the SDGs An Organizational Performance Assessment System for Agricultural Research Organizations Warren Peterson,Govert Gijsbers,Michèle Wilks,2003 agricultural research & extension network ,1994 Planificación y gerencia de la investigación forestal ,1995 Food habits and consumption in developing countries Adel P. den Hartog,Wija A. van Staveren,Inge D. Brouwer,2023-09-04 During the last decade the food and nutrition situation in developing countries has changed dramatically For better or worse urbanization and globalization have altered the diet and nutrition in both rural and urban areas In many developing countries a persistent level of under nutrition exists both in rural areas and in urban slums due to less access to food needed for an active and healthy life On the other hand over nutrition or eating too much has emerged among the middle income groups It is essential to have a better understanding of how people deal with their food in developing countries in order to plan and implement food and nutrition programmes This manual deals with the process of changing food habits and consumption patterns in developing countries Nutritional implications together with practical information is discussed in relationship to conducting field surveys Part one of the manual provides insight into the dynamics of food habits and consumption and its socio economic and cultural dimensions Part two gives practical information on small scale surveys to be carried out within the framework of a nutrition issue including data collecting on food habits and the measurement of food intake This manual addresses professionals with practical or academic training and those who are involved in various types of food and nutrition programmes or related activities It can also be used as a handbook in food and nutrition training courses at higher and at academic level     Modeling the Impact of Potato Research on Small Farmers in Bolivia Jorge E.
