quisitoire aussi dr le que violent contre ces conformismes qui m nent parfois aux pires compromissions The Creative Circle African Literature Association. Meeting, African Literature Association, 2003 The theme of the 2001 African Literature Association conference translation encompasses more than the movement of expression from one language to another it not only includes the translation of one culture to another but also the translating of the particularities of historical and personal experience into the broader context of humanity Includes the four addresses given at the conference on this topic by Nadine Gordimer Assia Djebar Emmanuel Dongala and Nuruddin Farah African Literatures in the Eighties, 2023-12-21 Matatu is a journal on African literatures and societies dedicated to interdisciplinary dialogue between literary and cultural studies historiography the social sciences and cultural anthropology Matatu is animated by a lively interest in African culture and literature including the Afro Caribbean that moves beyond worn out clich s of cultural authenticity and national liberation towards critical exploration of African modernities The East African public transport vehicle from which Matatu takes its name is both a component and a symbol of these modernities based on Western these days usually Japanese technology it is a vigorously African institution it is usually regarded with some anxiety by those travelling in it but is often enough the only means of transport available it creates temporary communicative communities and provides a transient site for the exchange of news storytelling and political debate Matatu is firmly committed to supporting democratic change in Africa to providing a forum for interchanges between African and European critical debates to overcoming notions of absolute cultural ethnic or religious alterity and to promoting transnational discussion on the future of African societies in a wider world Matatu will be published as journal as of 2016 All back volumes are still available in print Indigenization of Language in the African Francophone Novel Peter W. Vakunta, 2011 Indigenization of Language in the African Francophone Novel A New Literary Canon discusses the question of indigenization in the African Francophone novel Analyzing the prose narratives of Nazi Boni Ahmadou Kourouma and Patrice Nganang this book contends that African literature written in European languages is primarily a creative translation process Recourse to European languages as a medium of expressing African imagination worldview and cultures in fictional writing poses problems of intelligibility Developed to express and reflect Western worldviews and sensibilities European languages are employed by African writers to convey messages that seem to be at variance with European imagination These writers find themselves writing in languages they wish to subvert through the technique of literary indigenization The significance of this study resides in its raising awareness to the hurdles that literary creativity in a polyglossic context may present to readers and translators This book provides answers to intriguing questions centering on the problematic of translation in contemporary African literature It is a contribution to current research aimed at unraveling the conundrum surrounding the language question in African Europhone fiction particularly the cultural functions of translation in literature Potential translation problems have to be addressed in order to make African literature written in European languages intelligible to global readership With the advent of globalization transcultural communication has become an activity of enormous importance to the international community It is a subject of great interest to translators linguists language instructors and literary theorists Decolonizing Translation Kathryn Batchelor,2014-04-08 The linguistically innovative aspect of Francophone African literature has been recognized and studied from a variety of angles over recent decades yet little attention has been paid to what happens to such literature when it is translated into another language Taking as its corpus all sub Saharan Francophone African texts that have ever been published in English this book explores the ways in which translators approach innovative features such as African language borrowings neologisms and other deliberate manipulations of French depictions of sociolinguistic variation and a variety of types of wordplay The implications of their translation decisions are drawn out with reference to the broader significances that are often accorded to postcolonial literature and earlier critics calls for a decolonized translation practice are explored from both a practical and theoretical angle These findings are used to push towards a detailed investigation of the postcolonial turn in translation studies drawing on the work of key postcolonial theorists such as Homi K Bhabha and Gayatri Spivak This is a timely and incisive critical assessment of contemporary discourses on the ethics and politics of translation Shaken Wisdom Gloria Nne Onyeoziri,2011-09-13 In her focus on irony and meaning in postcolonial African fiction Gloria Nne Onyeoziri refers to an internal subversion of the discourse of the wise and the powerful a practice that has played multiple roles in the circulation of knowledge authority and opinion within African communities in the interpretation of colonial and postcolonial experience and in the ongoing resistance to tyrannies in African societies But irony is always reversible and may be used to question the oppressed as well as the oppressor shaking all presumptions of wisdom Although the author cites numerous African writers she selects six works by Chinua Achebe Ahmadou Kourouma and Calixthe Beyala for her primary analysis Modern Language Initiative Traduction & Littérature Multilingue Alfons Knauth,2011 The African Palimpsest Chantal Zabus,2007-01-01 Uniting a sense of the political dimensions of language appropriation with a serious yet accessible linguistic terminology The African Palimpsest examines the strategies of indigenization whereby West African writers have made their literary English or French distinctively African Through the apt metaphor of the palimpsest a surface that has been written on written over partially erased and written over again the book examines such well known West African writers as Achebe Armah Ekwensi Kourouma Okara Saro Wiwa Soyinka and Tutuola as well as lesser known writers from francophone and anglophone Africa Providing a great variety of case studies in Nigerian Pidgin Akan Igbo Maninka Yoruba Wolof and other African languages the book also clarifies the vital interface between Europhone African writing and the new outlets for African artistic expression in auto translation broadcast television radio and film The Sequential Dynamics of Narrative Ken Ireland,2001 Building on critical theories of narrative this study analyses temporal and continuity relations in fiction Bakhtinian Explorations of Indian Culture Lakshmi Bandlamudi,E. V. Ramakrishnan,2018-02-11 This volume an important contribution to dialogic and Bakhtin studies shows the natural fit between Bakhtin's ideas and the pluralistic culture of India to a global academic audience It is premised on the fact that long before principles of dialogism took shape in the Western world these ideas though not labelled as such were an integral part of intellectual histories in India Bakhtin's ideas and intellectual traditions of India stand under the same banner of plurality open endedness and diversity of languages and social speech types and therefore the affinity between the thinker and the culture seems natural Rather than being a mechanical import of Bakhtin's ideas it is an occasion to reclaim reactivate and reenergize inherent dialogicality in the Indian cultural historical and philosophical histories Bakhtin is not an incidental figure for he offers precise analytical tools to make sense of the incredibly complex differences at every level in the cultural life of India Indian heterodoxy lends well to a Bakhtinian reading and analysis and the papers herein attest to this The papers range from how ideas from Indo European philology reached Bakhtin through a circuitous route to responses to Bakhtin's thought on the carnival from the philosophical perspectives of Abhinavagupta to a Bakhtinian reading of literary texts from India The volume also includes an essay on translation as dialogue an issue central to multilingual cultures and on inherent dialogicality in the long intellectual traditions in India

Subversive Traditions Jonathon Repinecz, 2019-10-01 How can traditions be subversive The kinship between African traditions and novels has been under debate for the better part of a century but the conversation has stagnated because of a slowness to question the terms on which it is based orality vs writing tradition vs modernity epic vs novel These rigid binaries were in fact invented by colonialism and cemented by postcolonial identity politics Thanks to this entrenched paradigm far too much ink has been poured into the so called Great Divide between oral and writing societies and to the long lamented decline of the ways of old Given advances in social science and humanities research studies in folklore performance invented traditions colonial and postcolonial ethnography history and pop culture the moment is right to rewrite this calcified literary history This book is not another story of subverted traditions but of subversive ones West African epics like Sunjata Samori and Lat Dior offer a space from which to think about and criticize the issues of today just as novels in European languages do Through readings of documented performances and major writers like Yambo Ouologuem and Amadou Hamp t B of Mali Ahmadou Kourouma of Ivory Coast and Aminata Sow Fall and Boubacar Boris Diop of Senegal this book conducts an entirely new analysis of West African oral epic and its relevance to contemporary world literature
