Hastenrath, 2012-12-06 The first edition of my book Climate and Circulation of the Tropics was reasonably up to date to the middle of 1985 In a second printing in 1988 it was possible to complete a few literature references and to correct some misprints However vigorous research has taken place over the past five years in various areas of tropical climate dynamics especially in the atmosphere ocean mechanisms of climate anomalies climate prediction ocean circulation and paleoclimates Promising progress has also been made in the application of general circulation modelling to tropical climate problems In the present second edition named Climate

Dynamics of the Tropics I have attempted to incorporate much of the recent work to late 1990 Chapters 8 and 9 have been essentially re written and major additions have been made to Chapters 4 and 12 in particular I would like to acknowledge the continued support by the U S National Science Foundation over the past five years B Parthasarathy Poona and H Lessmann San Salvador sent me updates of data series not easily accessible I have benefitted from discussions with numerous colleagues in the United States and overseas In the preparation of this second edition Marilyn Wolff patiently transferred my illegible hand written drafts onto word processor Dierk Polzin and Dan Skemp assisted me with the creation of the page masters and the subject index and Christopher Collimore with the author index Monsoons over China Ding

Yihui,2013-03-09 The monsoon over China is one of the major components of the general circulation on a global basis Its activity bears a significant regional implication in East Asia and Southeast Asia Recently the remarkable relationship and teleconnection between this part of the monsoon and other regions over the world have been revealed However little of the overall picture of monsoons over China is known by meteorologists in English speaking countries This monograph provides the first opportunity to extensively introduce this subject and give a comprehensive and systematic description of the major aspects of monsoons over China with a special emphasis on the fluctuations of the monsoon on various scales and the effects of the Tibetan Plateau on the monsoon Much highly original material and achievements Chinese and Western meteorologists have made from the past 20 years have been incorporated with a unifying approach In each chapter the observational and theoretical including modelling treatment will be closely combined in order to fully illustrate the relevant problems The unique thermal and dynamical effects of the Tibetan Plateau on the monsoon circulation features which are one of the central problems of the Asian monsoon are highlights of this monograph Researchers in meteorology and weather forecasters should find this book a very useful introduction to monsoons over China not only for its systematic treatment of the subject but also because of its considerable historical information This monograph is equally suitable for graduates or more advanced students in meteorology hydrology and oceanography Monthly Weather Review ,1984 Climate and circulation of the tropics S. Hastenrath,2012-12-06 Tropical atmosphere and ocean are receiving increased attention in relation to the functioning of the global climate system the remarkable climatic variability in low latitudes and the associated manifold environmental and societal consequences Beyond the traditional emphasis of meteorology on weather analysis and forecasting there is a growing interest in the climate and large scale circulation of the tropics This book may serve as a text for graduate and upper division undergraduate students in meteorology and is also intended as a reference work for practicing meteorologists and researchers in the atmospheric oceanic and other environmental sciences I began writing this book in 1979 but the roots reach further back Early experiences in North Africa fuelled my curiosity about the low latitudes In 1960 I seized the opportunity to work in the National Meteorological Service of El Salvador in Central America My interest in the tropics continued after joining the University of Wisconsin in 1963 Field research brought me to the equatorial Pacific and many times to the tropical Americas and Africa This involved visits and correspondence with many weather services My acquaintance with Australasia and South Asia is limited to short study visits but includes continuous contacts with colleagues at key research institutions in India namely the India Meteorological Department the Indian Institute of Tropical Meteorology and Andhra University A guest semester at the University of the Witwatersrand in 1971 and related travels provided a perspective on the problems of Southern Africa
