Reflections Along A Political Journey:

Psychoanalytic Reflections on Politics Eszter Salgó, 2013-11-07 Psychoanalytic Reflections on Politics Fatherlands in mothers hands is a playful exploration of how people's desires, fantasies and emotions shape political events and social phenomena. It highlights the mythical sources of today's political projects, the power of political imagination and the function of symbolism in political thought. Eszter Salgó argues that the driving force for the formation of political communities is fantasy, illusions in a Winnicottian sense, phantasies in a Lacanian sense, phantoms as described by Nicolas Abraham and Maria Torok, and dreams as interpreted by Sándor Ferenczi. She introduces the metaphor of the fantastic family as a symbolic representation of political communities both to reflect on people's deeply felt desire to find in public life the resolution, love and wholeness of early childhood and to unveil the political elite's readiness to don the mask of the ideal parent. The book is divided into two parts. The first part of the book explores the theories of Donald Winnicott and Jacques Lacan, the matrimony on the stage of politics between the good enough mother and the Symbolic Father, which inaugurates the story of democracy's fantastic family. The second part presents the fantastic families of selected countries such as Hungary, Italy and the world community to explain the proliferation of cosmogony projects and to document the failure of the political elites to offer a satisfactory performance of their maternal and paternal functions. Psychoanalytic Reflections on Politics Fatherlands in mothers hands presents a new way of considering the art of politics based on the understanding that people perceive reality through imagination and unconscious fantasy. It will be of interest to psychoanalysts and academics from across the disciplines of politics, psychology, anthropology, sociology, philosophy, literature and art. Reflections on Political Theory N. Wood, 2001-12-18 In this thought provoking study, Neal Wood challenges the conception of political theory as a lofty discipline remote from the world of real politics. Drawing on the examples of thinkers from Plato to those of the nineteenth century, he attempts to define political theory by examining the nature of the state and politics by identifying the major characteristics that their theories share and by analyzing the conditions that have favoured their creation. Wood critically explores the two principle approaches to studying the work of past theorists, the philosophical and historical, and evaluates the relevance of Marxism. The various theories are not treated as blueprints but collectively as a voice of reason from the past which can inspire and guide present and future theorizing. Reflections on Learning, Life and Work Maureen Ryan, 2012-10-26 This book records the stories of doctoral study experiences of the twenty-two writers. These research degree experiences are embedded in the lives and careers of the writers and the twenty-two distinctive projects draw from those individual lives and careers. The authors write about meeting the continuing demands of older and younger family members and of their struggles with ill health and work place demands while working through their studies. There is also the joy of coming to see themselves and being seen as research scholars and supporting and celebrating with others as they move through candidature proposals and ethics applications to graduation. Apart from the stories that bring the writers to their particular projects and that colour their individual journeys storytelling methodology is most often selected for the research all of which is undertaken within the arts humanities and education Phenomenology narrative ethnography are central to most of the studies and the detailed accounts of each research topic methods and outcomes locate each of the research projects in rich bodies of knowledge Valued writers and readers in these fields Mary Beattie and Elaine Martin have read each reflection and provided in turn a foreword and an afterword which bookend the volume and further enrich these reflections on learning life and work

Young, 2016-04-08

The late John Rawls was one of the most inspiring provocative and influential political philosophers of the twentieth century In this collection a panel of distinguished political philosophers critically explore the intellectual legacy of Rawls The essays herein engage Rawls's political theorizing from his earliest published writings in the 1950s to his final publication in 2001 Justice as Fairness A Restatement and explore a diversity of issues related to his arguments such as the attractiveness of his methodology methodologies and the normative coherence and empirical validity of his claims In turn the effectiveness both of his arguments and those of various supporters and critics are evaluated from the perspective of a variety of analytical approaches including cosmopolitanism communitarianism perfectionism liberalism and legal theory This book is an edifying and engaging dialogue with ideas and arguments that have provided the theoretical framework for much of contemporary political philosophy and a thoughtful assessment of their continuing significance and place within the pantheon of political philosophy Long Journey to the Border Vincent O'Sullivan, 2011

John Mulgan was part of a gifted yet uneasy group of young New Zealanders who made their mark between the wars men such as Ian Milner James Bertram Dan Davin and Geoffrey Cox An Oxford graduate he worked as a publisher at Oxford University Press before leaving for the front in World War Two Fascinated but sometimes troubled by his home country Mulgan saw New Zealand as a place of challenge and austere demands a land that produced men more practical than cultivated In his famous novel Man Alone he depicted it as a tough often heartless country characterised by the solitary figure who has come to symbolise the male New Zealand psyche He wrote more warmly of the place and the people in the poignant memoir Report on Experience published after his death Mulgan was a glamorous figure handsome gifted and good at anything he attempted His last years were spent fighting in the Allied cause in Egypt and Greece where he distinguished himself But there were darker threads too which culminated in his decision to take his own life in Cairo just after the end of the war and aged only 33 In this penetrating biography Vincent O'Sullivan draws on a large collection of personal papers official records and contemporary memoirs to paint a vivid portrait of a man who came to represent so much about his country and his time Gadamer and Ricoeur Francis J. Mootz III, George H. Taylor, 2011-06-16 The Routledge Handbook of Political Phenomenology Steffen Herrmann, Gerhard

Thonhauser, Sophie Loidolt, Tobias Matzner, Nils Baratella, 2024-06-12 Phenomenology has primarily been concerned with conceptual questions about knowledge and ontology. However, in recent years, the rise of interest and research in applied phenomenology has seen the study of political phenomenology move to a central place in the study of phenomenology generally. The Routledge Handbook of Political Phenomenology is the first major collection on this important topic. Comprising 35 chapters by an international team of expert contributors, the handbook is organized into six clear parts, each with its own introduction by the editors. Founders of Phenomenology: Existentialist Phenomenology, Phenomenology of the Social and Political World, Phenomenology of Alterity, Phenomenology in Debate, Contemporary Developments. Full attention is given to central figures in the phenomenological movement, including Husserl, Heidegger, Sartre, Merleau-Ponty, and Levinas, as well as those whose contribution to political phenomenology is more distinctive, such as Arendt, De Beauvoir, and Fanon. Also included are chapters on gender, race, and intersectionality, disability, and technology. Ideal for those studying phenomenology, continental philosophy, and political theory. The Routledge Handbook of Political Phenomenology bridges an important gap between a major philosophical movement and contemporary political issues and concepts. Deeply Felt, Reflections on Religion & Violence within the Anarchist Turn Karen Kennedy, 2015-10-26 This book is a reflection upon the anarchist turn. It takes three newish anarchists and interprets their work following the method of exegesis. Two questions guide the work: What can the anarchist turn tell us about revolution and nonviolence, and what can it tell us about contemporary religion? The protagonists are David Graeber, Timothy Morton, and Simon Critchley. This book is of interest to anarchists, activists, and philosophers. Indeed, anyone doing and interested in interdisciplinary approaches to important cultural questions and the building of nonviolent cultures should find at least parts of this book interesting. Track III Actions Helena Desivilya Syna, Geoffrey Corry, 2023-01-30 Since the end of the Cold War in the early 90s, a multi-track approach to peacemaking has been developed by academics and practitioners to bring political and civil society leaders together from across the divide of contested societies to find ways out of the conflict. Much of the focus up to now has been given to the strategic contribution of Track II conflict analysis and problem-solving workshops. This book puts the spotlight on the role that grassroots leaders and citizens can play at Track III level in the community in building and strengthening a bottom-up approach to conflict transformation following protracted conflicts. In Part 1, the focus is on the post-conflict situation of Northern Ireland twenty years after the Belfast Good Friday Agreement. Part 2 portrays scholarly and practitioners' perspectives and actions in communities and organizations designed to build partnerships in order to counteract the legacies of active protracted conflict. Plots the role of Track III approaches within a multi-track peacemaking pyramid in the protracted conflict and post-conflict phases of conflict transformation. Provides case studies on how to engage community leaders in thinking together how to work with deep-seated legacies of protracted conflicts. Explores the contribution of bottom-up models to build intergroup partnerships within and between local communities. Focuses on the
