Methodological Reflections on Women's Contribution and Influence in the History of Philosophy Sigrídur Thorgeirsdóttir, Ruth Edith Hagengruber, 2020-07-11 This book introduces methodological concepts aimed at including women in the canon of the history of philosophy The history of women philosophers is as long and strong as the history of philosophy and this holds true not only for the European tradition as the research of women philosophers of the past shows The phenomenon of ignoring and excluding women in 19th and 20th century views on the history of philosophy was a result of the patriarchal tradition that ostracized women in general In this book leading feminist philosophers discuss methodologies for including women thinkers in the canon and curricula of philosophy How does the recovery of women thinkers and their philosophies change our view of the past and how does a different view of the past affect us in the present Studying a richer and more pluralistic history of philosophy presents us with worlds we have never entered and have never been able to approach This book will appeal to philosophers and intellectual historians wanting to view the history of philosophy in a new light and who are in favor of an inclusive perspective on that history

Why Men Hurt Women and Other Reflections on Love, Violence and Masculinity Kopano Ratele, 2022-09-01 Using conversations observations and reflections psychologist Kopano Ratele meditates on love violence and masculinity This book seeks to imagine the possibility of a more loving masculinity in a society where structural violence failures of government and economic inequality underpin much of the violent behavior that men display Enriched with personal reflections on his own experiences as a partner father psychologist and researcher in the field of men and masculinities Why Men Hurt Women and Other Reflections on Love Violence and Masculinity is Kopano Ratele's meditation on love and violence and the way these forces shape the emotional lives of boys and men At the core of these critical and deeply insightful texts is the question of why men hurt women they love Ratele contends that many men in our society suffer from a painful unrecognized yet consequential love hunger that sets in during boyhood This need for love may lie at the root of some of the male violence that damages the lives of women children and men themselves Blending academic analysis and rigor in a readable narrative style Ratele illuminates the complex nuances of gender intimacy and power in the context of the human need for love and care While unsparing in his analysis of men s inner lives Ratele lays out a path for addressing the hunger for love in boys and men He argues that just as the beliefs and practices relating to gender sexuality and the nature of love are constantly being challenged and revised so our ideas about masculinity and men s and boys capacity to show genuine loving care for each other and for women can evolve Allusions and Reflections Elisabeth Wåghäll

Critical Reflection to Develop Emancipatory Change Christine Morley, 2016-04-08 Overwhelmingly critical practitioners working across a range of human service fields who are committed to emancipatory and progressive social change ideals report feeling powerless alienated from the means of change and hopeless about their capacities to make a difference in the lives of the individuals groups or communities with whom they work because of restrictive contexts that ultimately determine the nature and parameters of their work This ground breaking book addresses this dilemma by demonstrating how critical reflection as an educational tool enables practitioners to envision possibilities for change The legal system particularly in its response to sexual assault provides a perfect example of this type of context and this volume explores the work of sexual assault practitioners that are engaged in supporting victims survivors of sexual assault through the legal process By reshaping ideas that have previously been considered as predominantly theoretical and abstract Morley s work provides an innovative framework that enables social work and human services practitioners to find hope agency and practical strategies to work towards change despite operating in contexts that appear immutably oppressive

In My Reflection Ameerah A. Rahman, 2011-04-19 This book is written to inspire people from all walks of life. To bring love, loss, pain, happiness, empowerment, and inspiration into light. To share the power of words; some words are a comfort to some, and some words are revealing for others. Words are extremely powerful and can cause so many emotions and actions. This book is best described in this poem: I keep trying to lay out all of my expressions and feelings without trying to be too revealing and without trying to be too concealing, and as I pull back each layer of skin, peelings, another layer appears concealing my anger, love, and fears, blood rolling over each pain even as the needle penetrates the vein; the lines are not clear but the skin is left stained. And a message is sent to the brain as it's trying to push back the memories. The lies I created in attempt to deceive. Living in the world of make-believe. Even though I'm speaking, it's not truly describing the pain. So I scream louder, thing that you can now hear me, but instead of it, the words coming out clear. In the air, they are crisp sounds of despair. Heart needed to repair, holding back words, trying not to swear. Not to ignite a fire. I'm not sure that's there. Unsure if I should share. If I could repair the damage that is done here, concealed, not revealed, and not truly healed, but healing. I pull back this layer of skin and let you in. Thick skin. Copyright 2010

Varieties of Ethical Reflection Michael Barnhart, 2002-01-01 Varieties of Ethical Reflection brings together new cultural and religious perspectives drawn from non-Western, primarily Asian, philosophical sources to globalize the contemporary discussion of theoretical and applied ethics. The work pushes ethics beyond a Western philosophical tradition, tending toward universalism, to infuse and broaden modern ethical theory with relativistic Asian ethical principles. The contributors introduce multicultural concepts and ideas from the Chinese, Taoist, Confucian, and Neo-Confucian, Indian, and East Asian Buddhist and Hindu traditions, focusing on such areas of moral controversy as the clash between women's rights and culture, universal human rights, abortion, and euthanasia in a non-Western setting, and the standardization of medical practice across cultures.

Reflections on Mind and the Image of Reality Jason Brown, 2017-05-24 This collection of brief essays and still briefer commentaries is a personal reflection on some topics that have been thematic in the development of my theoretical work. These essays are not meant to extend the theory into yet uncharted territory but rather to draw out some of its implications for clinical neuroscience, philosophy of mind, and everyday life. The point of view guiding these reflections can be found in prior works, but the discerning reader will not fail to see a departure from current models of mind and brain based on circuit board diagrams, modular and computational theories that conflict with a processual account.

in which the mind brain is more like a living organism This perspective which is often at odds with common sense and folk psychology has particular relevance to our concepts of the self the inner life subjective time adaptive process and the world represented in perception The ^AConfucian ^IFour Books for Women^R ,2018-04-02 This volume brings the first English translation of the Confucian classics Four Books for Women to the English speaking world with extensive commentary by the compiler Wang Xiang and annotations by the translator As a female counterpart to the famous Sishu Four Books compiled by Zhu Xi Wang Xiang's Sishu was an indispensable primer for women's education from its publication in the 16th century until the beginning of the 20th century This work provides an invaluable look at the long standing history and evolution of Chinese women's writing education identity and philosophical discourse along with their struggles and triumphs across the millenniums and numerous Chinese dynasties Women, Presbyterianism and Patriarchy Isabel Apawo Phiri,2007 This is the first book by a Malawian woman theologian First released in 1997 it won an honorable mention in the Noma Award for Publishing in Africa in 1998 and is now updated here with a new introduction by the author The study traces the struggles and contribution of Chewa women to the Church of Central Africa Presbyterian Amongst the topics are female mediums in traditional religion post missionary developments in Chigwirizano women's attempts to achieve some public manifestation of their personal relationship to God in open ministry and the current women's organisation in Nkhoma Synod Dr Isabel Apawo Phiri is in the Department of Theology and Religious Studies at the University of Malawi Men and Women in Qing China Edwards,2021-09-13 Men and Women in Qing China is an analysis of Chinese prescriptions of gender as represented in Cao Xueqin's famous eighteenth century Chinese novel of manners The Red Chamber Dream or The Story of the Stone Drawing on feminist literary critical methods it examines Qing notions of masculinity and femininity including themes such as bisexuality motherhood virginity and purity and gender and power Its central aim is to challenge the common assumption that the novel represents some form of early Chinese feminism by examining the text in conjunction with historical data The book will be especially important to those interested in issues of gender in China the history of Chinese literary criticism and the application of feminist theory to the Asian text Sexualities: Making a sociology of sexualities Kenneth Plummer,2002 Volume 3 Difference and Diversity of Sexualities This section examines the politics power and critique of sexual categories including bisexuality sex addiction prostitution and sadomasochism
