Ceremony and Ritual in Parliament Shirin M. Rai, 2013-10-18 Ceremony and Ritual in Parliament breaks new ground in the study of legislatures It combines mainstream historical and social science approaches with cultural theory to consider how parliamentary ritual is constructed through ceremony space and socialisation The focus is on the marginalised groups especially women and members of ethnic minorities who seek inclusion as representatives in democratic legislatures This book assesses aspects of the role that ceremony and ritual in legislatures play especially but not exclusively in their gendered and racialised dimensions Within this broad frame it considers the impact of space identity ritual and or ceremony on the institutional form of parliament how power is shaped within it how the behaviour of members is facilitated constrained and shaped how power and rituals interact to and how they impinge upon the relationships between representative institutions and citizens Contributions are theoretical and empirical comparative or single country studies of national or sub national legislatures They have interdisciplinary historical or postcolonial perspectives that contribute to this emerging field in the study of parliaments This book was previously published as a special issue of the Journal of Legislative Studies

White Logic, White Methods Tukufu Zuberi, Eduardo Bonilla-Silva, 2008-05-02 In this collection of essays the authors examine how racial considerations have affected the way social science is conducted how issues are framed and data is analyzed With an assemblage of leading scholars White Logic White Methods explores the possibilities and necessary dethroning of current social research practices and demands a complete overhaul of current methods towards multicultural and pluralist approach to what we know think and question

Black Women's Christian Activism Betty Livingston Adams, 2018-04-03 2017 Wilbur Non Fiction Award Recipient Winner of the 2018 Author s Award in scholarly non fiction presented by the New Jersey Studies Academic Alliance Winner 2020 Kornitzer Book Prize given by Drew University

Examines the oft overlooked role of non elite black women in the growth of northern suburbs and American Protestantism in the first half of the twentieth century When a domestic servant named Violet Johnson moved to the affluent white suburb of Summit New Jersey in 1897 she became one of just barely a hundred black residents in the town of six thousand In this avowedly liberal Protestant community the very definition of the suburbs depended on observance of unmarked and fluctuating race and class barriers But Johnson did not intend to accept the status quo Establishing a Baptist church a year later a seemingly moderate act that would have implications far beyond weekly worship Johnson challenged assumptions of gender and race advocating for a politics of civic righteousness that would grant African Americans an equal place in a Christian nation Johnson s story is powerful but she was just one among the many working class activists integral to the budding days of the civil rights movement Focusing on the strategies and organizational models church women employed in the fight for social justice Adams tracks the intersections of politics and religion race and gender and place and space in a New York City suburb a local example that offers new insights on northern racial oppression and civil rights protest As this book makes clear religion made a key difference in the lives and activism of ordinary black women who lived worked and worshiped on the margin during this tumultuous time Arts & Humanities Citation Index ,2002 Religious
