

River

The river below us:
nitrogen, phosphorous, petrochemicals, dioxin from the paper mills, a rich buffet of metals digested from the mines, and still we remain oblivious to its symptoms until a skull-and-crossbones sign warns of the poisons that run the course of its slim body, writhing like a patient on a gurney, admitted for treatment; warns too, of its offspring in the waiting room: soft-shell crabs, oysters, the striped bass, the silk fillet, and the trout we want to bring home to the sizzle of butter and garlic and the fresh herbs in the kitchen.

And suddenly we are left alone to recover mere memory: the river we had swung across on ropes in the dungarees of childhood, splashing in its shallow gut; the river over which we fought and killed—and for which we even died—the river we damned.

River's poems have touched the hearts of many. Rev Alex A. Benten, Houston, Texas, says River's poetry gives you a window into the world as seen from her unique, original, and wonderful viewpoint. Reading her poems will challenge you, make you think, and cause you to look at life in a whole new way. And that's a good thing, a very good thing. Robert Matthews, Professor, Sam Houston University, says River's poetry is composed from the intertwinement of her deep experiences and her intense, vivid soul that, when heard, leaves your ears musically mesmerized and your heart hugged with a lesson of love that the world needs to feel. Dawn R. Higgins, Educator, Dayton, Texas, says River is wringing intense significance from seemingly everyday events, interactions, and experiences. River Michaels touches a deeply personal yet universal chord in A River of Rain. The fifty poems collected here reveal a profound human spirit in diverse ruminations on death and longing and the inescapable passage of time. Through it all, Michaels demonstrates a keen sense of the music and weight of words. The result offers new insight into the otherwise ordinary and a strengthened appreciation for our limited time on earth.
