Onorato,Museum of Contemporary Art, San Diego,1997 Far from being the latest movement or a new development in contemporary art installation art one could argue is only the most recent manifestation of the oldest tradition in art going as far back as the prehistoric paintings on cave walls at Lascaux Fundamental to this work are its habitation and incorporation of a physical site a connection to real conditions be they visual historical or social and often a bridging of traditional art boundaries The aesthetic power of installation art does not reside in the singular commodified object but rather in the artwork s ability to become not merely represent the continuum of real experience Blurring the Boundaries examines the subject of installation art through the permanent collection and exhibition record of the Museum of Contemporary Art San Diego an institution with a unique heritage in support of such art dating back to the 1960s Finders, Keepers Contemporary Arts Museum,Lynn McLanahan Herbert,1997 Catalog for exhibition held December 13 1997 January 25 1998 Lateral Thinking Toby Kamps,2002 Edward de Bono invented the term lateral thinking and defined it as such 1 You cannot dig a hole in a different place by digging the same hole deeper 2 Lateral Thinking is for changing concepts and perceptions instead of trying harder with the same concepts and perceptions 3 In self organizing information systems asymmetric patterns are formed Lateral Thinking is a method for cutting across from one pattern to another As the title of this book Lateral Thinking refers to the non traditional approach that the Museum of Contemporary Art San Diego has applied to building its collection Curatorially independent striking a balance between the regional and the global the emerging artist and the established figure the MCA has always
