The Tower of Babel Hugo Gressmann,1928 The lectures deal with the influence of Babylonia upon Israel using the tower of Babel as the symbol of Babylonia Towers of Strength W. H. Clements,1998-08-12 Martello towers were built in the early part of the nineteenth century to defend the coast of England against Napoleonic invasion Almost 200 years later forty one of these handsome brick towers still stand along the coast of Kent Sussex Essex and Suffolk The chest of their construction was comparable in relative terms to that of today s Trident missile system The line of towers was never tested in action but acted as an effective deterrent against invasion Today Martello towers are a familiar sight from Aldeburgh in Suffolk to Newhaven in Sussex but it is generally known that similar towers were built by the Royal Engineers to defend British interests in other parts of the world Martello towers were being built as late as the 1850s as far afield as Canada Mauritius Australia and the Mediterranean This book illustrated with numerous photographs and plans is the first comprehensive and detailed study of the known Martello towers built by the British Its description of their construction use current condition and fate will fascinate the enquiring reader as well as being a source of interest to visitors Many of the towers remain landmarks today Fort Denison in Sydney Harbour being a case in point Bulletin ... Pennsylvania. Dept. of Forests and Waters,1925 Validation of a Surface-layer Windflow Model Using Climatology and Meteorological Tower Data from Vandenberg AFB, California John M. Lanicci,1986 This report describes the 2nd phase of a study involving a surface layer windflow model The model produces a two dimensional x y plane variational analysis of windflow by employing Gauss principle of least constraints to adjust an initial windfield to effects of topography stability momentum advection and mass conservation It used detailed terrain data 100 to 200 m horizontal resolution to compensate for sparse meteorological data available over the small areas for which the model is run 25 to 250 sq km The first phase involved testing of the model to effects of stability and vegetation using terrain vegetation and climate for Ft Polk LA The 2nd phase involves further model development including changes in meteorological data input as well as changes in wind and stability initializations Model experiments using artificially produced terrain were conducted to test these changes A two part model validation was then performed using climate data and archived meteorological tower data from Vandenberg AFB California The area of interest is 11 x 12 km and covers the South Vandenberg Launch Complex Tower-7 the Sustainer's Betty L.
