Seventeenth Century Painting:

European Art of the Seventeenth Century Rosa Giorgi, 2008 This volume presents the most noteworthy concepts artists and cultural centers of the seventeenth century through a close examination of many of its greatest paintings sculptures and buildings The Baroque rooted in classicism but with a new emphasis on emotionalism and naturalism was the leading style of the seventeenth century The movement exhibited both stylistic complexity and great diversity in its subject matter from large religious works and history paintings to portraits landscapes and scenes of everyday life Masters of the era included Caravaggio whose innovations in the dramatic uses of light and shadow influenced many of the century's artists notably Rembrandt the sculptor painter and architect Bernini with his combination of technical brilliance and expressiveness and other familiar names such as Rubens Poussin Velazquez and Vermeer This was the era of absolute monarchs including Spain's Habsburgs and Louis XIII and XIV of France whose artistic patronage helped furnish their opulent palaces But a new era of commercialism in which artists increasingly catered to affluent collectors of the professional and merchant classes also flourished

Dutch Seventeenth-century Genre Painting Wayne E. Franits, 2004-01-01 The appealing genre paintings of great seventeenth century Dutch artists Vermeer Steen de Hooch Dou and others have long enjoyed tremendous popularity This comprehensive book explores the evolution of genre painting throughout the Dutch Golden Age beginning in the early 1600s and continuing through the opening years of the next century Wayne Franits a well known scholar of Dutch genre painting offers a wealth of information about these works as well as about seventeenth century Dutch culture its predilections and its prejudices The author approaches genre paintings from a variety of perspectives examining their reception among contemporary audiences and setting the works in their political cultural and economic contexts The works emerge as distinctly conventional images Franits shows as genre artists continually replicated specific styles motifs and a surprisingly restricted number of themes over the course of several generations Luxuriously illustrated and with a full representation of the major artists and the cities where genre painting flourished this book will delight students scholars and general readers alike

Seventeenth-Century Dutch and Flemish Painting Ivan Gaskell, Sammlung Thyssen-Bornemisza, 1990 A catalogue of 128 paintings produced during this period in which the art of portraiture was transformed religious imagery dynamized and new genres such as flower painting were established The art of Holland's Golden Age is perennially popular with collectors and gallery visitors alike and this book provides a new insight into this unique private collection In his introduction Ivan Gaskell considers the extremely varied character of Dutch and Flemish seventeenth century art It ranges from minutely observed scenes of everyday life to portraits religious works and intimate still life compositions The Thyssen Bornemisza Collection is especially rich in landscapes a subject which had emerged as a separate genre in the Netherlands in the previous century The author outlines the development of painting on both sides of the border placing it in its social and historical context and goes on to discuss the taste for Dutch and Flemish art from the seventeenth century to the present day and spotlights some of the earlier collectors This detailed catalogue of 128 paintings is the result of meticulous research in British Dutch and American libraries and archives The entries are arranged in ten groups by subject so that thematic similarities can be conveniently examined Amongst the most celebrated works is Frans Hals's monumental Family Portrait once the most expensive painting in the world All the paintings are illustrated in colour and are accompanied by comparative illustrations and technical photographs Seventeenth-century Art & Architecture Ann Sutherland Harris, 2005

Encompassing the socio-political-cultural background of the period this title takes a look at the careers of the Old Masters and many lesser-known artists The book covers artistic developments across six countries and examines in detail many of the artworks on display Art in History/History in Art David Freedberg, Jan de Vries, 1996-07-11 Historians and art historians provide a critique of existing methodologies and an interdisciplinary inquiry into seventeenth-century Dutch art and culture

An Entrance for the Eyes Martha Hollander, 2002-03-20 How refreshing how absolutely refreshing to find a book on Dutch painting that asks readers to begin by simply looking Hollander is faithful to the possibility so common in painting so unusual in scholarship that the paintings are elusive evasive unsystematically ambiguous Doors ajar windows onto the street paintings within paintings half-drawn curtains blank mirrors a man's coat hung on a nail those are the engines of interpretation and Hollander tells their history lucidly and entirely persuasively James Elkins author of The Object Stares Back Hollander offers fresh and compelling readings of key works by Karel van Mander Gerard Dou Nicolaes Maes and Pieter de Hooch Very few recent books on Dutch art are as rich as this and few are written in such lucid unpretentious prose What shines forth from every page is a genuine love of the pictures Here is art history well tempered to the objects it interprets Joseph L Koerner author of The Moment of Self-Portraiture in German Renaissance Art In recent years scholars have explored how space signifies in seventeenth-century Dutch art and culture Hollander's fascinating study is the most comprehensive to date It examines space as conceived in the writings of Dutch art theorists constructed in contemporary architecture and disposed and made meaningful in the work of Gerard Dou Nicolaes Maes Pieter de Hooch and Karel van Mander An Entrance for the Eyes lays a firm foundation for research on this intriguing and hitherto understudied aspect of Dutch art Wayne E Franits author of Paragons of Virtue Women and Domesticity in Seventeenth-Century Dutch Art

Shifting Priorities Nanette Salomon, 2004 This ground breaking book offers the first sustained examination of Dutch seventeenth century genre painting from a theoretically informed feminist perspective Other recent works that deal with images of women in this field maintain the paradoxical combination of seeing the images as positivist reflections of life as it was and as emblems of virtue and vice These reductionist practices deprive the works of their complex nature and of their place in visual culture important frameworks that the book attempts to restore to them Salomon expands the possibilities for understanding both familiar and unfamiliar paintings from this period by submitting them to a wide range of new and provocative questions Paintings and prints from the first half of the century through to the second are analyzed to understand the changing social roles and values attributed to the sexes as they were introduced and reflected in the visual arts

The Seventeenth Century French Paintings National Gallery (Great Britain), Humphrey Wine, 2001 Since 1957 when Martin Davies published The French School an unprecedented amount of research has been undertaken on French seventeenth century artists Taking account of this Humphrey Wine has written afresh on the seventeenth century paintings in Davies's catalogue he has also written detailed entries on all subsequent acquisitions in this field These include as well as paintings by Claude and Poussin major pictures such as La Hyre's Allegory of Grammar the Le Nain brothers Adoration of the Shepherds and Le Sueur's Alexander and his Doctor

Painting as Business in Early Seventeenth-century Rome Patrizia Cavazzini, 2008 Painting as Business in Early Seventeenth Century Rome offers a new perspective on the world of painting in Rome at the beginning of the Baroque from both an artistic and a socioeconomic point of view Biased by the accounts of seventeenth century biographers who were often academic painters concerned about elevating the status of their profession art historians have long believed that in Italy and in Rome in particular paintings were largely produced by major artists working on commission for the most important patrons of the time Patrizia Cavazzini's extensive archival research reveals a substantially different situation Cavazzini presents lively and colorful accounts of Roman artists daily lives and apprenticeships and investigates the vast popular art market that served the aesthetic devotional and economic needs of artisans and professionals and of the laboring class Painting as Business reconstructs the complex universe of painters collectors and merchants and irrevocably alters our understanding of the production collecting and merchandising of painting during a key period in Italian art history

The Visible and the Invisible Daniela Hammer-Tugendhat, 2015-03-10 The book addresses the scientific debates on Rembrandt Metsu Vermeer and Hoogstraten that are currently taking place in art history and cultural studies These focus mainly on the representation of gender difference the relationship between text and image and the emotional discourse They are also an appeal for art history as a form of cultural studies that analyses the semantic potential of art within discursive and social contemporary practices Dutch painting of the seventeenth century reflects its relationship to visible reality It deals with ambiguities and contradictions As an avant garde artistic media it also contributes to the emergence of a subjectivity towards the modern bourgeois It discards subject matter from its traditional fixation with iconology and evokes different imaginations and semantizations aspects that have not been sufficiently taken into account in previous research The book is to be understood as an appeal for art history as a form of cultural science that analyses the semantic potential of art within discursive and social contemporary practices and at the same time demonstrates its relevance today Works by Rembrandt Metsu Vermeer Hoogstraten and others serve as exemplary case studies for addressing current debates in art history and cultural studies such as representation of gender difference relationship between text and image and emotional discourse
