You've Changed Lyn Merryfeather, 2016-07-15 Lesbian women who partner with female to male transsexuals FTMs are all but invisible in the literature They have been scarcely depicted in published work very few research studies have considered them an interesting population and there are few support organizations dedicated to their aid My work is about these women I conducted research and wrote an evocative novella as a way to convey my findings The main theme is the challenge of invisibility and marginalization experienced by lesbian women who find themselves partnered with trans men and must decide how to navigate a new identity while living with a mate who is experiencing the biggest life change possible and often has little energy left to support her A secondary theme is the depiction of the experience of conducting such research in a cautious academic climate The outstanding difference other than the rarity of the subject matter is the readability of the work I used autoethnography as a methodology and wrote in an engaging way using poetry narration and imaginative fictionalized accounts of true experiences

Insistence of the Material Christopher Breu, 2014-09-15 Insistence of the Material engages with recent theories of materiality and biopolitics to provide a radical reinterpretation of experimental fiction in the second half of the twentieth century In contrast to readings that emphasize the metafictional qualities of these works Christopher Breu examines this literature's focus on the material conditions of everyday life from the body to built environments and from ecosystems to economic production In Insistence of the Material Breu rethinks contemporary understandings of biopolitics affirming the importance of forms of materiality that refuse full socialization and resist symbolic manipulation Breu considers a range of novels that reflect questions of materiality in a biopolitical era including William Burroughs's Naked Lunch Thomas Pynchon's V J G Ballard's Crash Dodie Bellamy's The Letters of Mina Harker and Leslie Marmon Silko's Almanac of the Dead Drawing from accounts of the emergence of immaterial production and biopolitics by Michel Foucault Giorgio Agamben Roberto Esposito and Michael Hardt and Antonio Negri Breu reveals the confrontational dimensions of materiality itself in a world devoted to the idea of its easy malleability and transcendence Taking his analysis beyond the boundaries of literature Breu argues that both materiality and subjectivity form sites of resistance to biopolitical control and that new developments in materialist theory advance a conception of social existence in which materiality rather than language or culture is the central term

Handbook of Gender and Activism Jo Reger, Rachel L. Einwohner, Kelsy Kretschmer, 2025-08-11 This innovative Handbook examines how gender shapes social activism and is shaped by activism With a unique interdisciplinary focus it explores the effects of the gender binary on experiences of activism considering how different movements negotiate and at times challenge these traditional conceptions It then moves beyond the binary to explore how gender is challenged by contemporary movements Debates in Transgender, Queer, and Feminist Theory Patricia Elliot, 2016-05-13 Transgender studies is a heterogeneous site of debate that is marked by tensions border wars and rifts both within the field and among feminist and queer theorists Intersecting the domains of women's studies sexuality gender and transgender studies Debates in Transgender Queer and Feminist Theory provides a critical analysis of key texts and theories engaging in a dialogue with prominent theorists of transgendered identity embodiment and sexual politics and intervening in various aspects of a conceptually and politically difficult terrain A central concern is the question of whether the theories and practices needed to foster and secure the lives of transsexuals and transgendered persons will be promoted or undermined a concern that raises broader social political and ethical questions surrounding assumptions about gender sexuality and sexual difference perceptions of transgendered embodiments and identities and conceptions of divergent desires goals and visions The Man Who Invented Gender Terry Goldie, 2014-07-31 In 1955 the controversial and innovative sexologist John Money first used the term gender in a way that we all now take for granted to describe a human characteristic Money's work broke new ground and gave currency to medical ideas about human sexuality As an ardent advocate for sexual liberation he became something of a fixture in the popular imagination This book cuts through Money's talent for polemic and self promotion by digging into the substance of Money's theories and achievements It offers for the first time a balanced and probing textual analysis of this pioneering scholar's writing to assess Money's profound impact on the debates and research on sexuality and gender that dominated the last half of the twentieth century Through his analysis Goldie recovers Money's brilliance and insight from simplistic dismissals of his work due to his involvement in the tragic David Reimer case while never losing sight of his flaws Curiosity Studies Perry Zurn, Arjun Shankar, 2020-04-14 The first English language collection to establish curiosity studies as a unique field From science and technology to business and education curiosity is often taken for granted as an unquestioned good And yet few people can define curiosity Curiosity Studies marshals scholars from more than a dozen fields not only to define curiosity but also to grapple with its ethics as well as its role in technological advancement and global citizenship While intriguing research on curiosity has occurred in numerous disciplines for decades no rigorously cross disciplinary study has existed until now Curiosity Studies stages an interdisciplinary conversation about what curiosity is and what resources it holds for human and ecological flourishing These engaging essays are integrated into four clusters scientific inquiry educational practice social relations and transformative power By exploring curiosity through the practice of scientific inquiry the contours of human learning the stakes of social difference and the potential of radical imagination these clusters focus and reinvigorate the study of this universal but slippery phenomenon the desire to know Against the assumption that curiosity is neutral this volume insists that curiosity has a history and a political import and requires precision to define and operationalize As various fields deepen its analysis a new ecosystem for knowledge production can flourish driven by real world problems and a commitment to solve them in collaboration By paying particular attention to pedagogy throughout Curiosity Studies equips us to live critically and creatively in what might be called our new Age of Curiosity Contributors Danielle S Bassett U of Pennsylvania Barbara M Benedict Trinity College Susan Engel Williams College Ellen K Feder American U Kristina T Johnson Massachusetts Institute of Technology Narendra Keval Christina Le n Princeton U Tyson Lewis U of North Texas Amy Marvin U of Oregon Hilary M Schor U of Southern California Seeta Sistla Hampshire College Heather Anne Swanson Aarhus U
