In the backcountry of North Carolina in 1927 13 year old Harriet motherless since birth and rejected by Joshua her father and ignored by Ida her jealous stepmother has no expectations that she will ever be loved When she encounters Spider a man of deception whose own childhood experiences are despicable she is like a dirt dauber s nest with the dirt still wet not yet secure in its foundation its edges raw unpolished and easily uprooted She has never before met a man who calls himself Spider but she knows spiders the many legged kind She knows how they weave webs to trap unsuspecting victims But she believes Spider offers her the love no one else has and her need is like that of someone in a dry desert with parched lips His entrapment of her and the consequences she endures come long before a conjure woman a painter an old Indian man and a host of other unlikely characters change her expectations The Necessity of Theater Paul Woodruff,2008-04-30 What is unique and essential about theater What separates it from other arts Do we need theater in some fundamental way The art of theater as Paul Woodruff says in this elegant and unique book is as necessary and as powerful as language itself Defining theater broadly including sporting events and social rituals he treats traditional theater as only one possibility in an art that at its most powerful can change lives and as some peoples believe bring a divine presence to earth The Necessity of Theater analyzes the unique power of theater by separating it into the twin arts of watching and being watched practiced together in harmony by watchers and the watched Whereas performers practice the art of being watched making their actions worth watching and paying attention to action choice plot character mimesis and the sacredness of performance space audiences practice the art of watching paying close attention A good audience is emotionally engaged as spectators their engagement takes a form of empathy that can lead to a special kind of human wisdom As Plato implied theater cannot teach us transcendent truths but it can teach us about ourselves Characteristically thoughtful probing and original Paul Woodruff makes the case for theater as a unique form of expression connected to our most human instincts The Necessity of Theater should appeal to anyone seriously interested or involved in theater or performance more broadly
