Low Countries And The New Worlds:

The Low Countries and the New World(s) Johanna C. Prins, 2000 The Low Countries and the New World s is a collection of specialized studies in the Netherlandic field covering topics in Dutch Literature Linguistics History and Art History This volume focuses on the tradition of travel exploration and discovery of new worlds by the Low Countries throughout history In the process the Low Countries have reflected on their own character expanded their experience by exploring other cultures and built small outposts of that culture in many places

Colonial Writing and the New World, 1583-1671 Thomas Scanlan, 1999-09-16 Looks at implications of colonialism for both English and Americans

New Worlds, New Geographies John Rennie Short, 2000-03-01 John Rennie Short maintains that the new world order is neither new nor orderly His book New Worlds New Geographies connects global change urban transformation and scholarly integrity The disintegration of the comforting illusion that the present is just a continuation of the past demands a closer evaluation of how to live one s life in the fragmented chaotic world of postmodernity and the current distrust of rationality and progress In a personal yet analytical style Short elucidates the struggles of governments and individuals to situate themselves within changing nation states and the restructurings of urban spaces into a kind of global village Short insists that it is the responsibility of academics to help make order out of the chaos of postmodernity and make sense of the relationships between people and the environment the social and the spatial the structural and the personal From the restructuring of a new world order to the reappraisal of the role of academics this accessible collection of essays calls for a progressive human geography to help cope with the political changes of a postmodern age New Worlds New Geographies represents a reluctant postmodernist and resident alien s attempt to make sense of a changing world

Colonization of the New World John Fiske, 1902

Historical research in the Low Countries 1970-1975 Alice C. Carter, 2024-09-16 The five review articles included in this volume were produced by the Dutch History Seminar of the University of London with the assistance of several Belgian and Dutch historians They first appeared in the volumes VI X of the Acta Historiae Neerlandicae in 1978 renamed The Low Countries History Yearbook a periodical published by the Dutch Historical Society with the objective of bringing new pUblications on the history of the Low Countries in the Dutch language to the attention of English speaking historians These articles have been republished and provided with indexes in the hope that in this form they will also prove to be useful to students of Belgian and Dutch history who have not been regular readers of the Acta Should this pUblication be favourably received a subsequent volume covering the years 1976 1981 may be issued

THE EDITORS VII Survey of recent Dutch Historiography ALICE C CARTER Editor INTRODUCTION This bibliographical article has been put together by members of the Dutch history seminar held at London University s Institute of Historical Research The article is intended for non Dutch reading scholars and indeed all who are interested in Netherlands history An attempt has been made and will continue to be made to survey important works published in the year previous to that in which the article is drawn up This year we have concerned ourselves with books or in the earlier part of 1971 War in the World Jeremy Black,2017-09-16 War was a central theme in the world history of the late fifteenth and sixteenth centuries with military capability and activity central to its states societies economies and cultures War in the World 1450 1600 provides an account of warfare in the period placing it in global context It offers a corrective to a narrative that has emphasised European developments and obscured the history of non European military systems and cultures of war Highlighting conflict between non Western powers which constituted most of the conflict around the world as well as giving due attention to warfare between Western and non Western powers Black emphasises the breadth and variety of military trajectories and connections This comparative context also provides a framework for considering the idea of a European based Military Revolution A wide ranging account of world military history in a period of substantial development the book will be essential reading for those interested in global history and conflict War in the World 1450 1600 is designed as a companion volume to Jeremy Black s Beyond the Military Revolution Warfare in the Seventeenth Century World Discord and Consensus in the Low Countries, 1700-2000 Jane Fenoulhet,Gerdi Quist,Ulrich Tiedau,2016-05-02 All countries regions and institutions are ultimately built on a degree of consensus on a collective commitment to a concept belief or value system This consensus is continuously rephrased and reinvented through a narrative of cohesion and challenged by expressions of discontent and discord The history of the Low Countries is characterised by both a striving for consensus and eruptions of discord both internally and from external challenges This interdisciplinary volume explores consensus and discord in a Low Countries context along broad cultural linguistic and historical lines Disciplines represented include early modern and contemporary history art history film literature and translation scholars from both the Low Countries and beyond Colonization of the New world Ferdinand Justi,Sara Yorke Stevenson,Morris Jastrow (Jr.),1905 City and Society in the Low Countries, 1100-1600 Bruno Blondé,Marc Boone,Anne-Laure Van Bruaene,2018-10-04 The Low Countries was collectively one of the earliest and most heavily urbanised societies in European history Present day Belgium and the Netherlands still share important common features such as comparatively low income inequalities high levels of per capita income a balanced political structure and a strong civil society This book traces the origins of this specific social model in medieval patterns of urbanisation while also searching for explanations for the historical reproduction of social inequalities Access to cheap inland river navigation and to the sea generated a river delta urbanisation that explains the persistence of a decentralised urban economic network marked by intensive cooperation and competition and by the absence of real metropolises Internally as well powerful checks and balances prevented money and power from being concentrated Ultimately however the utmost defining characteristic of the Low Countries urban cultures was located in their resilient middle classes Translating Knowledge in the Early Modern Low Countries Harold John Cook,Sven Dupré,2012 Knowledge of nature may be common to all of humanity yet it is written in many tongues The story of the Tower of Babel is not only an etiology of the multitude of languages it also suggests that a confusion of tongues confounds communication However as the contributors to this volume show translation is always a transformation This book examines how such transformations generate new knowledge and how translations helped to establish a new science Situated at the border of the Germanic and Romance languages home to a highly educated population the Low Countries fostered multilingualism and became one of the chief sites for translation Series Low Countries Studies on the Circulation of Natural Knowledge Vol 3
