Music as the Source of Learning A.S. Wisbey,2012-12-06 The evidence grows daily that much learning failure results from undetected early childhood hearing problems Gordon 1977 This is because the child is deprived of the state of acute hearing sensitivity normally present at birth which makes it possible to recognize the loudness levels and duration of each individual sound This is how a child learns the significance of the slightest variations in the quality of each sound as he collects information from the environment through all his senses and the meaning of these changes is experienced and understood As a result of normal sensory experience and reaction with the environment the multisensory systems are used and developed Similarly the growth of the brain is stimulated to make possible the storage of information and to produce the biochemical state necessary to transmit and relate the sensory information so collected and stored Monckeberg and Prescott 1975 If the loudness level of sound is reduced so too is its impact In this form a baby s normal startle response to a sound which includes the flickering open of the eyes is rarely experienced This response of the eyes is a seeking out of a sound source The visual localizing of sound sources leading to the anticipation of their spatial position arises from the ability to hear the fine changes of pitch and loudness levels involved in movement Bound, An Arelia LaRue Novel #1 YA
