Multiculturalism And Hybridity In African Literatures:

Multiculturalism & Hybridity in African Literatures African Literature Association. Meeting, 2000 This volume of essays covers all phases and geographical areas of African literature including lesser known areas such as oral literature literature written in African languages and Lusophone literature Also included are articles on Caribbean literature developments in South African theatre and two articles on African film Several writers receive special attention Chinua Achebe Maryse Conde Wole Soyinka Niyi Osundare Ngugi wa Thiong'o and Hampate Ba Also included are the key note addresses by Achebe Conde and Osundare The Comic Imagination in Modern African Literature and Cinema Maik Nwosu, 2016-02-05 This book is a seminal study that significantly expands the interdisciplinary discourse on African literature and cinema by exploring Africa's under visited carnivalesque poetics of laughter Focusing on modern African literature as well as contemporary African cinema particularly the direct to video Nigerian film industry known as Nollywood the book examines the often neglected aesthetics of the African comic imagination In modern African literature which sometimes creatively traces a path back to African folklore and in Nollywood with its aesthetic relationship to Onitsha Market Literature the pertinent styles range from comic simplicitas to comic magnitude with the facilitation of language characterization and plot by a poetics of laughter or lightness as an important aspect of style The poetics at work is substantially carnivalesque a comic preference or tendency that is attributable in different contexts to a purposeful comic sensibility or an unstructured but ingrained or virtual comic mode In the best instances of this comic vision the characteristic laughter or lightness can facilitate a revaluation or reappreciation of the world either because of the aesthetic structure of signification or the consequent chain of signification This referentiality or progressive signification is an important aspect of the poetics of laughter as the African comic imagination variously reflects across genres both the festival character of comedy and its pedagogical value This book marks an important contribution to African literature postcolonial literature world literature comic imagination poetics critical theory and African cinema African Literature Jonathan P. Smithe, 2002 African literature like the continent itself is enormous and diverse East Africa's literature is different from West Africa's which is quite different from South Africa's which has different influences on it than North Africa's Africa's literature is based on a widespread heritage of oral literature some of which has now been recorded Arabic influence can be detected as well as European especially French and English Legends myths proverbs riddles and folktales form the mother load of the oral literature This book presents an overview of African literature as well as a comprehensive bibliography primarily of English language sources Accessed by subject author and title indexes Metaphor and the Slave Trade in West African Literature Laura T. Murphy, 2012-04-02 Metaphor and the Slave Trade provides compelling evidence of the hidden but unmistakable traces of the transatlantic slave trade that persist in West African discourse Through an examination of metaphors that describe the trauma loss and suffering associated with the commerce in human lives this book shows how the horrors of slavery are communicated from generation to generation Laura T Murphy's insightful new readings of canonical West African fiction autobiography drama and poetry explore the relationship between memory and metaphor and emphasize how repressed or otherwise marginalized memories can be transmitted through images tropes rumors and fears By analyzing the unique codes through which West Africans have represented the slave trade this work foregrounds African literary contributions to Black Atlantic discourse and draws attention to the archive that metaphor unlocks for scholars of all disciplines and fields of study

The Cambridge Companion to Literature and Religion Susan M. Felch, 2016-09-12 Each essay in this Companion examines one or more literary texts and a religious tradition to illustrate how we can understand both literature and religion better by looking at them in tandem Unlike most literature and religion books which tend to focus on Christianity and take a highly theoretical approach inappropriate for non specialists The Cambridge Companion to Literature and Religion offers an accessible treatment of both Dharmic and Abrahamic traditions It provides close readings of texts rather than surveys of large topics making it an ideal resource for undergraduate and graduate students of literature and religion

West African Literatures Stephanie Newell, 2006-06-08 The Oxford Studies in Postcolonial Literatures series general editor Elleke Boehmer offers stimulating and accessible introductions to definitive topics and key genres and regions within the rapidly diversifying field of postcolonial literary studies in English This study of West African literatures interweaves the analysis of fiction drama and poetry with an exploration of the broader political cultural and intellectual contexts within which West African writers work Anglophone literatures form the central focus of the book with comparative comments on vernacular literature francophone writing and oral literatures and detailed discussion of selected francophone texts in translation e.g. Senghor Tadjou Beyala B Sembene Moving from a discussion of nationalist and anti colonial writing in the period before independence towards the more experimental writings of contemporary authors such as Vronique Tadjou Ivory Coast Syl Cheney Coker Sierra Leone and Kojo Laing Ghana the book constantly relates texts to the social and political history of West Africa Canonical internationally well known writers such as Chinua Achebe and Wole Soyinka are positioned in relation to the literary cultures and debates which surrounded them when they first produced their seminal texts the discussions and disagreements which have grown up around their work in subsequent decades are also considered The work of new and lesser known writers is also considered including Niyi Osundare Nigeria and Kofi Anyidoho Ghana In order to convey a sense of the rich and complex societies that are clustered beneath the umbrella term postcolonial emphasis is placed on West Africa's diverse oral and popular cultures and the ways in which local intellectuals and readers have responded to the most prominent authors through the aesthetic frameworks generated by these forms

African Modernity and the Philosophy of Culture in the Works of Femi Euba Iyunolu Osagie, 2017-06-05 This book is a significant and original contribution to the ongoing conversation on modernity It uses the creative and critical works of Nigerian playwright and novelist Femi Euba to demonstrate the place and function of African cultures in modernity and makes the case for the vibrancy of such cultures in the shaping and constitution of the modern world In addition to a critique of Euba s fifty year artistic career this book offers an account of Euba s formative relationship with the 1986 Nobel Prize for Literature winner Wole Soyinka during the promising days of the Nigerian theatre in the immediate post independence period and the effect of this relationship on Euba s artistic choices and reflections Euba contributes to our understanding of Africa s negotiation of modernity in significant ways especially in his sensitive reading of Esu the Yoruba god of fate and chance as an artistic consciousness whose historical and ideological mobility during New World slavery during Africa s colonial period and in the manifestations in the black diaspora today emblemizes the process we call modernity By using ritual myth and satire as avenues to the debate on modernity Euba lays emphasis on the transformative possibilities at the crossroads of history His works engage the psychological interconnections between old gods and new worlds and the dialogic relationship between tradition and modernity Delineating the philosophical and literary debates that reject an easy division between a stereotypically traditional Africa and a modern West the author shows how Euba s plays and novel engage the entwined and intimate relationships between the modern and the traditional in contemporary Africa and thereby she asserts the global resonance of Euba s African and specifically Yoruba conception of the world By meticulously collecting cataloguing and critiquing Euba s works Osagie models a new way of practicing African literary studies and invites us to glimpse narrative genius on the continent that she firmly believes African scholars should both promote and celebrate African Perspectives on Literary Translation Judith Inggs,Ella Wehrmeyer,2021-03-02 This collection serves as a showcase for literary translation research with a focus on African perspectives highlighting theoretical and methodological developments in the discipline while shedding further light on the literary landscape in Africa The book offers a framework for understanding key approaches and topics in literary translation situated in the African context covering foundational concepts as well as new directions within the field The first half of the volume focuses on the translation product exploring such topics as translation strategies literary genres and self translation while the second half examines process and reception allowing for an in depth look at agency habitus and ethics Each chapter is structured to allow for the introduction of a given theoretical aspect of literary translation followed by a summary of a completed research project with an African focus showing theory in practice offering a model for readers to build their own literary translation research projects while also underscoring the range of perspectives and unique challenges to literary translation work in Africa This unique volume is a key resource for students and scholars in translation studies giving visibility to African perspectives on literary translation while pointing the way forward for future research directions Lives of Victorian Literary Figures, Part VII, Volume 2 Ralph Pite,Keith Carabine,Tom Hubbard,Lindy Stiebel,2024-05-17 This book looks at Rider Haggard from a different standpoint his own It carries a selection of critical appraisals of Haggard s work by his contemporaries up until the early 1950s Reclaiming the Human Sciences and Humanities Through African Perspectives Helen Lauer,Kofi Anyidoho,2012 This compilation was inspired by an international symposium held on the Legon campus in September 2003 Hosted by the CODESRIA African Humanities Institute Programme the symposium had the theme Canonical Works and Continuing Innovation in African Arts Humanities Navigating African Biblical Hermeneutics Madipoane Masenya Ngwan'a Mphahlele, Kenneth N. Ngwa, 2019-01-15 This collection interrogates and engages the biblical text colonial and postcolonial subjectivities and cultural assumptions as well as lived experiences that encompass varying Africana contexts and Diasporas In order to do this it deploys methodologies exegetical analyses and critical and constructive communal epistemologies Framed by historical literary cultural and theological engagements of issues around wealth and power gender sexualities and masculinities HIV and AIDS as well as the crises of war and mass violence the book will be very useful for students academics clergy and laity committed to Africana conscious epistemologies and methodologies and the impact on biblical studies The Critical Imagination in African Literature Maik Nwosu, Obiwu, 2015-06-09 In African studies the Echeruoan ideal is understood as an intervention or intellectual engagement characterized by a broadness of vision as well as a depth of analysis The essays gathered in this volume celebrate that ideal and honor Echeruo s contribution to the African intellectual tradition Editors Nwosu and Obiwu explore the driving forces in the literature of Africa and the African diaspora Contributors examine such themes as migration and exile trauma and repression violence and rebellion and gender and human rights Showcasing a rich diversity of cultural and academic backgrounds this volume inaugurates a new paradigm for further examination of African literature as world literature and for analysis of African literature through the lens of psychoanalytic semiotics While varied in modes of inquiry the essays are unified in their ambition to explore new theoretical directions reinvigorating the conversation around how African literature is read and studied African Literature, Animism and Politics Caroline Rooney, 2004-01-14 This book marks an important contribution to colonial and postcolonial studies in its clarification of the African discourse of consciousness and its far reaching analyses of a literature of animism It will be of great interest to scholars in many fields including literary and critical theory philosophy anthropology politics and psychoanalysis media representation nationalism The Routledge Companion to Migration Literature Gigi Adair, Rebecca Fasselt, Carly McLaughlin, 2024-07-30 The Routledge Companion to Migration Literature offers a comprehensive survey of an increasingly important field. It demonstrates the influence of the age of migration on literature and showcases the role of literature in shaping socio-political debates and creating knowledge about the migratory trajectories, lives and experiences that have shaped the post-1989 world. The contributors examine a broad range of literary texts and critical approaches that cover the spectrum between voluntary and forced migration. In doing so, they reflect the shift in recent years from the author-centric study of migrant writing to a more inclusive conception of migration literature. The book contains sections on key terms and critical approaches in the field, important genres of migration literature, a range of forms and trajectories of migration with a particular focus on the global South and on migration literature's relevance in social contexts outside the academy. Its range of scholarly voices on literature from different geographical contexts and in different languages is central to its call for and contribution to a pluriversal turn in literary migration studies in future scholarship. This Companion will be of particular interest to scholars working on contemporary migration literature and it also offers an introduction to new students and scholars from other fields. Chapter 15 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives (CC BY-NC-ND) 4.0 license.

Coloniality of Diasporas Yolanda Martínez-San Miguel, 2014-07-24 Focusing on piracy in the seventeenth century, filibustering in the nineteenth century, intracolonial migrations in the 1930s, metropolitan racializations in the 1950s and 1960s, and feminist redefinitions of creolization and exile from the 1940s to the 1990s, this book redefines the Caribbean beyond the postcolonial debate. African Pasts Tim Woods, 2018-09-30 African Pasts examines African literatures in English since the end of colonialism, investigating how they represent African history through the twin matrices of memory and trauma. Inextricably tied up with the historical conditions of Africa's colonisation, charting the emergence of its independence and scrutinising Africa's contemporary neo-colonial and postcolonial states as a legacy of the colonial past, African literatures are continually preoccupied with exploring modes of representation to work through their different traumatic colonial pasts. Among other issues, this book deals with literature in the era of apartheid, the post-apartheid aftermath, metafictional experiments in African fiction, gender representation in reaction to the trauma of colonialism and imprisonment narratives. African Pasts covers a wide range of African literatures and a cross-section of genres: fiction, poetry, prison narratives, postcolonial theory, and embraces such well-known writers as Soyinka, Coetzee, Ngugi, and Achebe, and more recent writers such as Nuruddin Farah, Tsitsi Dangaremba, Achmat Dangor, Etienne van Heerden, Zakes Mda, Gillian Slovo, and Calixthe Beyala. Beyond Gold and Diamonds Melissa Free, 2021-03-01 Beyond Gold and Diamonds demonstrates the importance of southern Africa to British literature from the 1880s to the 1920s, from the rise of the systematic exploitation of the region's mineral wealth to the aftermath of World War I It focuses on fiction by the colonial born Olive Schreiner southern Africa s first literary celebrity as well as by H Rider Haggard Gertrude Page and John Buchan its most influential authorial informants British authors who spent significant time in the region and wrote about it as insiders Tracing the ways in which generic innovation enabled these writers to negotiate cultural and political concerns through a uniquely British South African lens Melissa Free argues that British South African literature constitutes a distinct field one that overlaps with but also exists apart from both a national South African literary tradition and a tradition of South African literature in English The various genres that British South African novelists introduced the New Woman novel the female colonial romance the Rhodesian settler romance and the modern spy thriller anticipated metropolitan literary developments while consolidating Britain s sense of its own dominion in a time of increasing opposition
