

The older longer living beings,
And younger the newer trees
That live the well-laid path which leads To Lichenguan from the

And leaves at last the open hill,
Then sunset wind-blown heights
Where deer stand shy and shy-loud
Then candle flame living light.

Where grief is less, and looking
Is distinct nothing else
Where another chooses another
Where the lands are shared

To serve, and served especially -
All the call came from afar
Back to the country kept in her heart:
The Sea, and Lichenguan.

Outward Ed Pavlic, 2021-06-01 The first scholarly study of Adrienne Rich's full career examines the poet through her developing approach to the transformative potential of relationships Adrienne Rich is best known as a feminist poet and activist This iconic status owes especially to her work during the 1970s while the distinctive political and social visions she achieved during the second half of her career remain inadequately understood In Outward poet scholar and novelist Ed Pavli considers Rich's entire oeuvre to argue that her most profound contribution in poems is her emphasis on not only what goes on within us but also what goes on between us Guided by this insight Pavli shows how Rich's most radical work depicts our lives from the public to the intimate in shared space rather than in owned privacy Informed by Pavli's friendship and correspondence with Rich Outward explores how her poems position visionary possibilities to contend with cruelty and violence in our world Employing an innovative framework Pavli examines five kinds of solitude reflected in Rich's poems relational solitude social solitude fugitive solitude dissident solitude and radical solitude He traces the importance of relationships to her early writing before turning to Rich's explicitly antiracist and anticapitalist work in the 1980s which culminates with her most extensive sequence An Atlas of the Difficult World Pavli concludes by examining the poet's twenty-first century work and its depiction of relationships that defy historical divisions based on region race class gender and sexuality A deftly written engagement in which one poet works within the poems of another Outward reveals the development of a major feminist thinker in successive phases as Rich furthers her intimate and erotic social and political reach Pavli illuminates Rich's belief that social divisions and the power of capital inform but must never fully script our identities or our relationships to each other Poets for Young Adults Mary Loving Blanchard, Cara Falcetti, 2006-12-30
