Recrafting a Life Charles Johnson, Denise Webster, 2013-05-13 Chronic illness and pain are now more than ever seen as major problems in the current health care system. Because they are unresponsive to both antibiotics and surgery, they are seen as elusive and mysterious. The National Medical Expenditure Survey estimates that over 80 million U.S. citizens live with a chronic illness. The most prevalent are arthritis, diabetes, respiratory diseases, hypertension, and mental illness. This book uses the novel Robinson Crusoe as an archetypal metaphor for the patients who must learn to survive on their own isolated island of chronic pain. This unique style is combined with a variety of in session approaches and other tools which clients have found helpful in identifying their goals and progress. By emphasizing the importance of self care, the authors hope to diminish the sense of helplessness felt by the both the patients and their loved ones.

Wickramasekera, 2013-06-29 This book is an effort to integrate some clinical observations theoretical concepts and promising clinical procedures that relate psychological variables to physiological variables My primary emphasis is on what psychological and behavioral concepts and procedures are most likely to enable us to influence physiological functions The book covers questions that have fascinated me and with which I have struggled in daily clinical practice What types of people are most at risk for physical disorders or dysfunctions Why do some people present psychosocial conflicts somatically and others behaviorally What is the placebo effect and how does it work How do you arrange the conditions to alter maladaptive belief systems that contribute to psychopathology and pathophysiology Do beliefs have biological consequences When I was in private clinical practice and even today in my medical school clinical practice situation I set aside one day each week to puzzle over the theoretical questions that my clinical experience generates Often isolating these underlying theoretical questions provides guidance into the most relevant empirical literature I have found that this weekly ritual which I started in private practice many years ago appears to increase my clinical efficacy or at least makes clinical work more exciting I find the unexamined clinical practice hard to endure Kurt Lewin once said There is nothing so practical as a good theory The Practice of
